PART I.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

Personnel.

MR. A. P. HOWELL, B.C.S., held charge of the office of Resident at Hyderabad until the 6th August 1889, on which date he was relieved by Mr. D. Fitzpatrick, C.S.I., B.C.S. (now Sir Dennis Fitzpatrick, K.C.S.I.), who remained in charge for the rest of the year. The office of First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar was held by Mr. G. S. Forbes, M.C.S., from the 1st to the 21st April 1889; by Mr. F. L. Petre, B.C.S., from the 22nd April to the 22nd October 1889; by Mr. J. A. Crawford, Bo.C.S., from the 23rd October 1889 to the close of the year. Major A. M. Muir, B.S.C., held the office of Second Assistant Resident and Assistant Secretary for Berar throughout the year. The appointment of Commissioner of Berar was held by Mr. T. Chichele Plowden, B.C.S., throughout the year, with the exception of three months from the 6th August to the 5th November 1889, when he proceeded on privilege leave. During his absence Colonel Szczepanski, B.S.C., officiated for him. Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, M.S.C., held the appointment of Judicial Commissioner of Berar throughout the year, except during his absence on privilege leave for one month from the 20th November to the 19th December 1889, when Colonel Szczepanski officiated for him.

Survey.

2. A small area of 8 square miles in the Melghat which had been omitted in the previous year was surveyed by the Forest Survey party during the year under report. The work was executed partly on the 4″ and partly on the 2″ scales. The publication of the map sheets of the Melghat survey, which was delayed pending the settlement of the western boundary of that tract, will now be proceeded with. An expenditure of Rs. 5,206 incurred in 1888-89 was adjusted in the Berar suspense accounts of that year. A further sum of Rs. 4,679 was expended after the close of the year on account of publication of maps. As regards the Revenue Survey, with the exception of one village in the Basim District, which was classed, the work done was solely in the Wun District. The lands of 4 khalsa, 5 jaghir, and 75 izara villages were surveyed and assessed; in 15 other izara villages the lands were broken up into survey numbers, and only their classification remained to be done. At the close of the year there were 244 izara villages with an area of 270,782 acres to be surveyed in this district. The outturn of work for the year as compared with that of the preceding year was as follows:—

	1888-89.	1889-90.
No. of fields measured	... 2,488½ or 81,770 acres.	3,117 or 107,751 acres and 38 guntas.
No. of fields classed	... 2,057 or 51,420 acres.	3,116 or 77,523 acres and 11 guntas.

Of the total area measured, 325 fields (10 per cent.), aggregating 8,151 acres 14 guntas, and of the land classed, 295 fields (8 per cent.), aggregating 7,754 acres 16 guntas, were tested. The total expenditure was Rs. 19,164-9-4. Deducting fines, the total net cost was Rs. 19,122-13-8 against Rs. 19,194-7-2 in the previous year.

Waste lands.

3. The number of leased villages fell from 507 to 493, and the total acreage from 914,545 to 895,761. The rental rose from Rs. 88,122 to Rs. 89,209.

Course of legislation.

4. Six Acts of the Imperial Legislature were made applicable to the province in addition to three other Acts—the Hyderabad Assigned Districts Births, Deaths, and Marriages Registration Law, the Hyderabad Assigned Districts Courts Law, and the Hyderabad Assigned Districts Small Cause Courts Law, which were specially passed by the Governor-General in Council. Besides these the Resident framed rules under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, and the Bombay Boiler Inspection Act, 1887.

Police.

5. The total strength of the police force employed in the province was 2,810 against 2,787 in the previous year. The increase is due to the entertainment of additional men in the Amraoti district and a further reduction of camel sowars and the strengthening of the foot police. The total number of deaths in the force recorded rose from 44 to 50, and the death-rate from 1·5 to 1·7.

Crime.

6. The total number of cases of cognizable crime was 8,652 against 8,601 in the previous year. Of this number, 104 were rejected as false. Except under the head of robberies, there has been a general decrease in serious crime. Murders fell from 33 to 30, dakaitis from 19 to 10, house-breakings from 1,194 to 900, and thefts from 2,819 to 2,347. Robberies alone rose from 36 to 41. One of the dakaitis was committed in the Melghat by the remnants of Tantia Bhil's gang, who made off into the Central Provinces, whence their incursion had been made. The value of property reported as stolen rose from Rs. 2,10,638 to Rs. 2,18,656; but the value recovered fell from Rs. 64,847 to Rs. 54,419. Of the cases of cognizable crime, 5,259, or 60·7 per cent., ended in conviction compared with 4,843, or 56·3 per cent., in the previous year. The number of non-cognizable offences was 6,529 against 7,598 in 1888. The number of persons against whom process issued fell from 14,226 to 12,706, and the number of individuals convicted from 4,629 to 4,381.

Criminal Justice.

7. Including cases pending at the close of the previous year there were in all 12,862 criminal cases for disposal, of which 12,800 cases affecting 21,072 persons were disposed of, leaving 62 pending at the close of the year under report. The percentage of convictions was 47·5 against 46·7 in 1888. Serious offences against the person rose from 107 to 117, the increase being chiefly under the head of grievous hurt. Murders increased from 32 to 33, while dakaitis fell from 21 to 12, and thefts also decreased largely. On the whole there was a general decrease in crime. The number of persons appearing for trial before the Sessions Court fell from 67 in the previous year to 66 in the year under report. Of the 66 persons whose cases were disposed of, 4 were convicted and sentenced to death, 22 to transportation, 13 sentenced otherwise, and 27 were acquitted. Of 4 persons sentenced to be hanged, the sentence of one was commuted by the Judicial Commissioner as High Court to transportation for life. The average duration of trials before the Magistracy was 5·1 days, and of those before the Sessions Court 60 days against 55·2 in the preceding year. Including cases pending from the previous year there were in all 379 appeals for disposal by Deputy Commissioners, out of which 367 were decided during the year. The average duration of appeals was 9·8 days. In the Court of the Sessions Judge there were 291 appeals, of which 259 were disposed of. In the Resident's Court 24 appeals were preferred, all of which were decided.

Prisons.

8. The total jail population of the year was 2,820 against 2,968 in the previous year, and the number of admissions 1,539 against 2,071. The number of previously convicted prisoners fell from 262 to 205. Of 4 prisoners who escaped during the year, 3 were recaptured, besides 1 who had escaped in a former year. Punishments for breaches of jail rules rose from 315 in 1888 to 328 in the year under report. The mark system continued to work well. A new form of employment in the shape of brick-making was introduced in the Basim jail and proved remunerative. The total cash earnings of prisoners sentenced to labour fell from Rs. 14,721 to Rs. 9,160, the average earnings per head sentenced to labour from Rs. 15-5-0 to Rs. 8-15-0, and the average earnings per head employed on manufactures from Rs. 34-4-0 to Rs. 20-10-0. Although the general health of the convicts was somewhat better than in the previous year, the ratio per mille of deaths rose by 7·7. The gross cost of maintaining and guarding prisoners rose from Rs. 65,510 to Rs. 66,284, but the total average cost per head fell from Rs. 64-7-0 to Rs. 61-10-0.

Civil Justice

9. The number of civil courts open during the year was 34 against 36 in the previous year, and the number of suits instituted was 25,776 compared with 26,974 in 1888. The aggregate number of suits disposed of fell from 27,767 to 24,686 The average duration of contested cases was 57·8 days and of uncontested cases 34·2 days, against 59·2 and 31·7 respectively in the previous year. The aggregate value of the claims involved in the suits fell from Rs.

29,82,648-6-9 to Rs. 26,40,090-11-10. There were 28,646 applications for execution of decrees against 31,429 in 1888. The total value of the money decrees in execution fell from Rs. 2,98,879 to Rs. 2,61,602. Of this sum, Rs. 14,507 were paid in voluntarily and Rs 2,47,094 realized by coercive process. Including appeals pending from the previous year there were 664 appeals for disposal by chief appellate courts of districts. Of these 516 were disposed of. In the Civil and Sessions Court there were 480 appeals for disposal, of which 278 were disposed of, while the Judicial Commissioner's Court disposed of 285 appeals out of a total of 1,192 received during the year and pending from the previous year. Including 5 cases pending from 1888 there were 18 appeals before the Resident; of these, 10 were disposed of during the year.

Registration.

10. The total number of registrations rose from 28,151 in 1888-89 to 31,766 in the year under report, an increase of 3,615 over the number of the previous year. The figure is the highest recorded. The increase occurred principally in compulsory registrations, which were 3,555 more than in the previous year. Optional registrations increased by 32. The aggregate value of property transferred rose from Rs. 66,06,300 to Rs. 77,05,062, and the average value of each document from Rs. 235 to Rs. 243. The total income of the department rose from Rs. 61,853 to Rs. 70,866, the expenditure from Rs. 38,628 to Rs. 39,824, and the net surplus from Rs. 29,723 to Rs. 37,637. The total accumulated surplus at the close of the year amounted to Rs. 2,79,769 against Rs. 2,48,727 at the close of 1888-89. With the exception of one sub-registrar's office, all worked at a profit.

Municipalities.

11. The Berar Municipal Law of 1886 came into operation during the year, and the system of election is now established in all municipalities except that of Amraoti camp. The number of municipalities rose from 7 to 8 in consequence of the incorporation of the civil station of Amraoti camp. The total income of the year rose from Rs. 1,55,905 to Rs. 2,05,698, and the total expenditure from Rs. 1,59,991 to Rs. 1,64,851.

Local Boards.

12. The Berar Rural Boards Law came into force nominally on the 1st January 1886; but as, owing to difficulties connected with the rules, the Boards themselves were not established until the year 1889-90 was well advanced, very little work was done, except perahaps in Akola. The provisions of the law have not been applied to the Wun district and the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district owing to the backward state of those tracts.

Agriculture.

13. Owing to a further rectification of errors in village papers and to corrections made by the Survey and Settlement Officer, the total area of the province increased by 1,596 acres. The total area under crop rose by 7,858 acres. The only changes of importance occurred in the Wun and Basim districts, in the former of which the area was reduced by 8,130 acres, a result due to reclassification, while in the latter district corrections made by the Survey and Settlement Officer resulted in an increase of 15,671 acres. The area under rabi and miscellaneous crops fell off by 214,908 and 4,240 acres respectively; but this decrease was made up by an increase of 359,671 acres under kharif. The percentage of acreage under wheat and linseed show a decrease of 2·1 and 1·1 per cent. respectively as compared with the previous year, but that under cotton and jowari, the two most valuable staple crops of Berar, rose by 4 and ·7 per cent. respectively. Owing to the preference given by agriculturists to the cultivation of dry crops, the area under irrigation shows a further decrease of over 2,000 acres.

Rainfall.

14. The average rainfall of the year was 38·13 inches, being nearly 8 inches more than the rainfall of the previous year. The fall during the monsoon was on the whole seasonable and evenly distributed; but the ordinary winter rain failed completely. The spring crops suffered from the unusual dryness caused by the failure of the winter rain; on the whole the rainfall of the year benefited the autumn crops. The rain in July and August was particularly favourable to cotton.

15. The average prices of wheat and grain were slightly higher than in the previous year, but the price of jowari, the staple food of the people, was lower in every district except Basim. The price of rice was nearly the same as in the previous year. Except in two districts, wages of labour remained stationary.

Veterinary.

16. There was an outbreak of (rinderpest) cattle-plague during the year, and 18,391 deaths from this cause were recorded, but this figure is believed to be only a tithe of the actual losses owing to the repugnance the natives have to repressive measures. Of the Berar students studying at the Bombay Veterinary College, one passed during the year and two after its close. All three are therefore available for duty.

Agricultural stock.

17. The agricultural stock of the province shows an increase under all heads. That under cattle is ascribed to natural reproduction; but the returns are believed to be unreliable, and the figures can only be taken as approximate.

Takavi.

18. Advances under the Land Improvement Act were made in four districts only. The total amount advanced fell from Rs. 8,300 to Rs. 6,550.

Forests.

19. The area of forest lands in Berar show a net decrease of 163 square miles. The boundaries of the new State-forests of Medsi and Chandus were demarcated during the year, and the existing boundaries of demarcated State-forests in all districts were kept in order. Breaches of forest rules fell from 496 to 381. Protection from fire was most satisfactory. The areas attempted and successfully protected were greater than in any previous year, while the area over which protection failed was less. The approximate cost per square mile of area attempted rose from Rs. 6-9-0 to Rs. 7. The gross revenue rose from Rs. 4,08,192 to Rs. 4,40,541, the expenditure from Rs. 1,69,295 to Rs. 1,76,150, and the surplus from Rs. 2,38,897 to Rs. 2,64,391.

20. The work of registration of the rail-borne trade was as usual preformed by the Railway Audit Office at Bombay. The total trade of the province, taking imports and exports together, exceeded that of the previous year both in weight and value. The import traffic increased both in weight and value, while the export traffic increased in value, but decreased in weight. The total values of the imports and exports for the past two years are contrasted below:—

	1888-89.	1889-90.	Increase or decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Imports ...	1,57,69,832	1,93,80,166	36,10,334
Exports ...	4,06,70,097	4,26,36,963	19,66,866

The imports in coal, grains, metals, oils and sugar all show an increase. The most remarkable feature in the export trade is the increase in the export of raw cotton. These exceeded the exports of the previous year, which were then the highest recorded and were double those of 1887-88. The export trade in grains fell off considerably, and exports of oils also show a decrease of 17·79 per cent. in weight and 3·35 per cent. in value.

Public works.

21. The disbursements from all sources on public works amounted in the aggregate to Rs. 19,64,887. As regards imperial works, grants of Rs. 2,95,400 and Rs. 38,700 were made for military and civil works respectively; and Rs. 2,88,222 and Rs. 35,326 were expended. From the Berar Provincial Public Works Budget there was a grant of Rs. 11,13,300, of which Rs. 10,92,428 were expended, showing a lapse of Rs. 20,872, or 1·88 of the budget grant. The grants from the one per cent. road cess and from incorporated and excluded local funds amounted to Rs. 82,000, Rs. 79,342, and Rs. 2,67,316 respectively. Of the first sum, Rs. 73,412 were expended mostly on repairs to roads; of the second, Rs. 45,137 were spent chiefly on educational works; and of the last Rs. 2,16,239 were utilized, of which more than half represents outlay on original works. Military works were carried out from provincial funds in connection with accommodation for the Hyderabad Contingent troops located at Bolarum, Ellichpur, Raichur, Aurangabad, Hingoli, and Jalna, the expenditure thereon during the year amounting to Rs. 28,213. Satisfactory progress at an outlay of Rs. 1,01,747 was made in connection with administrative, jail, police, educational and other miscellaneous buildings in Berar. Nearly two-and-a-half lakhs of rupees were expended on constructing and improving roads, and the last bridge required on the Amraoti-Ellichpur road, viz., the one at Boogaon, was completed during the year. Several works relating to the water-supply of towns, &c., were completed, and others were in progress, the total outlay on original works, miscellaneous public improvements, being Rs. 81,047.

Railways.

22. The following statistics belong to the Berar State Railways. The working expenses of the Khamgaon line were Rs. 42,844 against gross receipts of Rs. 65,372, yielding a net profit of Rs. 22,528 equivalent to 4·59 per cent. on the capital outlay. The Amraoti line gross receipts were Rs. 1,02,023, and the working expenses were Rs. 60,352, showing a net revenue of Rs. 41,671 equivalent to 9·35 per cent. on the capital outlay. Subjoined is a table showing results of working these lines up to date from period of construction :—

	Capital outlay.	Simple interest on capital account.	Net revenue realized.	Loss or gain.

Revenue and Finance.

23. The gross revenue of the province during the year 1889-90 amounted to Rs. 1,18,35,314, and the total disbursement to Rs. 1,02,51,177. Omitting the receipts and disbursements of the incorporated and the excluded local funds, the provincial surplus was Rs. 14,64,728 compared with a surplus of Rs. 14,24,939 for the year 1888-89. The amount paid to His Highness the Nizam during the year 1889-90 was Rs. 14,24,939, being the surplus of the year 1888-89, and the accrued surplus in favor of His Highness on the 31st March 1890 was Rs. 41,17,834. Of the gross income, Rs. 1,02,28,626 were derived from provincial revenues, Rs. 6,32,944 from incorporated and Rs. 9,73,744 from excluded local funds. Rs. 87,63,898 of the provincial revenues, Rs. 8,54,335 of the excluded local funds, and the whole of the incorporated local funds revenue were utilized. The provincial contract shows a saving of Rs. 3,44,963. The accrued balance in favor of the Resident at the close of 1889-90, inclusive of Rs. 5,00,000 allowed for any extraordinary emergency in accordance with paragraph 4 of the Government of India Financial Department Resolution No. 5957, dated 5th November 1887, was Rs. 10,11,388. The principal sources of income other than land revenue exhibiting an increase which call for any special remark were opium, stamps, excise, forest, registration and law and justice, courts of law and state railways. On the other hand the figures under police, stationery, miscellaneous, and contributions from local to provincial show reduced receipts. There is also a falling-off in the military receipts chiefly occurring under ordnance establishments. The total receipts show a net increase of Rs. 1,80,733 chiefly under civil and railways, while the total disbursements show a net increase of Rs. 1,40,945 chiefly under state railways, civil works, and military Hyderabad Contingent.

Vital statistics.

24. The year was a very unhealthy one compared with its predecessor, and returned a high rate of mortality. Cholera, malarious fevers, dysentery, and diarrhœa were more prevalent than in the previous two years. The number of deaths recorded rose from 64,865 to 111,556, and the death-rate in proportion to population from 24·7 to 42·5 per 1,000. The number of births registered fell from 108,390 to 103,780, being a decrease of 4,610. The rate to population was 39·6 per mille. Of the births registered, 53,463 were males and 50,317 females. In districts the highest birth-rate was recorded in Buldana, and the lowest in Akola.

Medical relief.

25. The number of civil hospitals and dispensaries open in the province rose from 43 to 44, and the total number of patients treated from 256,799 to 273,212. This was the natural outcome of the unhealthiness of the year. Malarious fever was as usual the principal cause of admissions. The number of major surgical operations rose from 218 to 230. The gross receipts rose from Rs. 1,06,684 to Rs. 106,902, and the expenditure, excluding investments, from Rs. 96,191 to Rs. 1,00,845.

Sanitation.

26. With the exception of Khamgaon, all the municipalities are hard pressed for funds; and no important sanitary works were undertaken or completed during the year under report. Attention was, however, paid more or less in all the municipalities to the improvement of drainage, water-supply, and conservancy. Out of a total municipal income of Rs. 2,01,712 a sum of Rs. 91,529, or 45·3 per cent., was expended on sanitary purposes and 22·2 per cent. on conservancy alone. In districts outside municipalities the total expenditure incurred on works of sanitary improvement was Rs. 1,02,213 against Rs. 1,05,476 in the previous year.

Vaccination.

27. As regards vaccination, owing to the unhealthiness of the year, which caused much sickness among the vaccinators and a high mortality amongst infants, the results were not so good as in the previous year. The total number of primary operations fell from 101,225 to 96,745 and the ratio of success from 96·4 to 95·76. The number of re-vaccinations however rose from 4,377 to 6,927. Out of a total number of 92,651 successful primary operations 85,209 were performed by the special establishment and 7,442 at dispensaries. The total expenditure incurred exclusive of the Melghat fell from Rs. 16,811-15-6 to Rupees 16,695-8-9, but the average cost of each successful operation rose from Annas 2-11 to Annas 3-1.

Education.

28. The working of the Educational Department during the year under report shows somewhat better results than in the previous year. There was an increase of 49 in the number of schools for boys and of 3 in the schools for girls, while the total number of scholars increased by 1,305. The proportion of male pupils to male population of school-going age rose from 21·3 to 21·7. The results of the Matriculation examination were on the whole satisfactory; out of 31 students who appeared for examination 17 passed. The number of primary schools for boys increased by 5, and the number of scholars by 686. The training college continued to do good work. Female education made progress during the year: the number of schools increased by 3, the number of pupils by 73, and the number of those who passed in all standards by 74. A perceptible advance was also made in the education of Muhammadans, aborigines, and low caste boys. Improvement is also noticeable in physical education. The number of gymnasia open during the year increased by 19, and the number visited by the instructor by 39. The income from popular contributions fell off by nearly Rs. 4,000, but this was partially made up by an increase of Rs. 840 in the fee receipts. Moreover the total expenditure on education decreased by Rs. 16,376. On the whole the progress made by the Educational Department may fairly be said to have been equable and satisfactory.

SECTION VII.

Changes in the Administration.

2. Mr. A. P. Howell, B.C.S., held charge of the office of Resident at Hyderabad until the 6th August 1889, on which date he was relieved by Mr. D. Fitzpatrick, C.S.I., B.C.S. (now Sir Dennis Fitzpatrick, K.C.S.I.,) who remained in charge for the rest of the year. The office of First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar was held by Mr. G. S. Forbes, M.C.S., from the 1st to the 21st April 1889; by Mr. F. L. Petre, B.C.S., from the 22nd April to the 22nd October 1889; by Mr. J. A. Crawford, Bo.C.S., from the 23rd October 1889 to the close of the year. Major A. M. Muir, B.S.C., held the office of Second Assistant Resident and Assistant Secretary for Berar throughout the year. The appointment of Commissioner of Berar was held by Mr. T. Chichele Plowden, B.C.S., throughout the year, with the exception of three months, from 6th August to 5th November 1889, when he proceeded on privilege leave. During his absence Colonel Szczepanski, B.S.C., officiated for him. Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, M.S.C., held the appointment of Judicial Commissioner of Berar throughout the year, except during his absence on privilege leave for one month from the 20th November to the 19th December 1889, when Colonel Szczepanski officiated for him.

Relations with Tributary States and Frontier Affairs.

CHAPTER II.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE LAND.

SECTION I.

Survey and Settlement.

Forest Survey.

4. In the Melghat a small area of 8 square miles, which had inadvertently been omitted the previous year, was surveyed partly on the 4″ and partly on the 2″ scales. The map sheets of the Melghat survey have in great part not been published, pending the settlement of the question of the western boundary of that tract. Orders were, however, passed in the matter shortly before the year closed, and there is now no reason for withholding the publication of the maps. An expenditure of Rs. 5,206 was incurred during the year 1888-89, and adjusted in the Berar suspense accounts in that year. The expenditure was chiefly on account of completing field work in the Melghat, map drawing and payments made to the Department of the Survey of India on account of printing and publishing maps, &c. A further sum of Rs. 4,679 has been expended since the close of the financial year, chiefly due to payments made to the Department of the Survey of India on account of publishing maps, &c., and to a vast amount of map drawing and heavy work in deducing field areas, as well as other miscellaneous work.

Survey and Settlement.

5. One village in the Basim district was classed in April 1889; but with that exception the entire establishment was employed solely in the Yeotmal and Kelapur taluks of the Wun district. The lands of 4 khalsa, 5 jagir and 75 izara villages were surveyed and assessed, and in 15 other izara villages the lands were broken up into survey numbers, but their classification had still to be done. There remained at the close of the year under report 244 izara villages to be surveyed in the district, viz. :—

				Acres.
Yeotmal taluk	2,	area to be measured	...	3,353
Wun „	117,	do.	...	108,946
Darwha „	45,	do.	...	40,547
Kelapur „	80,	do.	...	117,936
	244			270,782

that is to say, the area to be measured is about one and three-fifth times that already measured in izara villages in this district, the survey of which at the rate of working of the year under report would take about 2½ years to complete. But very little remains to be done in khalsa or jagir villages in the district. The outturn of work of the year under report and of the previous year is shown in the statement below—

i. Number and area of fields measured—

1888-89.		1889-90.
Fields.	Acres.	Fields.	A.	g.
2,488½	81,770	3,117	107,751	38

ii. Number and area of fields classed—

1888-89.		1889-90.
Fields.	Acres.	Fields.	A.	g.
2,057	51,420	3,116	77,523	11

The increase as compared with 1888-89 is 25,981 acres 38 guntahs measured and 26,103 acres 11 guntahs classed. It appears that in calculating the average work done by measurers, certain measurements taken by theodolite and by scale from the maps have hitherto been included. Deducting these, the average area measured in a day with cross-staff and chain was 50 acres 33 guntahs in 1888-89 and 58 acres 30 guntahs in the year under report. For classers the average daily outturn was 172 acres 19 guntahs during 1889-90, compared with 162 acres 20 guntahs in the preceding year. The inspection of boundary marks shows a falling off, viz., 11¼ fields as an average day's work, compared with 13½ fields in 1888-89. Of the total area measured, 325 fields (10 per cent.), aggregating 8,151 acres 14 guntahs, and of the land classed, 295 fields (8 per cent.), aggregating 7,754 acres 16 guntahs, were tested. The total expenditure was Rs. 19,164-9-4, but deducting Rs. 41-11-8 recovered by fines, the total net cost comes to Rs. 19,122-13-8 compared with Rs. 19,194-7-2 in 1888-89. The question of the re-organization of the Survey and Settlement Department with reference to the work remaining to be done in the Wun and Basim districts, and to the revision of the assessment for the whole province, and to the settlement of the Melghat, was discussed at a conference in Akola in January 1890, over which Sir Edward Buck presided, and eventually proposals were formulated and submitted for the orders of the Government of India.

SECTION II.

Waste Lands.

6. The number of villages leased under the waste land rules fell from 507 to 493, and the total acreage from 914,545 to 895,761; but the rental rose from Rs. 88,122 to Rs. 89,209. The decrease in the number of leased villages was due to the resumption of 14 villages in the Wun district.

SECTIONS III and IV.

Wards and Government Estates.

7. There are no wards or Government estates in the province.

CHAPTER III.

PROTECTION.

SECTION I.

Course of Legislation.

8. The following Acts of the Imperial Legislature were, subject to certain modifications, made applicable to the province during the year under report:—

Act IX of 1875 (The Indian Majority Act).
Act VII of 1887 (The Suits Valuation Act).
Act X of 1888—so much as amends the Code of Civil Procedure.
Act I of 1888 (to amend the Indian Stamp Act, 1879).
Act X of 1882—(Code of Criminal Procedure as modified by Acts III of 1884, X of 1886, and V of 1887) so far as the same may be applicable.
Act X of 1886 (amending the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, and certain other Acts).

The following special laws were also passed by the Governor-General in Council for the Hyderabad Assigned Districts:—

I. The Hyderabad Assigned Districts Births, Deaths, and Marriages Registration Law, 1888.
II. The Hyderabad Assigned Districts Courts Law, 1889.
III. The Hyderabad Assigned Districts Small Cause Courts Law, 1889.

The following rules were made by the Resident:—

1. Rules under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884.
2. Rules under the Bombay Boiler Inspection Act, 1887.

SECTION II.

Police.

Strength.

9. During the year the changes which occurred in the strength of the force were:—An addition of one head constable and eight constables to the police of the Amraoti district; a further reduction of camel sowars, by means of which nine more constables were added to the strength of the force; the reductions effected in some of the tahsil treasury guards which enabled the reserves to be increased by nine head constables and twelve constables; and the sanction of a temporary establishment of three constables at Bhoogaon in the Ellichpur district where the river is being bridged. These last were notenlisted, as recruits were not available. With these exceptions, no alterations were made in the strength of the force, which stood at 542 officers (including the Inspector-General and the six District Superintendents and two Assistants) and 2,268 men. The proportion of police to area was 1 to every 6·2 square miles, and to population 1 to every 950 persons.

Composition and health of the force.

10. The total number of deaths recorded was 50 against 44 in the previous year, and the death-rate rose from 1·5 to 1·7. Omitting vacancies, of which there were 54 at the close of the year, the details of the force according to race or caste and religion were as follow:—

	Officers.	Men.
Christians	20	9
Muhammadans	195	923
Brahmins	157	378
Rajputs	35	169
Sikhs	9	9
Hindus of all other castes	125	726

	2,755

Conduct and discipline.

11 The conduct and discipline of the force during the year are shown by the following figures of rewards and punishments:—

12. The total number of men who left the force from all causes was 344 against 337 in the previous year; of these 56 retired on pension or gratuity, 157 resigned, 55 were dismissed, 20 discharged, 6 deserted and 50 died. As regards service, there were, exclusive of 351 recruits, 1,294 men with service ranging from one to ten years and 1,102 with service of ten years and upwards.

Equipment.

13. A proposal was made during the year for the re-armament of the force with snider rifles in lieu of the existing muzzle-loaders, which were old and worn out. The proposal was not accepted by the Government of India, who considered it would be sufficient, at all events for some time to come, if the portion of the police supplied with fire-arms at out-stations were armed with the best of the muzzle-loading weapons in use, and if the reserves maintained to quell disturbances and ready for extraordinary emergencies, were supplied with a breech-loading smooth-bore carbine to fire ball or buck-shot cartridges. The question was under consideration when the year closed. Excluding gazetted officers the number of men provided with fire-arms was 1,359; with swords only or swords and batons, 446; and with batons only, 996.

State of crime.

14. The total number of cases of cognizable crime reported during the year was 8,652, of which 104 were rejected as false, leaving a total of 8,548 cases investigated including 3,687 petty nuisance cases. The following table classifies the offences of the year under report and that preceding it:—

Heinous crime.

15. Murders decreased from 33 to 30; but as two cases were subsequently struck off, and one case of double murder should have been registered as two cases, the actual number of cases recorded should be 29 Dakaities fell from 19 to 10 or by 47·3 per cent. The principal case of dakaiti was one committed in the Melghat by the remnants of Tantia Bhil's gang, headed by one Bondria, in which over Rs. 3,000 worth of property was carried off. The dakaits made off into the Central Provinces, whence their incursion to the Melghat was made. Robberies rose from 36 to 41. House-breakings decreased from 1,194 to 900, and thefts from 2,819 to 2,347.

Thefts.

16. Classified according to the value of property stolen, the figures under theft show a decrease under all values except Rs. 1,000 and over. The figures are compared below :—

Criminal Justice.

21. The Hyderabad Assigned Districts Courts Law came into operation from the 1st of July 1889, and caused material change in the system of criminal jurisdiction in Berar. The court of the Judicial Commissioner became the High Court of the Province, and a new Sessions Court was constituted. In addition to these, the courts which exercised jurisdiction in Berar were— Tribunals.

22. The table below shows the number of offences reported during the year under report as compared with those of the preceding year and how they were disposed of:— Amount of crime.

The number of offences reported fell by 528 or 3·2 per cent. during the year under review, the decrease being for the most part in offences against property.

There was a decrease in the number of offences struck off the register.

The number of cases dismissed under section 203, Criminal Procedure Code, increased by 3 per cent. The large number of acquittals is believed to have been due to magistrates not exercising sufficient discretion in admitting complaints. The number of cases brought to trial fell from 68·3 in 1888-89 to 65·6 in the year under report.

The following statement compares the offences in each class for the year under report with the figures of the previous year:—

Offences under the head "Contempts of the lawful authority of servants" increased largely. Of the 4,094 offences affecting the human body, 33 were murders as against 32 in 1888. Offences under "Special and Local Laws" fell from 4,785 to 4,618.

Of the 14,561 offences returned as true, 12,526 were brought to trial. The number of persons before the courts during the year 1889 was 21,072 against 22,965 in 1888. Of these 10,434 or 49·8 per cent. were acquitted or discharged, 9,953 or 47·5 per cent. were convicted, 402 or 1·9 per cent. died, escaped or were transferred, and 155 or 0·8 per cent. were committed or referred.

24. During the year 64 cases were disposed of by District Magistrates in exercise of their enhanced powers. Of the 134 persons tried, 55 or 41 per cent. were convicted, and 79 or 59 per cent. either acquitted or discharged. The average duration of cases decided by the several classes of magistrates (including cases under section 30, Criminal Procedure Code) was 5·11 days against 5·1 and 5·6 in 1888 and 1887 respectively.

25. The number of summary trials rose from 453 in 1888 to 623 in the year under report. Summary trials.

26. No trials of European British subjects took place during the year. Trials of European British subjects.

The following statement shows the total number of punishments inflicted by the various classes of Courts:—

38. The number of prisoners who escaped during the year was 4. Of this number 3 were re-captured, besides one who had escaped in previous years. There were 9 prisoners remaining at large at the close of the year. One of the escapes was due to the fault of a warder who was punished with simple imprisonment for 6 months.

Manufactures.

44. The only new form of employment was brick-making in the Basim Jail which proved remunerative. Large quantities of broken stone were disposed of profitably in the Akola and Ellichpur Jails. Shoe-making has not so far proved a success on account of the prohibitive prices of the shoes manufactured. The net cash earnings compared with the previous two years fell off. This was due to the Amraoti and Akola Jails having had large balances of raw material on hand, and to the purchase of lithographic machinery for the latter institution. The following statement compares the figures for the past three years:—

SECTION V.

Civil Justice.

Changes in the system of courts.

48. The year 1889 is marked by the introduction of the scheme for reorganising the judicial agency under the Hyderabad Assigned Districts Courts

Law, which came into force on the 1st July 1889. The principal changes effected by this law may be summarised as follow :—

(a) The Judicial Commissioner, sitting almost the whole year at Amraoti, the head-quarters of the province, has taken the place of the Resident at Hyderabad as the High Court for Berar.

(b) The Courts of Deputy Commissioners are still under the law the "District Courts," or Principal Civil Courts of original jurisdiction in the districts. But the law also provides for the appointment of Civil Judges invested with the powers of Deputy Commissioners, and these appointments have now been so made as to largely relieve all Deputy Commissioners of ordinary civil judicial work, both original and appellate. One of the appointments represents an addition to the staff of the province, and the officer holding it is styled the Civil and Sessions Judge. He has been invested with the powers of the Court of a Deputy Commissioner throughout the province, and is subject to the control of, and subordinate to, the Court of the Judicial Commissioner only. The other Civil Judges are Assistant or (ocasionally) Extra Assistant Commissioners, and are subject to the control of, and subordinate to, the Courts of Deputy Commissioners. One such Civil Judge has been appointed in each district.

(c) Under the new law appeals in cases in which the value of the suit does not exceed Rs. 500 lie to the Court of the Deputy Commissioner or of the Civil Judge specially invested with his powers. Appeals in cases in which the value exceeds Rs. 500 lie direct to the Judicial Commissioner, who also hears second appeals from subordinate appellate courts.

SECTION VIII.

Local Boards.

67. This section is added in pursuance of the orders of the Government of India which require that an account should be given of the working of Local Boards similar to that given of "Municipal Administration." The Berar Rural Boards Law came into force nominally on the 1st January 1886, but the Boards themselves were not established till after the year 1889-90 was well advanced, and, except perhaps in Akola, very little work was done. The delay in starting the Boards was due to difficulties connected with the rules, which were not disposed of until the beginning of 1889. Owing to the backward state of the Wun district and of the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district, no attempt has yet been made to apply the provisions of the law to these tracts. Since the close of the year under report a good deal has been done. Meetings have been regularly held, and the members in some cases have begun to evince interest in their duties. But sufficient time has not elapsed to enable any definite conclusions to be formed, and all that can be said at present is that under sympathetic guidance there is hope of attaining a fair measure of success. The introduction of the scheme has, however, imposed considerable extra work upon the Commissioner and the District Officers; and it is to be hoped that the pressure will be diminished when the initial difficulties have been overcome.

SECTION IX.

Military.

68. During the cold season of 1889-90 the Regiments of Cavalry and Batteries of Artillery, Hyderabad Contingent, changed stations in course of relief.

Major R. A. Gilchrist, Military Secretary to Resident, vacated his office in March 1890 on the termination of the tenure of his appointment, and was succeeded by Major A. J. Garrett, B.S.C., Commandant, 1st Infantry, Hyderabad Contingent.

The average strength of the Hyderabad Contingent Force in Berar during the year was follows:—

	Artillery.	Cavalry.	Infantry.

CHAPTER IV.

PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION.

SECTION I.

Agriculture.

Area of the province.

69. The total area of the province was increased by 1,596 acres. This was due to the rectification of errors in the village papers in the Chikhli taluk of the Buldana District, and to corrections made by the Survey and Settlement Officer. The distribution of the total area, exclusive of the Melghat, is shown below and compared with the figures of the previous year:—

	1888-89.	1889-90.	Difference.
1. Number of villages	6,677	6,677	...
2. Total area in acres	10,282,395	10,283,991	+ 1,596
3. Area not included in any survey numbers such as village sites, tanks, rivers, &c.	200,990	201,055	+ 65
4. Area demarcated as State-forests	287,475	287,575	+ 100
5. Do. Babul buns	15,655	15,616	— 39
6. Do. Rumnahs	34,964	35,946	+ 982
7. Do. other district reserved forests.	187,491	187,441	— 50
8. Fields assigned for free-grazing	716,102	729,992	+ 13,890
9. Do. village purposes... ...	59,497	59,568	+ 71
10. Unculturable lands not included in any of the foregoing	763,425	742,144	— 21,281
11. Balance assessed and available for occupation ...	8,016,796	8,024,654	+ 7,858
12. Occupied	7,590,182	7,601,387	+ 11,205
13. Not occupied	426,614	423,267	— 3,347

A change of status occurred in respect to 15 villages. Fourteen leased villages were resumed for non-payment of revenue and on expiry of lease; ten of these were totally waste and were brought under the head of "integral waste" villages," while the remaining 4, together with 1 jagir village, were classed as khalsa.

Cultivated area.

70. The total area assessed and available for occupation rose from 8,016,796 to 8,024,654 acres, showing a net increase of 7,858 acres. The only changes of importance occurred in the Wun and Basim Districts. In the former the assessed land available for occupation was reduced by 8,130 acres—a result due to a scheme of re-classification introduced by the Deputy Commissioner. In the latter district corrections made by the Survey and Settlement Officer in breaking up block numbers resulted in an increase of 15,671 acres. The area under occupation aggregated 7,601,387 acres, and the area not occupied was 423,267 acres. There was a net increase of 11,205 acres in the acres—occupied lands, and a net diminution of 3,347 acres in that of unoccupied land. The total area under kharif rose from 4,751,183 to 5,110,854 acres while that under rabi fell from 1,693,495 to 1,478,587 acres. The area under miscellaneous crops fell from 24,826 to 20,586 acres.

71. The acreage under each of the principal kinds of crop for the past two years is shown in the following table :— Crops cultivated

	Acres.	Proportion.	Acres.	Proportion.
Jowari—great millet or Holcus sorghum	2,218,260	33·9	2,284,050	34·6

Cotton	1,994,767	30·9	2,304,378	34·9
Total ...	6,156,467	...	6,280,795	...

The proportion of land cultivated with jowari and cotton increased from 64·8 to 69·5. The increase is chiefly under cotton, of which the acreage has risen from 1,994,767 to 2,304,378 acres. The season was favourable, and no doubt also the abundant harvest of the preceding year and the remunerative character of the crop encouraged additional cultivation. The two principal rabi crops, wheat and linseed, fell from 14·6 and 4·8 to 12·5 and 3·7 respectively.

72. The total area under irrigation fell from 62,710 to 60,545 acres. The decrease was general except in the Buldana and Basim districts. The area under rice rose from 19,840 to 20,084 acres. The increase occurred only in the Amraoti and Basim districts. The steady decrease in the irrigated area is believed to be due to the preference given by the agriculturists to the cultivation of dry crops, which are more remunerative and less precarious. Irrigated area.

SECTION II.

Weather and Crops.

73. The average rain-fall of the year for the whole province was 38·13 inches against 30·20 inches in the previous year. It was below the average of the previous five years. The fall during the monsoon was on the whole seasonable and evenly distributed; but the ordinary winter rain failed completely. After a heavy fall late in October, there was practically no more rain during the remainder of the year. One characteristic of the year was that rain fell for the most part in moderate showers, there being but few heavy downpours. Rain-fall.

74. The spring crops suffered from the dryness caused by the failure of the winter rain, although up to the end of December the promise of the wheat crop was excellent. The rain in July and August was particularly favourable to cotton, which however suffered slightly from the October rain. On the whole the rain-fall of the year benefited the autumn crops. Effect of the rain-fall.

75. The average prices of wheat and gram were slightly higher than in the previous year; but jowari, which is the staple food of the people, was cheaper in every district except Basim. The price of rice was nearly the same as in the previous year. Wages of labour remained stationary in the districts of Amraoti, Ellichpur, Wun, and Basim. In Akola and Buldana the prices of skilled and unskilled labour increased. The rise in the Akola district was due to the large field of employment afforded by the cotton factories, and in Buldana the new water works created a special demand. Prices of produce and labour.

Agricultural stock.

76. The agricultural stock of the province is shown in the following table and compared with the figures of the previous year:—

	1888-89.	1889-90.
Cows and bullocks	1,694,134	1,741,946
Buffaloes	324,307	327,459
Sheep and goats	459,083	478,618
Carts	111,294	117,123
Ploughs	117,306	120,944

The increase under cattle is ascribed to natural reproduction; but the returns are believed to be unreliable.

Veterinary.

77. Of the Berar students studying at the Bombay Veterinary College, one passed the final examination and was employed in the province as a Veterinary Assistant. Two more who passed their examination after the close of the year are also available for duty. Three students are still unqualified. The comparative immunity from cattle-disease which the province enjoyed in the previous year was not maintained in the year under report. The total number of deaths from this cause reported during the year was 18,391. This figure represents a tithe only of the actual losses owing, it is believed, to the strong prejudice of the natives to the declaration of disease and isolation of sick animals. The disease, which appeared in the form of rinderpest (cattle-plague), first broke out at Vaghal in the Mehkar taluk, and seemed to have been of a sporadic nature; but subsequently the disease gradually extended to other parts of the province.

Horse-breeding.

78. The Government stallions covered in all 142 mares or 34 less than in the previous year. The falling-off was due to the stallion at Wun having served but 7 mares against 36 in the previous year. The Veterinary Superintendent surmises that this result is due to the apathy and ignorance of the cultivators.

Horse and cattle show.

79. The provincial horse and cattle show held at Amraoti proved an utter failure; only 258 head of cattle and 45 horses and ponies appeared for competition, of which 230 head of cattle were furnished by the Amraoti District alone.

Land Improvement Act.

80. As in the previous year, advances under the Land Improvement Act were made in four districts only. The total amount advanced fell from Rs. 8,300 to Rs. 6,550.

SECTION III.

Horticulture.

81. The nurseries and public gardens in Berar are, with one exception, maintained by local funds. The following statement shows the results for the past three years:—

	1889-90.	1888-89.	1887-88.

SECTION IV.

Forests.

Staff.

82. The sanctioned strength of the superior staff during the year was the same as in the previous year; but the number of officers actually employed was less by one officer of the controlling staff. Proposals were submitted to the Government of India for the appointment of a sixth Sub-Assistant Conservator ship, and for permanent entertainment in Berar of two trained officers of the superior staff instead of only one as heretofore. Orders were passed after the close of the year.

Forest area.

83. There was a net increase of 163 square miles in the area of forest lands in Berar. The distribution of this area in shown in the following statement:—

Classes of forest.	Area in square miles.				Percentage of forest area to area of province.
	Area on 1st April 1889.	Added during the year.	Excluded or transferred to other classes.	Area on 31st March 1890.
Demarcated State-Forests ...	1,059	...	...	1,059	6
District Reserved Forests ...	478	534	...	1,012	5·7
District Unreserved Forests ...	2,614	175	546	2,243	12·7
Total ...	4,151	709	546	4,314	24·4

Boundaries.

84. All the lands in Berar under management of the Forest Department including the unreserved forests are demarcated. The boundaries of the demarcated State-forests have been further improved by means of cut lines which extend from warli* to warli and serve as exterior fire-lines, while the warlis themselves have been supplemented by wooden posts imbedded in mounds of loose stone. The State-forests of Bairagarh, Gugamal and Chikalda in the Melghat are also demarcated in this manner. As regards the operations of the department in this direction during the year under report, the new State-forests of Medsi and Chandus (in Basim) were demarcated on the system explained for this class of forests, and the existing boundaries of demarcated State-forests in all districts were kept in order. The work of repairing the warlis of the district reserved forests in Amraoti was completed during the year, while petty repairs in the same direction were executed in other parts of the province.

Prosecutions.

85. Excluding the cases pending at the close of the previous year, the number of prosecutions for breaches of forest rules fell from 496 to 381. The number of cases disposed of during the year was 383 against 495 in the year preceding. These cases involved 681 persons, of whom 530 were convicted and 151 acquitted.

Fire conservancy.

86. The following statement compares the results of fire protection for the past two years:—

	1888-89.	1889-90.	Difference
Area attempted	675,323	677,747	+ 2,424
Results { Successfully protected	663,171	667,756	+ 4,585

	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.
Approximate cost per square mile of area attempted ...	6 9 0	7 0 0	+0 7 0

87. The new Berar Forest Law had not come into force when the year closed. The old order of classification was accordingly still adhered to.

Working plans.

88. The Raipur-Makla working plan was cancelled during the year, and one embracing the entire area of the Bairagarh and Gugamal reserves, consisting of over 500 square miles, was proposed instead. The outline of this project, drawn up by the Conservator after long and careful examination of the forests named was submitted for the opinion of the Inspector-General of Forests, and it is probable that these reserves will come under systematic management from the 1st November 1891. The forest work of the year was carried out on the basis of annual plans of operations prepared by the Divisional Forest Officers in consultation with the Deputy Commissioners and approved by the Conservator.

* Warlis are mounds of earth and stones which serve to demarcate field numbers.

PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION.

Grazing.

89. Grazing in the demarcated State-forests was put a stop to everywhere except in the State-forests of Buldana, in which it was permitted in consequence of the absorption of waste lands for purposes of cultivation. The revenue realized on cattle grazed in the district and unreserved forests rose from Rs. 1,61,660 to Rs. 1,64,591, while the realizations from this source in the demarcated State-forests fell from Rs. 9,534 to Rs. 4,701.

Natural reproduction.

90. The Conservator, after a personal inspection of the South Berar forests, reports more favourably on natural reproduction in those forests. Some of the reserves are said to promise well for the future; and elsewhere conditions are so far favourable that instances of the successful reproduction of teak are not wanting where there is adequate shelter, and fertile seed-bearing trees occur in sufficient numbers. The reproduction of inferior species in most of these forests is also reported to be sufficiently good.

Cultural operations.

91. The area under cultural operations was 2,381 acres, against 11,418 in the previous year. During the year 869 acres were added and 9,906 excluded, the largest areas thus abandoned being in the districts of Basim and Amraoti. Broadcast sowing having for the most part proved unsuccessful, only such cultural operations were performed during the year as had been commenced in the previous year. The two date plantations at Ellichpur are reported to be doing well.

Communications.

92. In the Melghat 24 miles of road were completed by departmental agency. The Raipur-Jarida road was finished, as also a new road from Chowkrakhund to Butram, a length of 12 miles. The total cost of these roads was Rs. 10,801, or Rs. 450 per mile. Repairs were executed to 169 miles of road at a cost of Rs. 11-8-0 per mile. The roads, both new and old, are reported to be well constructed and looked after. The road-work executed by the department outside the Ellichpur division was confined to petty repairs. In addition to the above, the Gugamal Forest Road was completed by the Public Works Department to a distance of 22 miles (from Akot to Asalwara), while the remaining 16 miles (from Asalwara to Selu) were under construction. The cost of these roads has not been reported.

Yield and working.

93. None of the forest produce was extracted by Government agency. The following figures show the revenue realized from each class of forest produce for the past two years :—

	Rs. 1889-90.	Rs. 1888-89.

SECTION V.

Mines and Quarries.

95. There is nothing to record under this head.

SECTION VI.

Manufactures.

96. The manufactures of the province are confined to yarn, cotton cloth and petty unskilled handicrafts. Silk weaving is carried on at Kholapur in the Amraoti district, and edgings of silk to native cloths are made in some places. Cotton carpets are tastefully made at Akot, Buldana and Ellichpur; saries, turbans, kadies and blankets (kamals) are also manufactured in several parts of the province. As remarked in previous reports, the steam mill at Badnera is the only real manufactory in Berar. It produced 1,037,682 lbs of twist and yarn, against 1,774,207 lbs in the preceding year, showing a decrease of 736,525 lbs. There was also a falling-off in the number of persons employed in the manufactory, being 492 as compared with 742 in the preceding year. Besides meeting local wants, the produce was exported to Nagpur, Jubbulpur, and other districts of the Central Provinces, as well as to Khandeish in the Bombay Presidency. The weaving mill at the same place, started in December 1888, worked with success. The number of persons employed in this mill was 263 against 244; and it turned out 765,865 lbs of cloth valued at Rs. 358,999. The oil mill at Amraoti manufactured 475 tons of oil and 949 tons of oil-cake, an outturn almost corresponding with that of the preceding year. The number of steam cotton presses has increased from 23 to 24. The presses turned out 400,050 bales as compared with 381,324 bales in the previous year. The number of ginning factories has been largely augmented during the year, namely from 19 to 34. The following statement shows the presses of all kinds in the province together with the outturn of work for the past two years :—

SECTION VII.

Trade.

Registration.

97. The work of registration of the rail-borne traffic of the province was as usual performed by the Railway Audit Office at Bombay. Quarterly returns are published, with a short review by the Commissioner, for the information of the mercantile community, and the returns also appear in the Hyderabad Residency Orders. An interchange of these returns moreover is effected between Berar and other provinces.

Estimated outturn of crops.

98. There has been a change in the form of the provincial trade report, and consequently the form of the details now furnished differ in some respects from those exhibited in paragraphs 100 to 102 in the administration report of the previous year. The province of Berar is mainly agricultural, and its exports for the most part consist of cotton, food and other grains. Consequently particulars of the outturn of crops would be useful in connection with the particulars of its export trade. The following table shows the estimated outturn per acre and the total estimated outturn of the year as compared with the results of the previous year :—

Total trade.

99. The total traffic, taking imports and exports together, exceeded that of the previous year both in weight and value. The import traffic rose considerably, viz., by 663,870 maunds in weight and Rs. 36,10,384 in value, or by 25 and 23 per cent. respectively. The export traffic, however, decreased from 4,276,377 to 3,635,968 maunds, although the value increased by nearly 5 per cent. The decrease in weight was largely due to a decline in the export of wheat, which fell from 864,069 to 471,777 maunds. The increase in value was due to a greater export of cotton, the most valuable export of the province. The total traffic of the year as compared with that of the two previous years is shown in the following statement:—

100. The imports in coal, grains, metals, oils, and sugar all increased. The chief items are shown below and compared with the figures of the previous two years:—

Exports.

I. Regiment at Trimulgherry. An expenditure of Rs. 2,51,017 was incurred against a sanctioned estimate of Rs. 3,24,184. Two single cook-houses for the four half-troop barracks, British Cavalry, four lavatories for half-troop barracks, British Cavalry at Trimulgherry, and the supplying of stones for sub-soil drainage for lines of Native Troops at Secunderabad, were completed at a total cost of Rs. 17,358, against an estimate of Rs. 20,688. Minor works costing Rs. 4,472 were carried out during the year, besides which a sum of Rs. 1,200, out of an estimate of Rs. 2,206, was expended on minor works in progress. A sum of Rs. 9,058 was also expended on minor works under Rs. 500 each.

Repairs.

107. The military buildings in the Cantonment of Trimulgherry and Secunderabad were maintained in an efficient state of repair, and also the defences and draw-bridges of the entrenched post at Trimulgherry.

General.

The additional buildings required for the increased strength of the British Cavalry Regiment at North Trimulgherry were nearly completed, with the exception of the general finishing, &c., of half-troop barracks Nos. IX and XI.

Residency defences.

108. A revised project for improving the defences of the Hyderabad Residency was prepared and submitted for the consideration and orders of the Government of India, together with alternative estimates based on proposals made by the Resident and the Major-General Commanding the Secunderabad Division.

Transfer of Imperial Works at Secunderabad and Trimulgherry to the Military Department.

109. It having been decided by the Government of India to form a Military Works Command in the Madras Presidency under a Superintending Engineer under the command of the Commander-in-Chief of the Madras Army, the Imperial Military Works at Secunderabad and Trimulgherry were transferred to the Military Works Department from the 1st of April 1890. Thus the year under report is the last one under the old system by which Imperial Military Works were carried out by the local Public Works Department under the orders of the Resident. Under this system the substantial barracks in which the Subsidiary Force is now housed have been built.

IMPERIAL—CIVIL WORKS.

The grant of Rs. 11,13,300 was made up as follows :—

	Rs.
(a) From provincial revenues	10,24,300
(b) From the jaglia cess	89,000
	11,13,300

The grand total of expenditure from the provincial and jaglia cess allotment was Rs. 11,08,408; but deducting the sum due to reductions of suspense balances during the year as shown in the above table, the expenditure fell to

Rs. 10,92,428, showing a short outlay of Rs. 20,872. There was an unappropriated balance of Rs. 16,668 belonging to the jaglia cess ; and if this amount is deducted from the above saving of Rs. 20,872, the net lapse on the grant from provincial revenues of Rs. 10,24,300 was only Rs. 4,204.

The "jaglia cess" is a difficult one to utilize as it is only spent on projects receiving contribution from other funds as well ; and if the funds concerned are unable to contribute, the jaglia cess money remains unappropriated.

This was subsequently reduced to 50 per cent. for a period of 5 years commencing from the year 1887-88, but as this percentage was found insufficient, the Government of India on the representation of the Resident increased the assignment of revenue from 50 to 51 per cent., with effect from 1889-90 to 1891-92, vide Department of Finance and Commerce Resolution No. 4347, dated 26th August 1889.

The balance at credit of the Resident under the new contract scheme on the 31st March 1890 was Rs. 10,11,388 as shown below:—

Under civil expenditure the principal increases and the heads under which they occur are as follows :—

Heads of account.	Amount. Rs.	Remarks.
Forest	6,337	Chiefly under II Timber and other produce removed from the forests by consumers or purchasers, and was due to outstanding commission paid to village officials on account of forest revenue collected in the past year; also due to payments made to them in connection with the collection of a correspondingly larger revenue.
General Administration ...	33,689	Increase under every minor head, chiefly under Commissioner's and Civil Office of Account and Audit, due to absentee allowances of officers. A sum of Rs. 6,800 was also debited to the latter head on account of arrear charges in connection with the audit and inspection of Berar accounts.
Law and Justice—Courts of Law.	22,369	Chiefly under Civil and Sessions Courts, due to the introduction of the new judicial scheme during 1889-90.
Education ...	11,086	Increase is chiefly under "grants-in-aid, payments by results, indigenous schools"; also slightly under "direction" due to the absentee allowance of the Director.
Superannuation Allowances and Pensions.	74,468	Due to the adjustment of arrear charges communicated by the Comptroller, India Treasuries.
Miscellaneous ...	33,830	Increase chiefly under (1) "Loss by exchange on local transactions," (2) "Cost of books and publications" and (3) "Miscellaneous refunds." As regards (1) a fluctuating head, (2) to the adjustment made for the first time on account of cost of gazettes and other publications supplied by other presidencies, and (3) to the re-adjustment of an erroneous credit in the accounts for 1888-89.

State Railways.

The charges of State Railways during 1889-90 show an increase of Rs. 18,054 over the actuals of the previous year, and was entirely due to improvement in the receipts. The working expenses are calculated at the train mile rates as actually incurred by the Company in working its own line with an addition of two-fifths of the net profits as remuneration for working.

1. Army and Garrison Staff.—The increase of Rs. 3,822 under Army and Garrison Staff is due to the appointment of Station Staff Officers from 1st September 1888.

In 1888-89 the pay of Station Staff Officers was charged from 1st September 1888 only, whereas in 1889-90 for the full year, hence increase in expenditure. A larger sum has also been expended under telegrams during 1889-90.

3. Regimental Pay, Allowances.—Increase of Rs. 64,407 under 3 Regimental Pay, Allowances, &c., is due to the addition to the establishment of British officers per regiment of cavalry and infantry, Hyderabad Contingent, and to the addition of one rate of good conduct pay to artillery and infantry. In 1888-89 the pay of additional officers and good conduct pay were charged from 1st October 1888, the date from which clause 152, Army Circulars, India, 1888, came into effect, whereas in 1889-90 for the whole year, hence the increase.

4. Commissariat Establishment.—Increase of Rs. 1,04,847 under Commissariat Establishment, Supplies and Services, is as shown below:—

Rs. 46,765 under Commissariat Supplies.
Rs. 58,082 under Commissariat Services.

Increase under Commissariat Supplies is chiefly due to the rise in the average prices of provisions.

Increase under Commissariat Services is partly due to the expenditure for movement of troops and transport of stores which was shown in previous years under different heads having been charged under this head in 1889-90, and partly to the rise in the price of gram, coolty, &c., purchased for feed of battery cattle, and also to certain charges appertaining to 1888-89 having been adjusted in the year under review.

5. Stud and Remount Establishment.—During 1888-89 thirty-two additional horses, sanctioned by the Government of India in addition to those required to replace casualties, were purchased, whereas in 1889-90 such horses and bullocks as were required to replace those cast, died, &c., only have been purchased, hence the decrease of Rs. 14,867 under Stud and Remount Establishment.

6. Clothing Establishment.—In 1888-89 triennial clothing to infantry regiments, Hyderabad Contingent, was issued and charged in the accounts for that year, but in 1889-90 clothing for artillery and the cost of khaki material to men of infantry only have been issued and charged, hence the expenditure under Clothing Establishment is decreased by Rs. 45,003.

10. Ordnance Establishment.—The increase of expenditure, viz., Rs. 6,947, under Ordnance Establishment, considering the large amount of charge, is so small, calls for no remark.

12. Education.—The expenditure under Education, viz., Rs. 946, is due to the appointment of Inspector of Schools in the Hyderabad Contingent.

13. Sea Transport Charges.—Decrease of Rs. 425 under Sea Transport Charges is due to the fact that no subaltern in the Hyderabad Contingent obtained a free passage to England during 1889-90.

14. Miscellaneous Services.—Charges for transport of troops and prizes for skill at arms adjusted in 1888-89 under 14 Miscellaneous have been shown during 1889-90 under 3 Regimental Pay and Allowances and 4 Commissariat Establishment, &c., in accordance with the new classification. There has been an increase in the expenditure under Burma Expedition and decrease under Camp of Exercise during the year under review as compared with the expenditure of the previous year, hence the decrease of Rs. 15,463 under Miscellaneous Services.

16. Rewards for Military Services.—Increase of Rs. 2,523 under Rewards for Military Services is due to the admission of certain native officers to the Order of British India during 1889-90.

17. Retired Officers.—The decrease of Rs. 10,463 under Retired Officers is due to the lapses by death of certain retired officers.

18. Military Pensions.—Increase of Rs. 15,110 under Military Pensions is due to a large number of men having been transferred to the Pension Establishment during 1889-90, the option of retiring after 21 years' service having been granted to men of the Hyderabad Contingent.

CHAPTER VI.

VITAL STATISTICS AND MEDICAL RELIEF.

SECTION I.

Births and Deaths.

System of registration.

136. The system of registration of vital statistics was the same as in previous years.

Births.

137. The total number of births recorded during the year was 103,780 against 108,390 in the previous year, being a decrease of 4,610. Of the total registered births 53,463 were males and 50,317 females, the proportion of the sexes born being 106 males to every 100 females. The proportion of births to population was 39·6 per 1,000 of population calculated on the census figures of 1881, but on the corrected figures the birth-rate would be 38·0. In districts the birth-rate ranged from 45·6 and 41·9 in Buldana and Amraoti to 36·8 and 36·6 in Wun and Akola. In towns the mean birth-rate was 36·8, while in rural circles it was 40·0. Taken according to season the largest number of births was again recorded in the rainy season and the smallest number in the hot weather months.

Still-births.

138. The number of still-births registered was 4,386, of which number 2,453 were males and 1,933 females. The proportion of still-births to live-births per cent. was 4·1.

Deaths.

139. Judging from the figures of mortality, the year was a very unhealthy one compared with its predecessor. The number of deaths registered from all causes rose from 64,865 to 111,556, and the death-rate to population from 24·7 to 42·5 per 1,000. Of the registered deaths 58,852 were of males and 52,704 of females. The proportion of male deaths to female deaths was the same as in the previous year, viz., 111 of the former to 100 of the latter. In districts the death-rate ranged from 49·3 in Basim to 37·0 in Wun. The months of August and September were the most unhealthy of the year. The number of deaths in these months was 15,203 and 12,872 respectively. The fewest deaths were recorded in the months of January and February. The following figures show the annual rate of mortality per 1,000 of population according to age for the last two years:—

Inspection.

147. With a few exceptions due to unavoidable causes, the inspection of dispensaries was performed regularly by the Civil Surgeons. The Inspector-General visited 6 civil hospitals, 21 dispensaries and 6 jail hospitals during the year.

SECTION IV.

Sanitation.

148. No important sanitary works were undertaken or completed in any of the municipalities during the year under report. All the municipalities except Khamgaon are hard pressed for funds, and the large schemes for improved water-supply and drainage in Akola and Amraoti which have been contemplated for years past are blocked for want of money. Attention was, however, paid to the improvement of drainage, water-supply and conservancy more or less in all municipalities in proportion to their means of doing so. Out of an estimated income of Rs. 2,01,712 a sum of Rs. 91,529, or 45·3 per cent., was expended for sanitary purposes and 22·2 per cent. on conservancy alone. The total district expenditure (excluding municipalities) incurred on works of sanitary improvement was Rs. 1,02,213, against Rs. 1,05,476 in the previous year. The principal works executed by the Public Works Department and in progress during the year were—

	Cost. Rs.	a.	p.

SECTION V.

Vaccination.

Strength and conduct of the staff.

149. No change occurred in the strength of the staff employed in vaccination, which remained at 7 native superintendents and 49 vaccinators and apprentices. The conduct of the staff was on the whole good and satisfactory.

Work done.

150. The work done by all establishments during the year under report is shown in the following table and compared with the figures of the two previous years :—

	Primary vaccination.			Re-vaccination.			Total vaccinated.
	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.

The decrease in primary operations was due to the unhealthiness of the year, which caused much sickness among the operators and a high mortality amongst infants. Of the total number of persons vaccinated by the special establishment 49,975 were males and 45,351 females. The average number of persons operated upon by each vaccinator was 2,166, being 77 less than the figure for 1888. Out of a total of 92,651 successful primary operations, 85,209 were performed by the special establishment, and 7,442 at dispensaries. The percentages of successful cases were 95·76 and 95·7, against 96·4 and 95·5 respectively in the previous year. As regards re-vaccinations, the total number of successful operations performed by all establishments was 1,914 and the percentage of success 27·6, against 1,697 and 38·8 in the preceding year.

Cost.

151. The total expenditure incurred excluding the Melghat was Rs. 16,695-8-9, against Rs. 16,811-15-6 in the previous year, showing a decrease of Rs. 116-6-9. The average cost of each successful operation rose from Rs. 0-2-11 to Rs. 0-3-1.

Attitude of the people.

152. No difficulty is experienced with the lower classes, and the well-to-do and educated classes, with certain exceptions, generally accept vaccination. The class of people who generally give trouble are Marwaris, Banias, Muhammadans and Brahmins; but on the whole the benefits of vaccination are recognized and accepted.

CHAPTER VII.

INSTRUCTION.

SECTION I.

Education.

No. of schools and scholars.

153. The operations of the Educational Department during the year under report show somewhat better results than in the previous year. Schools for boys increased by 49 and those for girls by 3, while the number of scholars shows an increase of 1,305 altogether, i.e., 1,239 boys and 66 girls. The following table shows the number of schools and scholars at the close of the year as compared with the figures of the preceding year:—

* This includes 16 pupil-teachers who are being trained for masterships in the different districts.

Distribution of schools and scholars according to districts.

154. Taking the number of schools and scholars according to districts, Akola still shows the largest number of schools and the smallest average number of square miles to each school; Ellichpur has the largest percentage of scholars to population of school-going age, and would also, if the Melghat were excluded from the calculation, have the smallest average number of square miles to each school. The average for the province was one school to every 15·6 square miles as against 21·7 in 1888, and the percentage of male pupils to male population of school-going age was 21·7 as compared with 21·3 in the previous year.

University education.

155. Of 7 students holding Berar scholarships at colleges in the Bombay Presidency, 3 passed the P. E. examination and 1 the First examination in Medicine. Of the Berar students who did not hold scholarships, 1 graduated in Arts, 2 passed the First B. A. examination, and 6 the P. E. examination.

156. On the whole the results of the Matriculation Examination were satisfactory. Out of a total number of 31 students who presented themselves for examination from the Akola and Amraoti High Schools, 17 passed, against 23 and 17 respectively in the previous year. Of the successful candidates, the Akola High School passed 9 and the Amraoti High School 8. Matriculation.

157. The following table gives the statistics relating to the 2 High and 24 Middle or Anglo-Vernacular Schools:— Secondary schools.

158. During the year 12 new Government primary schools for boys were opened and 7 closed, leaving an increase of 5. The total number of scholars rose from 30,221 to 30,807, and the average daily attendance from 20,874 to 21,816. PART I.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

Personnel.

SIR DENNIS FITZPATRICK, K.C.S.I., B.C.S., held the office of Resident at Hyderabad, and Mr. J. A. Crawford, I.C.S., that of First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar, throughout the year. The office of Second Assistant Resident and Assistant Secretary for Berar was held by Major A. M. Muir, B.S.C., from the 1st to the 14th April 1890, by Lieutenant C. H. Pritchard, Bo.S. C., from the 18th April to the 20th May, and by Mr. O. V. Bosanquet, I.C.S., from the 21st May 1890 to the close of the year. The appointment was vacant for the three days, 15th to the 17th April 1890. Mr. T. Chichele Plowden, I.C.S., held the appointment of Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts throughout the year. The office of Judicial Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts was held by Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, M.S.C., throughout the year, except during his absence on privilege leave for 2 months and 20 days, from the 31st October 1890 to the 19th January 1891, when Mr. R. Obbard, I.C.S., officiated for him.

Survey.

2. The provincial boundary question referred to in paragraph 4 of last year's administration report was finally settled during the year, and the work of erecting and surveying boundary marks on the line between Berar and Nimar was completed. There should thus be no further delay in publishing the map-sheets of the Melghat survey, the last of which were in the press at the close of the year. A sum of Rs. 4,746 was expended during the year, chiefly on account of map drawing, and the printing and publishing of the 4″ and 2″ standard sheets.

As regards the revenue survey the establishment was at work in 51 izara, 21 khalsa, and 3 jagir villages in the Wun district, and 3 izara and 65 khalsa villages in the Basim district. Of the villages in Wun 16 had been measured in the previous year, and the classification of soils alone had to be completed, and of the remaining 59 which were measured during the year, 12 remained to be classed on the 31st March 1891. Of the Basim villages 35 remained to be classed at the close of the year under report. The outturn of work for the year as compared with that of the previous year is shown below :—

	1889-90. Acres.	g.	1890-91. Acres.	g.
No. of fields measured ...	3,117 or 107,751	38	3,031 or 113,270	9
No. of fields classed ...	3,116 or 77,523	11	2,312 or 57,577	17

The total expenditure incurred during the year was Rs. 25,351-1-2 against Rs. 19,164-9-4 in the previous year.

Waste lands.

3. The number of leased villages fell from 493 to 478, but the acreage remained the same as in the previous year, viz., 895,761. The rental fell from Rs. 89,209 to Rs. 88,452.

Course of legislation.

4. Four Acts of the Imperial Legislature were made applicable to the province during the year, viz., Acts XVIII and XX of 1886 (amending Act XXXVI of 1858 relating to lunatic asylums), Act II of 1889 (the Measurement of Length Act, 1889), and Act X of 1890, amending Act XXV of 1867, (an Act for the regulation of printing presses and newspapers, for the preservation of copies of books printed in British India and for the registration of such books). Besides these, rules were issued by the Governor-General in Council under sections 25, 27 and 33 of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts Births, Deaths, and Marriages Registration Law of 1888.

Police.

5. The total strength of the police force employed in the province, including officers of all ranks, was 2,821 against 2,810 in the previous year. The increase was due to the entertainment of 16 additional foot constables and a reduction of five mounted police constables. The total number of deaths recorded fell from 50 to 37, and the death-rate from 1·7 to 1·3.

Crime.

Criminal justice.

7. Including cases pending at the close of the previous year, there were in all 12,004 criminal cases for disposal. The total number of persons under trial during the year, including those pending from the previous year, was 21,182 against 21,072 in 1889; of these 20,963 were disposed of, leaving 219 to be dealt with at the close of the year under report. The percentage of convictions was 41·7 against 47·5 in 1889. The number of persons appearing for trial before the Sessions Court fell from 66 to 49. Of these 6 were convicted and sentenced to death, 7 to transportation, 15 sentenced otherwise, and 21 were acquitted. Of the 6 persons sentenced to be hanged, the sentence of one was commuted to transportation for life. The average duration of trials before the Magistracy was 5·5 days against 5·1 in previous year, and of those before the Sessions Court 39·4 days against 60 in the preceding year. Including cases pending from 1889 there were in all 362 appeals for disposal by Deputy Commissioners. The number of persons whose appeals were disposed of was 656. In the case of 228 persons, appeals were rejected, in 146 confirmed, in 64 modified, in 214 reversed, and in 4 new trials were ordered, while 33 were pending at the close of the year. The average duration of appeals was 11·7 days against 9·8 in the previous year. The number of persons dealt with by the Sessions Court was 260. In 86 cases appeals were rejected, in 79 the sentences were confirmed, in 15 modified, in 45 reversed, and in 10 new trials were ordered, while 4 persons died or were transferred. The average duration of appeals before the Sessions Court was 21·3 days against 20 in the previous year. In the Resident's court 3 appeals were preferred, of which 1 was rejected and 2 were dismissed. There was only one application to the Resident for revision, and it was rejected.

Prisons.

8. The total jail population of the year was 2,280 against 2,820 in the previous year, and the number of admissions 1,170 against 1,537, The number of previously convicted prisoners was 204 compared with 205 in 1889, Of 10 prisoners who escaped during the year, 7 were recaptured. Offences against jail discipline rose from 328 in 1889 to 463 in the year under report. The mark system continued to work well. The chief forms of employment in the two large jails were weaving material for police uniform and lithographing forms for Government departments, The dyeing of police uniform was successfully introduced in the Amraoti jail, and saved the trouble and expense of sending material to Bombay to be dyed, as was formerly the case. Brickmaking continued to be carried on in the Basim jail and proved remunerative. Broken stones were also disposed of profitably in this jail. The total cash earnings of prisoners sentenced to labour rose frcm 9,160 to Rs. 17,576, the average earnings per head sentenced to labour from Rs. 8-15-0 to Rs. 20-9-0, and the average earnings per head employed on manufactures from Rs. 20-10-0 to Rs. 65-10-0. The general health of the convicts was on the whole better than in the previous year. The ratio per mille admitted into hospital fell from 676 to 550, and the total number of deaths from 22 to 15. Owing however to the influenza epidemic which prevailed in the early part of the year, the daily average number sick rose from 16·2 to 16·6. The gross cost of maintaining and guarding prisoners fell from Rs. 66,284 to Rs. 60,090; but the total average cost per head rose from Rs. 61-10-0 to Rs. 67-3-0.

Civil justice.

9. The total number of civil courts opened was 42 against 41 in the previous year, and the number of suits instituted was 25,754 compared with 25,776 in 1889. The aggregate number of suits disposed of rose from 24,686 to 26,331. The average duration of contested cases was 84 days and of uncontested cases 41·8 days against 57·8 and 34·2 respectively in the previous year. The aggregate value of the claims involved in the suits rose from Rs. 26,40,090 to Rs. 27,72,876. The number of applications for execution of decrees rose from 28,646 to 31,131. The total value of the money decrees in execution was Rs. 2,93,603 compared with 2,61,602; of this sum Rs. 17,177-13-0 were paid in voluntarily and Rs. 2,76,425-11-0 realized by coercive process. Including appeals pending from the previous year, there were 370 appeals for disposal by chief appellate courts of districts, of which 303 were disposed of. In the civil court of the Civil and Sessions Judge there were 544 appeals for disposal of which 413 were disposed of, while the Judicial Commissioner disposed of 309 appeals out of a total of 782 received during the year and pending from the previous year. There were 8 appeals and 4 applications under section 622 of the Civil Procedure Code before the Resident, of which 6 and 3 respectively were disposed of during the year.

Registration.

10. The total number of registrations fell from 31,766 to 28,289 during the year under report, showing a decrease of 3,477. The falling-off was due in some measure to the employment of registering officers on census work, and occurred both in compulsory and optional registrations. The aggregate value of property transferred rose from Rs. 77,05,063 to Rs. 77,58,336, and the average value of each document from Rs. 243 to Rs. 275. Refusals to register fell from 235 to 203. The total receipts for the year fell from Rs. 70,866 to Rs. 68,001, the expenditure from Rs. 39,824 to Rs. 39,745, and the net surplus from Rs. 31,042 to Rs. 28,257. The total accumulated surplus at the close of the year was Rs. 3,08,026 against Rs. 2,79,769 at the close of 1889-90. With one exception all offices of sub-registrars worked at a profit.

Municipalities.

11. The number of municipalities was the same as in the previous year, viz., 8. All were administered under the Berar Municipal Law of 1886. The total income of the year fell from Rs. 2,05,698 to Rs. 1,83,002, and the total expenditure from Rs. 1,64,851 to Rs. 1,73,770. Considerable sums were spent on works of public safety, health and convenience, and also on public instruction.

Local boards.

12. The year 1890-91 is the first complete year during which the Berar Rural Boards Law has been in operation. There were five district boards and 17 taluk boards, with a total number of 128 and 306 members respectively. The total income, including opening balance, of the district boards for the year under report was Rs. 5,57,265, of which sum Rs. 2,79,779 was expended. The largest sums were spent on education and public works. The members of all the district boards are said to have shown commendable interest in their duties.

Agriculture.

13. Owing to corrected measurements made by the Survey Department the total area of the province shows an increase of 279 acres. On the retirement of Mr. Hobson, the Survey and Settlement Officer, during the year under report a scheme of proceedings to embrace the settlement operations of all kinds pending in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts was settled. The total area to be dealt with is about 13,000 square miles, and in order to carry out this work as well as to provide for permanent and continuous supervision over local land record establishments, and agricultural and commercial statistics, it was decided to establish a permanent Department of Land Records and Agriculture under a Director. For the settlement work in particular the Director has been given an Assistant Director and a professional Survey officer. The year has been a busy one in regard to questions relating to land, and much preliminary work has been done preparatory to the operations of the coming year. The total area under crop increased by 8,203 acres. Owing to transfers to State forest and certain other changes, the area of unculturable land decreased by 46,580 acres. The areas under kharif and rabi rose by 5,668 and 82,430 acres respectively, but that under miscellaneous decreased by 844 acres. The percentage of acreage under cotton, linseed and gram rose 2·5, 1·2 and ·2 respectively; that under jowari decreased by 1·6, while the percentage of acreage under wheat was the same as in the previous year, viz., 12·5. The area under irrigation continues steadily to decrease. During the year under report there was a further decrease of 1,615 acres.

Rainfall.

14. The average rainfall of the year was 40·26 inches, being 1·45 inches less than the quinquennial average and 2·3 inches greater than the fall of the previous year. On the whole the rainfall was seasonable and sufficient, with the result that the crops at both harvests were about normal. In the Ellichpur district the rabi crop was exceptionally good.

Prices of produce and labour.

15. The average prices of wheat, gram and rice were slightly higher than in the previous year; but the price of jowari fell in every district except Basim, where the price of all food-grains was higher than in 1889-90. Except in two districts wages of labour remained stationary.

Veterinary.

16. The total number of deaths from cattle disease during the year under report was 17,060 against 18,391 in the previous year. The figures are believed to be unreliable owing to there having been no regular system of registration. The disease was most severe in Wun and Akola, in which two districts alone there were 12,597 deaths. The total number of mares covered by the Government stallions was 121 against 142 in the preceding year. The decrease was due to bad results in two districts and to the illness of a stallion lent by His Highness the Nizam's Government, which had subsequently to be destroyed. The plan of sending students with Berar scholarships to be trained in the Veterinary College at Bombay for the post of Veterinary Assistant has been only partially successful, only three of the six students having passed the final examination. It is therefore in contemplation to select for these posts successful graduates or other lkely students who are willing to undergo the course.

Agricultural stock.

17. The agricultural stock of the province shows an increase under all heads during the year under report; but the statistics are furnished by patwaris and are not susceptible of check.

Takavi.

18. As in the preceding year, advances under the Land Improvement Act were made in four districts only. The total amount advanced rose from Rs. 6,550 to Rs. 15,420. It is in contemplation to extend the provisions of the Land Improvement Loans Act (XII of 1884) to the province.

Forests.

19. The area of forest lands in Berar shows a net decrease of 30 square miles during the year under report. The boundaries of all the old demarcated State forests were cleared and the boundary marks kept in order. The Mohoja reserve in Basim was demarcated at a cost of Rs. 189. In district and unreserved forests 14,324 boundary marks were repaired at a total cost of Rs. 1,032. Breaches of forest rules rose from 381 to 416. Protection from fire was on the whole satisfactory. Although the area over which protection failed increased by 7,015 acres, the area successfully protected rose by 26,534 acres. The approximate cost per square mile of area attempted rose from Rs. 7 to Rs. 7-2. The gross revenue rose from Rs. 4,40,540 to Rs. 4,87,109; but the expenditure fell from Rs. 1,76,549 to Rs. 1,68,608. The surplus rose from Rs. 2,63,991 to Rs. 3,18,501.

Trade.

20. The total trade of the province taking imports and exports together increased in weight by 510,039 maunds, and in value by Rs. 1,56,800. The decrease of 4 per cent. in the value of exports was chiefly due to a fall in the prices of cotton and oil seeds. The total values of the imports and exports for the past two years are contrasted below:—

	1889-90.	1890-91.	Increase or decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs
Imports ...	1,93,80,166	2,13,22,494	+ 19,42,328
Exports ...	4,26,36,963	4,08,51,435	— 17,85,528

Except in coal and coke, drugs and chemicals, metals, opium, provisions and tobacco, the imports in all the principal items of traffic increased in value. Exports decreased in all articles except manufactured cotton and railway plant and rolling stock. The fall of more than 32 lakhs of rupees in the value of cotton, the principal export of Berar, which is more than 32 lakhs of rupees, was due to the large crop and low prices in America, the full crop in Berar last year, and the good one of the year before.

Public works.

21. The disbursements from all sources on public works during the year under notice amounted in the aggregate to Rs. 16,29,660. The military works of the Secunderabad Division having been handed over to the Military Works Department, Madras Command, under the new re-organization scheme, no expenditure on this account was incurred by the Public Works Department of the province. The grant and expenditure under imperial civil works services amounted respectively to Rs. 21,800 and Rs. 20,629, the lapse of Rs. 1,171 being due to savings on minor works. The grant and expenditure under the provincial services of Berar amounted to Rs. 11,10,750 (excluding Rs. 7,250 from the accumulated surplus of the old jaglia cess of Berar) and Rs. 11,06,086 respectively, the lapse under this head being Rs. 3,404 (excluding Rs. 2,553 from jaglia cess) or ·3 per cent., chiefly due to short expenditure on English stores and savings under minor heads. Rs. 36,137 were spent on accommodation for the troops of the Hyderabad Contingent located at Bolarum, Raichore, Mominabad, Ellichpur, Aurangabad, Jalna and Hingoli; Rs. 1,77,531 on revenue, judicial, ecclesiastical, jail, police, educational, medical and miscellaneous buildings; Rs. 5,68,375 on communications in Berar; and Rs. 69,795 on miscellaneous public improvements. The grants under incorporated and excluded local funds amounted to Rs. 1,01,839 and Rs. 71,851, while the expenditure reached Rs. 2,79,329 and Rs. 2,14,895 respectively.

Railways.

22. The following statistics relate to the State railways in Berar. The gross receipts, expenditure (including working and maintenance charges), and net revenue during the year were: (i) on the Khamgaon State Railway respectively Rs. 55,288, Rs. 29,196, and Rs. 26,072, this latter being equivalent to 5·32 per cent. on capital outlay of Rs. 4,90,520; and (ii) on the Amraoti State Railway, respectively, Rs. 1,01,502, Rs. 55,248, and Rs. 56,254, the last sum being equivalent to 10·34 per cent. on the capital outlay of Rs. 4,47,345.

Revenue and Finance.

23. The gross revenue of the province during the year 1890-91 amounted to Rs. 1,16,38,089, and the total disbursements to Rs. 1,01,07,659. Omitting the receipts and disbursements of the incorporated and excluded local funds, the provincial surplus was Rs. 15,03,236, compared with a surplus of Rs. 14,64,728 for the year 1889-90. The amount paid to His Highness the Nizam during the year 1890-91 was Rs. 14,64,728, being the surplus of the year 1889-90, and the accrued surplus in favor of His Highness on the 31st March 1891 was Rs. 41,56,342. Of the gross income, Rs. 1,00,95,948 were derived from provincial revenues, Rs. 5,93,470 from incorporated, and Rs. 9,48,671 from excluded local funds. Rs. 85,92,712 of the provincial revenues, Rs. 9,21,477 of the excluded local funds, and the whole of the incorporated local funds revenue were utilized. The provincial contract shows a saving of Rs. 1,66,543. The accrued balance in favor of the Resident at the close of 1890-91, inclusive of Rs. 5,00,000 allowed for any extraordinary emergencies in accordance with paragraph 4 of the Government of India Financial Department Resolution No. 5957, dated 5th November 1887 was Rs. 11,77,931. The principal sources of income other than land revenue exhibiting important variations from the amounts realised in the previous year are excise, forest, police and miscellaneous, under which there is an increase, and opium, stamps, provincial rates, law and justice, courts of law and jails, State railways, and contribution from local to provincial which show a falling. There is also a decline in the military receipts, chiefly under ordnance establishment. The net result is a decrease of Rs. 1,72,152. The total payments show a net decrease of Rs. 2,10,660, chiefly occurring under State railways, military works, army, Hyderabad Contingent, and contribution from local to provincial.

Vital statistics.

24. The year under report was healthy and comparatively free from epidemic disease. Cholera, small-pox and dysentery and diarrhœa were much less prevalent than in the previous year, but there was an increase of 790 in the number of deaths from fever. The total number of deaths registered from all causes fell from 111,556 to 93,020, or 18,536 less than in the preceding year, and the death-rate in proportion to population fell from 42·5 to 35·4 per thousand according to the census figures of 1881. According to the figures of the late census the death-rate was 32·1. The total number of births recorded rose from 103,780 in the previous year, to 111,450, being an increase of 7,670. The rate to population was 42·5 per thousand against 39·6 in 1889, and 38·46 calculated on the figures of the late census. Of the births registered 57,519 were males and 53,931 were females. In districts the highest birth-rate was recorded in Buldana and the lowest in Wun.

Medical relief.

25. There was no change in the number of dispensaries open, or in the medical staff employed during the year. Notwithstanding that the year under report was a healthy one, the total number of patients treated rose from 273,212 to 277,270, a fair indication of the increasing popularity of the dispensaries. Malarious fever was as usual the chief cause of admission, but the number admitted on this account decreased by 19,478 during the year under report. The number of major surgical operations fell from 230 to 142, but the decrease was due to stricter classification of surgical work. The gross receipts rose from Rs. 1,07,007 to Rs. 1,08,127, and the expenditure from Rs. 1,00,949 to Rs. 1,04,510.

Sanitation.

26. With the exception of the extension of the Amraoti city water-works, which was executed by the Public Works Department, no sanitary works of any importance were carried out in any of the municipalities during the year; but attention was paid more or less to sanitary requirements. Out of a total income of Rs. 2,27,232, the sum of Rs. 1,03,183 or 45·4 per cent. was expended on sanitary works. In districts outside municipalities the total expenditure on works of sanitary improvement was Rs. 1,19,621 compared with Rs. 1,02,213 in the preceding year. The largest expenditure was incurred on the Buldana water-supply, the extension of the Amraoti city water-works, the construction of the Bhir dam at Chikalda, and the concrete drains in the town of Murtazapur.

Vaccination

27. As regards the amount of work done the results were better than in the previous year, although the percentage of successful cases performed by the special establishment shows a trifling decrease. The total number of primary vaccinations rose from 96,745 to 97,651, but the percentage of successful cases fell from 95·76 to 95·1. The number of re-vaccinations rose from 6,927 to 16,511, and the percentage of success from 27·6 to 30·8. Out of a total number of 92,695 successful primary operations, 85,119 were performed by the special establishment and 7,576 at dispensaries. The total expenditure incurred, including the Melghat, rose from Rs. 16,883-12-9 to Rs. 16,900-15-0, but the average cost of each successful operation fell from Rs. 0-3-1 to Rs. 0-3-0.

Education.

28 The year was one of satisfactory progress. There was an increase of 97 in the total number of schools for boys and of 4 in the number of schools for girls, while the total number of scholars rose by 3,341. The percentage of male pupils to male population of school-going age was 21·5 against 21·7 in the preceding year. The results of the matriculation were on the whole satisfactory; out of 27 students who appeared for examination 15 passed, 10 of the students being passed by the Akola high school alone. The number of primary schools increased by four and the number of scholars by 806. Good progress was also made in aided and indigenous schools. The training college for school masters continued to do good work, as also the industrial school under Mr. M. B. Fuller, which was continued as a Mission school. Female education on the whole made a satisfactory advance during the year under report. There was an increase of four schools; the total number of scholars rose from 1,690 to 2,022, and the number of passes in all standards from 481 to 535. Muhammadan education continues to make steady, though slow progress. There was a slight falling-off in physical education, the number of gymnasia having decreased by four, and the number visited by the gymnasts by 34. Popular contributions rose in every district except Basim. The total amount contributed was Rs. 6,971 against Rs. 5,077 in the previous year. Fee receipts also rose from Rs. 54,378 to Rs. 56,611. The total expenditure on education increased by Rs. 20,161-13-4; but the cost debited to provincial revenues decreased by Rs. 7,022-6-9.

The appointment was vacant from the 15th to the 17th April 1890. Mr. T. Chichele Plowden, I.C.S., held the appointment of Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts throughout the year. The office of Judicial Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts was held by Colonel K. J. L. CHAPTER II.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE LAND.

SECTION I.

Survey and Settlement.

Forest survey.

5. The provincial boundary question referred to in paragraph 4 of last year's Administration Report was finally settled during the year, and the work of erecting and surveying within-view boundary marks on the boundary line between Berar and Nimar completed. A sum of Rs. 4,746 was expended during the year chiefly on account of map drawing and the printing and publishing of the 4" and 2" standard sheets. The last of the Berar sheets were in the press at the close of the year. Fifteen standard sheets of the Melghat survey on the scale of 4" = 1 mile and four on the 2" scale were published, while four others on the 4" scale, two on the 2" scale and three sheets of congregated village plans on the 4" scale were sent to press. A standard sheet on the 4" scale and one on the 2" scale were ready for printing, except that they had to wait for the completion of the work of drawing the boundary, which could not be added until the boundary had been completely demarcated and the additional pillars surveyed. These two sheets when published will complete the Melghat series of maps. Eight charts of triangulation on the scale of 1" = 1 mile were published, and a map of the Daryapur taluk on a similar scale passed through the press. Those sheets showing portions of the Bairagarh and Gugamal Reserves which were surveyed on the 4" scale have since been reduced to the 2" scale so as to make a complete set for the reserves on a uniform scale.

Revenue survey.

6. In order to meet a great and increasing demand for land in Government villages, which could not be complied with until waste lands had been surveyed, the establishment was set to work to measure the lands in the 36 khalsa villages that remained to be dealt with in the Wun district, and to commence the survey of the khalsa waste lands in the Pusad taluk of the Basim district, the area of which was calculated at 143,970 acres, and of five izara villages the leases of which expire before 1895. As the Pusad wastes, being largely composed of hilly and unculturable land, were not sufficient to occupy the time of the measurers to the end of the season, some of them were employed in surveying izara lands the leases of which will expire in 1895 and 1896.

The following is a statement of the villages in which the party were at work from the 1st April 1890 to the commencement of the monsoon, and again from the end of the monsoon to the 31st March 1891:—

	Wun district.	Basim district.	Total.
Izara villages	51	3	54
Khalsa	21	65	86
Jagir	3	...	3
	75	68	143

Of the Wun villages, 16 had been measured in 1889-90, and the valuation of soils only had to be completed, and of the remaining 59, which were measured this year, the classing work of 12 still remained to be done on the 31st March 1891. Of the Basim villages, 35 had still to be classed on 31st March 1891.

The quantity of work done during the field season, as compared with the previous year, is given below:—

Nature of work.	1889-90.			1890-91.
	Number of fields.	Area.		Number of fields.	Area.
		Acres.	Guntas.		Acres.	Guntas.
Measuring with cross staff and chain...	3,071	85,847	17	2,945	74,803	28
Do theodolite ...	...	15,901	12	...	3,412	...
Area worked out with scale from maps.	...	6,003	9	...	35,034	21
Classing	3,116	77,523	11	2,312	57,577	17
Boundary-mark inspection ...	796	...	...	3,359	...	...

The decrease of 84 fields (about 20,000 acres) in classing was due chiefly to the classers being given measuring work to do for some time after the commencement of the cold weather as there was very little classing work and there were more classers than measurers. The average day's work done by each classer was slightly better than that of last year—173 acres 7 guntas against 172 acres 19 guntas.

There was also a falling-off to the extent of 126 fields or 11,000 acres in point of area in the measurement work with cross staff and chain. This was due to the fact of the average size of the fields being smaller and to the circumstance that, whereas the izara villages dealt with in 1889-90 were contiguous, and the work to be done in each compact and sufficient in quantity to occupy the men's whole time, the khalsa lands in the Pusad taluk were scattered, the ground hilly and covered with jungle, and the measurers had to prospect for the culturable areas. Many villages yielded only a few fields fit for survey, some none. Other difficulties of a similar character, including also fewer men on duty and unfavourable weather, operated to impede work. The result is that although work in the field commenced earlier than in 1889-90, only 1,318 days were spent in measurement against 1,399 in that year, and the average outturn of work per diem with cross staff was 56 acres 29 guntas instead of 61 acres 13 guntas.*

There was an increase in boundary mark inspection of 2,563 fields, and the day's work averaged 13¾ fields against 11½ in the preceding year.

During the rains 2,874 fields, measuring 73,085 acres, were assessed and mapped.

The akarbands, in duplicate, and the classing registers of 68 villages were re-written, the new fields being entered in them. In 84 villages the maps were entirely re-drawn, and in 125 the maps were completed; great pains were taken to ensure accurate calculation of areas and assessment, and the Survey and Settlement Officer personally tested a very large proportion of the figures for culturable fields.

The total work done and the total expenditure in the year under report and in the previous year are compared in the following statement:—

District.	Measured fields.	Acres.	Guntas.	Classed fields.	Acres.	Guntas.	Total expenditure.
	1889-90.						Rs. a. p.

* The figures given in last year's report are 58 acres 30 guntas; the corrected figures are 61 acres 13 guntas.

The figures for the year under report include the salaries of Mr. Hare and Captain Garrett as Director and Assistant Director of Land Records and Agriculture.

SECTION II.

Of these villages, 318 in Wun and 57 in Basim are held under the waste land rules of 1865.

SECTIONS III and IV.

Wards and Government Estates.

8. There are no wards or Government estates in the province.

CHAPTER III.

PROTECTION.

SECTION I.

Course of Legislation.

9. The following Acts of the Governor-General in Council were, subject to certain modifications, made applicable to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the year 1890 :—

Act XVIII of 1886 and Act XX of 1886 (amending Act XXXVI of 1858, relating to Lunatic Asylums).

Act II of 1889 (The Measurement of Length Act, 1889).

Act X of 1890 amending Act XXV of 1867 (an Act for the regulation of printing presses and newspapers, for the preservation of copies of books printed in British India and for the registration of such books).

The following rules were issued by the Governor-General in Council :—

1. Rules made under sections 25, 27 and 33 of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Law of 1888.

SECTION II.

Police.

Strength.

10. With the exception of a reduction of five mounted constables and an increase of 16 in the number of foot constables, no alterations were made in the strength of the force which stood at 542 officers (including one Inspector-General, six District Superintendents and two Assistants) and 2,279 men. The proportion of police to area was 1 to every 6·2 square miles, and to population 1 to every 946 persons.

Composition and health of the force.

11. The total number of deaths recorded was 37 against 50 in the previous year, and the death-rate fell from 1·7 to 1·3. Omitting vacancies, of which there were 58 at the close of the year, the details of the force according to race or caste and religion were as follows :—

	Officers.	Men.
Christians	18	7
Muhammadans	194	919

Conduct and discipline.

12. The conduct and discipline of the force during the year are shown by the following figures of rewards and punishments:—

13. The total number of men who left the force from all causes was 357 against 344 in the previous year; of these 63 retired on pension or gratuity, 165 resigned, 63 were dismissed, 24 discharged, 5 deserted and 37 died. As regards service, there were, exclusive of 352 recruits, 1,319 men with service ranging from one to ten years and 1,083 with service of ten years and upwards.

Equipment.

14. The question of the re-armament of the force, referred to in paragraph 13 of last year's Administration Report, with snider rifles has since been finally settled by the adoption of breech-loading smooth-bore sniders instead of muzzle-loading smooth-bore weapons, and these will be issued to the police in future. Meanwhile, 300 of these weapons with bayonets and scabbards to match are under issue for the use of the reserves in the six districts of Berar. Excluding gazetted officers the number of men provided with fire-arms was 1,358; with swords only or swords and batons 457; and with batons only 997.

State of crime.

15. The total number of cases of cognizable crime reported during the year was 8,236, of which 165 were rejected as false, leaving a total of 8,071 cases investigated including petty nuisance cases. The following statement gives the offences of the year under report compared with the previous year:—

Heinous crime.

16. Murders decreased from 29 to 27, but dakaities rose from 10 to 23, the increase being in the Wun and Basim districts. The dakaities in the Wun district were the work of ordinary local men and had no special features; but in the Basim district the worst cases were committed by gangs of dakaits from His Highness the Nizam's territory. Measures have been taken to establish a line of protective posts along the border, and an officer has been deputed by His Highness the Nizam's Government to act in concert with the District Superintendent of Police at Basim with a view to the capture of the gangs. During the year, Tantia Bhil and his lieutenant Bondria were both disposed of by the Central Provinces and Indore Police. The Melghat, which was the scene of their operations in Berar, has thus been relieved from the apprehension of periodical raids from their gangs, and the special precautions which since 1882 it has been found necessary to take in that direction have consequently been relaxed. Robberies rose from 45 to 52. House-breakings decreased from 906 to 885, and thefts from 2,347 to 2,199.

21 of First Class Magistrates.
19 of Second Class Magistrates.
8 of Third Class Magistrates.

72 Total.

Amount of crime.

23. The following table shows the number of offences reported during the past two years and the manner of their disposal:—

Years.	Offences reported.	Cases dismissed under section 203, Criminal Procedure Code.		Cases struck off as false.		Cases returned as true.		Cases brought to trial.
		No.	Percent.	No.	Percent.	No.	Percent.	No.	Percent.
1889	19,101	3,794	19·9	746	3·9	14,561	76·2	12,526	65·6
1890	18,088	3,209	17·7	800	4·4	14,079	77·8	12,004	66·3

There was a net decrease of 1,013 or 5·3 per cent. in the number of new offences, of 585 in cases dismissed under section 203, Criminal Procedure Code, of 482 in cases returned as true, and of 522 in cases brought to trial, while cases struck off as false increased by 54.

The following is an abstract comparing the offences in each class with the number for the preceding year :—

Total ...	13,307	13,136	171	...
Grand Total ...	14,079	14,561	...	482

Offences under the head "Contempts of the lawful authority of servants" fell off by 139. The decrease occurred chiefly in Ellichpur district, and was due to the fact that in the previous year there was an abnormal series of prosecutions in Ellichpur city and Dawurwada under section 188 of the Indian Penal Code for disobedience of orders connected with sanitation. The large decrease under offences relating to public health, &c., was due to the deterrent effect of the large number of convictions obtained in the previous year. The increase under offences against the human body was made up chiefly of wrongful restraints and simple hurts, which account for 340 cases out of the increase of 343 under this head. Offences under special and local laws decreased from 4,618 to 4,408. The decrease occurred mainly in offences under the Police Act.

Persons brought to trial.

24. The total number of persons under trial during the year, including the number pending at the close of last year, was 21,182 as compared with 21,072 in 1889. Of these, 20,963, or 99 per cent., were disposed of as under :—

With the exception of two cases in which the prosecution failed, the trials were held with the aid of assessors. Out of the 32 cases disposed of, the court agreed with the assessors in 18, and differed from one or both in 12 cases. The average duration of sessions trials for the province, reckoned from the date of commitment to date of final order, was 39·4 or 20·6 days less than in 1889.

34. Including cases pending from the previous year, the total number of appeals for disposal by Deputy Commissioners was 362 against 379 in the previous year. The decrease is due to the reduction in the amount of petty crime brought about by favorable seasons, cheap food, and a good labour demand.

The dyeing of police uniform was successfully introduced in the Amraoti jail and saved the trouble and expense of sending the material to Bombay to be dyed, as was formerly the case. SECTION VI.

Registration.

64. There was no alteration in the number of offices opened for registration business during the year, nor was any change made in their status. Number of offices.

65. The total number of registrations fell from 31,766 in 1889-90 to 28,289 during the year under report. The decrease was due in some measure to the employment of registering officers on census work. The following table compares the figures for the past four years :— Registration work.

Year.	Compulsory.	Optional.		Wills, &c.,	Total registrations.
		Immoveable.	Moveable.
1887-88	18,089	6,152	1,962	87	26,290

1890-91	21,519	4,812	1,845	113	28,289

The aggregate value of the property transferred rose from Rs. 77,05,063 to Rs. 77,58,336, and the average value of each document from Rs. 243 to Rs. 275. The general results for the past two years are shown below :—

Refusals to register fell from 235 to 203.

Financial results.

66. The total receipts for the year fell from Rs. 70,866 to Rs. 68,001, the expenditure from Rs. 39,824 to Rs. 39,745, and the net surplus from Rs. 31,042 to Rs. 28,257. The total accumulated surplus at the close of the year was Rs. 3,08,026 against Rs. 2,79,769 at the close of 1889-90. With the exception of one sub-registrar's office all worked at a profit.

SECTION VII.

Municipalities.

Number of municipalities and their constitution.

67. The number of municipalities was the same as in the previous year, viz., 8. All were administered under the Berar Municipal Law of 1886. The following figures show the constitution of the municipal committees :—

Income and expenditure.

68. The total income of the year fell from Rs. 2,05,698 to Rs. 1,83,002. The total expenditure rose from Rs. 1,64,851 to Rs. 1,73,773. In consequence of the adoption of revised forms in the appendices of the municipal report showing the receipts and expenditure of the several municipalities, the latter figures do not include items under the head of debt which were added heretofore to the total expenditure. The general financial results of the year are compared with those of the previous year in the following statement :—

The expenditure of all the municipalities on works of public safety, health, and convenience and on conservancy during the year is shown in the following table. No comparison is made with the figures of the previous year in consequence of changes which have been made in the form of the appendices attached to the municipal report.

There is a discrepancy of Rs. 4,027 in the grand total for the province, which is apparently due to the omission under the head of debt of Rs. 4,000 against Akola and Rs. 27 against Ellichpur. The omission is not explained in the municipal report.

SECTION VIII.

Local Boards.

Constitution.

69. The Berar Rural Boards Law is in force in five out of the six districts in the province, namely, in Amraoti, Akola, Ellichpur, Buldana, and Basim; but, as has been explained in paragraph 67 of last year's Administration Report, certain areas in these districts are excepted from the operation of the law. The district boards were actually established late in the year 1889-90, but the remaining months of that year were taken up with preliminary arrangements, and the year 1890-91 is the first complete year for which an account of the working of the scheme of local self-government in Berar can be given. There are five district boards and seventeen taluk boards in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts. Out of a total number of 306 members of taluk boards 102 are nominated and 204 elected; and of 128 members of district boards, 32 are nominated and 96 elected. The Berar Rural Boards Law does not permit the appointment of ex-officio members, and consequently there are no such members; but 22 members of taluk boards and 18 of district boards are officials. The district boards are required to hold not less than six meetings, and the taluk boards not less than twelve meetings, in the year. All the district boards complied with this regulation, but eight taluk boards met* less than the required number of times. No taluk boards, however, held less than nine meetings. The average number of members who attended each meeting of taluk boards was :—officials 0·70 ; non-officials 9·42 ; and the number of those who attended each meeting of district boards was :—officials 1·82 and non-officials 9·99, giving a total average attendance of 10·12 at each taluk board's meeting, and of 11·81 at each district board's meeting. The percentage of attendance at each meeting of taluk boards was 56·22, and at each meeting of district boards 48·71.

Incom and expenditure

70. The main sources of income included in the district fund at the disposal of each district board comprise, first, the actual balances standing at the credit of the several local funds on the date on which each board came into existence, and, secondly, the surplus income or net proceeds, as the case may be, of the jaglia and local cess, of the town fund assessment, and of the bazaar cess levied within the areas subject to the district board, the entire proceeds of the education cess and of the road cess, and the surplus of the pound fund, &c. The income from every one of these sources has, however, not yet been formally assigned to the district boards; the road cess has been retained as a provincial fund during the year of report, but has been made over from the 1st April 1891. And in respect to the education cess, rules for the control and administration of expenditure from it are under consideration. The district boards do not collect the income which goes to make up the district fund; the amounts payable to the board under each head are placed at its disposal by the Deputy Commissioner of the district. The total income of the year including opening balance was Rs. 5,57,265, of which sum Rs. 2,79,779 was expended, as under :—

	Rs.
Post office	7,179
Administration	14,580
Education	79,009
Medical	6,789
Scientific and other minor departments. ...	7,720
Superannuation and pension allowances ...	3,037
Miscellaneous	608
Public works	1,59,321
Contribution	919
Debt	617
Total Rs.	2,79,779

The balance remaining at the close of the year was Rs. 2,77,486.

* Some of the taluk boards were not organised until after the commencement of the year.

Working of the boards.

71. The members of all the district boards as a body have shown a commendable degree of interest in their duties, but they are new to the work, and the provisions of the Rural Boards Law and the rules made under it, particularly with reference to finance and to the system of accounts by which the proceedings of the boards are regulated, are not a little complicated and are not yet fully understood. They are under revision, and will be much simplified and also be brought into closer accordance with the actual provisions of the Rural Boards Law.

SECTION IX.

Military.

72. The strength of the military force furnished by the Hyderabad Contingent stationed in the province was 129 Artillery and 958 Infantry, and it was distributed as follows :—

CHAPTER IV.

SECTION I.

Agriculture.

Area of the province.

73. Owing to corrected measurements made by the Survey Department, the total area of the province shows an increase of 279 acres for the year under report. The distribution of the total area, exclusive of the Melghat, is shown below and compared with the figures of the previous year:—

	1889-90.	1890-91	Difference.
1. Number of villages	6,677	6,677	...
2. Total area in acres	10,283,991	10,284,270	+ 279
3. Area not included in any survey numbers, such as village sites, tanks, rivers, &c.	201,055	201,190	+ 135
4. Area demarcated as State forests	287,575	335,928	+ 48,353
5. Do. babul bans	15,616	15,622	+ 6

10. Uncultivable lands not included in any of the foregoing	742,144	695,564	— 46,580
11. Balance assessed and available for occupation ...	8,024,654	8,032,857	+ 8,203
12. Occupied	7,601,387	7,621,546	+ 20,159
13. Not occupied	423,267	411,311	— 11,956

There was no change in the total number of villages in the province, which stood at 6,677; but 15 villages leased under the waste land rules were resumed. Of these 10 were added to the list of khalsa villages and five included in demarcated forests. Of the total area occupied 6,955,737 acres are situate in khalsa villages, being a net increase of 5,451 acres compared with the figures of 1889-90.

Department of Land Records and Agriculture.

74. The opportunity of the departure on furlough and subsequent retirement of Mr. Hobson, the Permanent Survey and Settlement officer, was taken to arrange a definite scheme of proceedings to embrace the settlement operations of all kinds pending in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts. These comprise—

I. The revision between the years 1892 and 1908 of the thirty years' ryotwari settlement in the whole of Berar (except the Melghat and excluding also the lands comprised under heads II and III), about 12,000 square miles.

II. The survey and settlement of the "izaradar" or zamindari villages in the Basim and Wun districts, about 650 square miles between the present date and 1901.

III. The survey and assessment of the waste lands which are being taken up yearly for cultivation and of the jagir and palumpat villages in the Wun and Basim districts.

IV. The initial settlement of the Melghat, about 400 square miles.

The total area to be dealt with is shown to be about 13,000 square miles and in order to cope with this particular work and also to provide for permanent and continuous supervision over local land record establishments and over agricultural and commercial statistics, it was decided to establish in Berar a permanent Department of Land Records and Agriculture under a Director. For the settlement work in particular the Director has been given an Assistant Director and a professional Survey Officer, whose appointments, however, are only of a temporary character. The Secretary of State sanctioned this scheme in his despatch No. 52, Revenue, dated 3rd July 1890. Mr. R. D. Hare was gazetted to the appointment of Director on 23rd July 1890, and Captain Garrett to that of Assistant Director on 5th February 1891. The professional Survey Officer had not been selected when the year closed, and the organization of the new department is not yet complete. A good deal of preliminary work, involving consideration of some intricate questions, has however been accomplished. The instructions of the Government of India have been received as to the method in which the settlement of izara villages held on proprietary title under the waste land rules of 1865 should be conducted. There now remains the further question whether the thirty years' settlement with these izaradars should run from date of expiry of each ante-settlement lease, or whether it should be made contemporaneous with the revised settlement of the taluk in which the villages in question may be situate. Orders have also been issued by the Resident in respect to the liability which attaches to izaradars holding under the several waste land rules in respect to boundary-marks, and the principles on which the forest and grazing rights which these persons may possess should be regulated, are under discussion. Correspondence also is proceeding in respect to the detailed steps to be taken for the revision of the general ryotwari settlement of the province, which is the most important business before the new department, and special statistics are being collected to illustrate the productive power of the soil and the actual letting value of land. In short, although the results of the work done are not susceptible of being shown in a tabular form, the year has been a very busy one in regard to questions relating to land, and the ground has been cleared in various ways for the coming year.

Cultivated area.

75. The total area assessed and available for occupation rose from 8,024,654 to 8,032,857 acres, showing a net increase of 8,203 acres. The area under occupation aggregated 7,621,546 acres and the area not occupied 411,311 acres. The former shows a net increase of 20,159 acres and the latter a net diminution of 11,956 acres. Owing to transfers to State forest in Akola and Basim and certain other changes the area of unculturable land decreased by 46,580. The total area under kharif and rabi rose from 5,110,854 to 5,116,522 and 1,478,587 to 1,561,017 acres respectively, but that under miscellaneous fell from 20,586 to 19,742 acres.

Crops cultivated.

76. The five principal crops in Berar are cotton, jowari, wheat, gram and linseed. In the year under report the proportion of land cultivated with cotton was 37·4, with jowari 33·01, with wheat 12·5, with linseed 4·9 and with gram 3·4. The cultivation of cotton and jowari during the last two years has increased to the detriment of wheat. The acreage under each of the principal kinds of crops for the past two years is shown in the following table :—

	1889-90.		1890-91.

Irrigation.

77. The area under irrigation continues to steadily decrease, owing to the preference given by agriculturists in Berar to the cultivation of dry crops which give them ample returns. During the year under report the total area devoted to irrigation fell from 40,461 to 38,846 acres, and at the same time the unirrigated area under rice fell from 20,084 to 18,874 acres.

SECTION II.

Weather and Crops.

Rainfall.

78. The average rainfall of the year for the whole province was 40·26 inches. It was 1·45 inches less than the quinquennial average and 2·13 inches greater than the rainfall of the previous year. The average fall during the winter months from November to March was 3·70 inches, while there was practically no rain at all during the corresponding period of the previous year.

Effect of the rainfal.

79. On the whole the rainfall was seasonable and sufficient, with the result that the crops at both harvests were about normal. In the Ellichpur district the rabi crop was exceptionally good.

Prices of produce and labour.

80. While the average prices of wheat, gram and rice were slightly higher than in the previous year, the prices of jowari fell in every district except Basim, where, owing probably to the large exports, the price of all food-grains was higher than it was in 1889-90. This district is connected by a metal road with Akola on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway, and the large trade demand of that place doubtless operated to attract produce of all kinds. The fall in the prices of jowari in the other districts is explained by the fact that this grain is grown only for local consumption and is not exported, and that three good harvests in succession naturally tended to lower the prices. Wages of labour remained stationary in the districts of Akola, Ellichpur, Buldana and Basim. The rate of hire for camels, donkeys and bullocks increased in the Amraoti district, and unskilled labour rose from 3 to 4 annas in the Wun district.

Agricultural stock.

81. The following statement shows the agricultural stock for the past two years, but the particulars are furnished by patwaris and are not susceptible of check. The increase in the number of carts was probably due to the ever growing demand for the carriage of produce and fuel to the centres of local trade. The increase of ploughs was due principally to the Deputy Commissioner, Amraoti, having included a small plough called "wakkar" omitted from previous returns.

	1889-90.	1890-91.
Cows and bullocks ...	1,741,646	1,830,282
Buffaloes	327,456	332,782.
Sheep and goats ...	478,618	494,035
Carts	117,123	122,340
Ploughs	120,944	125,925

Veterinary.

82. The appointment of the Veterinary Superintendent in Berar to the Bacteriological Laboratory at Poona in August 1890 has necessitated the temporary closure of the Veterinary Department. The current local work is being attended to by the Deputy Commissioner of Amraoti, the veterinary work being supervised by a young Assistant Commissioner, who has taken an interest in the charge. The requirements of Berar have, however, been provided for in the general scheme of Civil Veterinary Departments for the whole of India. The plan of sending students with Berar scholarships to be trained in the Veterinary College at Bombay for the post of Veterinary Assistant has been only partially successful. Of the six students in training, three up to May 1890 passed the final examination; but none of the remaining three, whose period of scholarships was extended for the purpose, succeeded in passing at the last examination. It is therefore in contemplation to act upon a suggestion made by the Government of India to select for these posts successful graduates who are willing to undergo the college course. The total number of deaths from cattle-disease during the year under report was 17,060 against 18,391 in the previous year. The figures are believed to be unreliable owing to there having been no regular system of registration. The disease was most severe in Wun and Akola, in which two districts alone there were 12,597 deaths.

Horse-breeding.

83. The total number of mares covered by the Government stallions was 121 against 142 in the previous year. The decrease was due to bad returns from Ellichpur and Wun, and to the illness of the stallion lent by His Highness the Nizam's Government, which had subsequently to be destroyed.

Horse and cattle show.

84. The provincial horse and cattle show was abandoned as a failure, and the amount of Rs. 500, which was allotted for prizes, was made over to the Deputy Commissioner, Wun, for distribution at the cattle fair held in that district.

Land improvement Act.

85. Advances under the Land Improvement Act were again made in four districts only. The total amount advanced rose from Rs. 6,550 to Rs. 15,420. It is in contemplation to extend the provisions of the Land Improvement Loans Act (XII of 1884) to the province.

SECTION III.

Arboriculture.

86. During the year 16 nurseries were maintained against 19 in the previous year. The following statement shows the results for the past three years :—

SECTION IV.

Forests.

Staff.

87. During the year a sixth Sub-Assistant Conservatorship was sanctioned by the Government of India, and one of the two Assistant Conservators appointed by Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, for the combined Central Provinces-Berar-Coorg list, joined his appointment in Berar shortly before the close of the year. The total strength of the staff at the close of the year was therefore one Conservator, three Deputy and Assistant Conservators, and six Sub-Assistant Conservators. One of the Deputy Conservators was, however, an officer belonging to the Central Provinces list, who had been serving in Berar for some time previously, and who returned to his own province after the close of the year under report.

Forest area.

88. There was a net decrease of 30 square miles in the area of forest lands in Berar. The distribution of this area is shown in the following statement:—

Classes of forest.	Area in square miles.				Percentage of forest area to area of province.
	Area on 1st April 1890.	Added during the year.	Excluded or transferred to other classes.	Area on 31st March 1891.

District Reserved Forests ...	1,012	...	...	1,012	5·7
District Unreserved Forests ...	2,243	144	251	2,136	12·0
Total ...	4,314	221	251	4,284	24·1

Boundaries.

89. The boundaries of all the old demarcated State-forests were cleared and the boundary marks repaired where needed. The Mohoja reserve in Basim was demarcated at a cost of Rs. 189. The additions to the Kinwat State-forest was not regularly demarcated, but a line was cleared and burnt along its boundary which is marked by settlement boundary marks. The demarcation of the Borgaon and Ambabarwa reserves in Akola remained to be carried out. In district and unreserved forests, 14,324 boundary marks were repaired at a total cost of Rs. 1,032. A good deal of this work was performed in the previous year, but charged in the accounts of the year under report. The work was stopped during the year pending the legal constitution of the different forests under the Berar Forest Law; but will now be resumed systematically. The proposed new reserves in Wun were demarcated at a cost of Rs. 96.

Prosecutions.

90. Excluding the cases pending from the previous year, the number of prosecutions for breaches of forest rules rose from 381 to 416. The number of cases disposed of during the year was 393 against 383 in the previous year. These involved 768 persons, of whom 587 were convicted and 181 acquitted.

Fire conservancy.

91. The following statement compares the results of fire protection for the past two years:—

Berar Forest Law.

92. The new Berar Forest Law had not come into force when the year closed. The old order of classification was therefore still adhered to.

Working plans.

93. The outline of a working plan for the Bairagarh reserve was drawn up by the late Conservator based on improvement fellings, and approved by the Inspector-General of Forests. The work of drawing up a detailed descriptive account, compartment by compartment, was being proceeded with when the year closed. Working plans for the Penganga and Medsi reserves in Basim and the Pathrot forest in Wun have been prepared and are under discussion. A rough scheme for working the grazing lands of the Darwha taluk has also been drawn up, as well as a scheme for working the Amraoti hills forests. In addition to these, working plans for the babul bans in the Akola district and the question of working the teak coppice forests in Akola, Buldana and Basim are under consideration.

Grazing

94. No grazing was permitted in any of the demarcated State-forests except in those of the Buldana district, where it was allowed owing to the paucity of other grazing land in that district. The revenue realized on cattle grazed in the district and unreserved forests fell from Rs. 1,64,591 to Rs. 1,61,560, and in the demarcated State-forests from Rs. 4,701 to Rs. 3,957.

Natural reproduction.

95. The account given by the Conservator of natural reproduction is on the whole encouraging. The backwardness in the South Berar forests is said to be due in a great measure to the want of complete fire protection. In places where this had been ensured for a number of years reproduction was generally found, and the Conservator thinks there is reason to hope that every year of fire protection will show an improvement in this respect. In the Melghat reserves reproduction is on the whole in a satisfactory state of advancement, although in the eastern portions creepers are said to be doing much damage both to the growing stock and by hampering reproduction.

Cultural operations.

96. The area under cultural operations was 3,666 acres against 2,381 in the previous year. During the year 1,905 acres were added and 620 excluded. The largest additions occurred in the Ellichpur district, and were due to the re-entry on the register of certain teak plantations which were struck off in the previous year. The teak plantations in the Sipna valley, which were inspected by the Conservator, are reported to be in a great measure successful. The cultural operations in other demarcated State forests are, however, said to have been failures. A bamboo nursery formed in the Chirodi reserve in Amraoti is reported to be doing well; but as a matter of fact little result has been obtained from the cultural operations undertaken in the reserves outside the Melghat.

Communications.

97. In the Melghat 11 new miles of road were completed by departmental agency, viz., the Rangobeli-Chopan road, 9 miles, and two miles of the Kund-Sakri road, in addition to which two other miles of the latter were partially constructed. The total cost of new works was Rs. 6,164, of which the Rangobeli-Chopan road cost Rs. 3,971 or Rs. 441 per mile. It is under contemplation also to construct a road from Chikalda to Sakri in order to afford a short route for the export of bamboos from the north eastern portion of Gugamal to Ellichpur, and one from Dasipati near Kolkaz to Malur to open up the south-western side of the Bairagarh forest. During the year the Public Works Department road from Akote to Selu was opened up to Bekkund, 30 miles from Akote. The approximate cost of this work up to the close of the year was Rs. 4,19,000.

Yield and working.

98. No timber was removed by Government agency. The following figures show the revenue realized from each class of forest produce for the past two years :—

SECTION V.

Mines and Quarries.

100. There is nothing to record under this head.

SECTION VI.

Manufactures.

101. The manufactures of the province are confined to yarn, cotton cloth and petty unskilled handicrafts. Silk weaving is carried on at Kholapur in the Amraoti district where pitambars are prepared and edgings of silk to native cloths are made in some places. Cotton carpets are woven at Akot and Ellichpur; saries, turbans, khadies, and blankets are manufactured in several parts of the province; khadies of different textures have lately begun to be made at Ellichpur. Nut-crackers are made at Deulghat in the Buldana district. The Budnera spinning mill produced during the year 990,995 lbs. of twist and yarn valued at Rs. 4,02,591 against 1,037,682 in the preceding year, showing a decrease of 46,687 lbs. The number of persons employed in this and the weaving mill during the year was 820 as compared with 755 in the preceding year. The twist and yarn produced were sent to Bombay, Nagpur and other places in the Central Provinces and Berar. The quantity of cloth produced during the year was 882,019 lbs. valued at Rs 4,13,446 against 765,865 lbs. in the previous year. Besides meeting local wants the produce was exported chiefly to the Bombay Presidency, Central Provinces, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and Hyderabad territory. The oil mill at Amraoti turned out 531 tons of oil and 1,142 tons of oil-cake, while in the preceding year the outturn was 475 and 949 tons respectively. The number of steam cotton presses rose from 24 to 27 during the year under report; but the total number of bales pressed decreased by 740, being 399,310 against 400,050 bales. The number of ginning factories rose from 34 to

Registration.

102. No change occurred in the registration arrangements for the year. The figures for the railway borne traffic have been compiled in the office of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, Bombay. Quarterly returns were continued as usual, and published in the Residency Orders.

Estimated outturn of crops.

103. The following table shows the area sown under the different kinds of crops, the estimated outturn per acre, and the total estimated outturn of the year as compared with the results of the previous year. The figures are approximate:—

Total trade.

104. The total traffic taking imports and exports together increased by 5,10,039 maunds, and increased in value by Rs. 1,56,500. The increase in weight is fairly evenly distributed between the imports and exports. This increase represents for imports 6·6 per cent. in weight and 10 per cent. in value, while the exports increased by 8 per cent. in weight and fell off by 4 per cent. in value. This was chiefly due to a fall in the prices of cotton and oil seeds. The total traffic of the year as compared with that of the previous year is shown in the following statement:—

	Weight in maunds.			Value in rupees.

Imports.

105. The demand for coal and coke almost kept up with that of the previous year, which showed a large increase over that of 1888-89; it is a good deal used in the mills, cotton presses, and ginning factories, and is nearly all imported from the Central Provinces. The amount of grain imported increased by 73,729 maunds divided equally between rice and gram from the Central Provinces. The amount of rice imported similarly to last year represents nearly four-fifths of the whole, being 445,723 maunds. There was an increase in the total quantity of metals imported of 12,740 maunds, but the value has fallen off by 95,062 rupees; this is accounted for by a fall in the imports of the most valuable articles, wrought copper and wrought brass, which also did not maintain the prices of the previous year. The increase in oils amounts to 15,020 maunds. Kerosine oil represents 120,095 of the whole total of 156,300 maunds; nearly the whole of it is imported from Bombay Port. The traffic in salt rose from 393,496 to 415,044 maunds, and shows an increase in value of over 7 per cent. The traffic in sugar increased largely in the previous year, and shows a further increase of 56,185 maunds in the year under report; the value also rose by 47 per cent. Refined sugar represents 28 per cent. of the whole amount. The principal items in the import traffic are shown in the following table and compared with those of the two preceding years:—

There has been a slight decrease in raw cotton of 7,389 maunds in the amount exported, but the value has diminished by more than 32 lakhs of rupees. The fall in the value of cotton was due to the large crop and low prices in America and the full crop in Berar last year and a good one the year before. The exports in manufactured cotton increased 25 per cent. The Badnera mill turned out 12,387 maunds of twist and yarn, of which 10,771 maunds were exported to the Central Provinces. The export in dyes and tans has been steadily decreasing and is less than a third of what it was in the previous year; this is almost entirely due to the falling-off in the trade of myrabolams, of which 10,568 maunds were exported in 1889-90 to 718 maunds this year. The Melghat produces these, but they have not been gathered, the people finding more remunerative labour in cutting bamboos. The increase in the export of oil seeds was very large, amounting to 326,388 maunds in weight and 10,70,771 rupees in value or 49 and 42 per cent. respectively. The increase occurred chiefly in linseed which rose from 630,356 to 933,626 maunds. The export in til also more than doubled the figure of the previous year, viz., 45,307 against 21,287 maunds.

The grant of Rs. 11,18,000 was made up as follows:—

	Rs.
(a) From provincial revenues	11,10,750
(b) From the jaglia cess	7,250
Total ...	11,18,000

The grand total of expenditure from the provincial and grant-in-aid from the old jaglia cess allotment was Rs. 11,12,043, which amount included a suspense balance of Rs. 4,360, thus showing a saving of Rs. 5,957. There was an unappropriated balance of Rs. 2,553 belonging to the jaglia cess; and if this amount is deducted from the above short outlay of Rs. 5,957, the net lapse on the grant from provincial revenues was only Rs. 3,404, or 0·3 per cent, which is chiefly due to the following causes, viz. :—

	Rs.
1. Short expenditure on English stores	1,748
2. Savings under other heads	1,656
Total ...	3,404

The reductions on the percentages of grant lapsed and establishment charges are satisfactory.

IV.—Communications.

Roads and bridges in progress or completed.

The Gugamal Forest road, 36¾ miles long, was completed, with the exception of the bridging, which is three-fifths finished. The road will probably be entirely completed during 1891-92. The cost of the road was estimated at Rs. 4,81,486; the expenditure incurred up to the close of the year was Rs. 4,19,456; and the amount expended during the year was Rs. 80,986.

Other works under this head completed or in progress, which were not provided for in the budget of the year, are stone-metalling the Amraoti main station road; dismantling and re-building the arches of bridge No. 39 on the 7th mile of Amraoti-Morsi road; constructing a road from Burroor to the Warda river; stone-metalling the Khamgaon-Umrapur road; a bridge across the Jawarkhand nulla on the 25th mile of the Ellichpur-Pili road; improving causeways on the Yeotmal-Wun and Oomri-Panderkowra roads; and stone-metalling the Akola-Akot road. 120. During the year 853 miles of road, bridged and metalled, which feed about 150 miles of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway, were kept in good repair at a cost of Rs. 3,72,226, or about Rs. 436·37 per mile. In addition to the above four miles of road were constructed, thus making a total of 857 miles. All these roads are in charge of the Provincial Public Works Department. The benefit of these roads as feeders to the Great Indian Peninsula Railway can hardly be over-estimated. In 1874, when only 202 miles were in existence, the railway receipts from stations in Berar amounted only to Rs. 37,09,935, whereas they rose to Rs. 74,24,090 in 1886-87, a year of great traffic in wheat, and were Rs. 64,05,326 in 1889-90. Repairs.

The roads in charge of the Local Fund Public Works Department are, for the most part, unmetalled fair-weather roads and are therefore not included in the above figures. The average cost of making roads in Berar, excluding the Gugamal forest and Nandura-Motala roads, which are not yet completed, is Rs. 7,232 per mile, whilst the cost of maintaining them is Rs. 436·37 a mile. The gross dues collected by the Forest Department on the Ellichpur-Pili road in 1890-91 amounted to Rs. 55,402 and, after deducting Rs. 4,500 for maintenance charges by the Public Works Department, the net receipts came to Rs. 50,902. The policy of metalling the most important roads with broken stone was continued, and 50 miles were metalled up to March 1890 and 11 added during 1890-91 at an average cost of Rs. 1,225 per mile. The total length of the Public Works Department roads in Berar is 857 miles, and their capital cost, excluding those roads in progress, is Rs. 57,66,481.

V.—Miscellaneous Public Improvements.

Miscellaneous Public Improvements

121. The Bheer dam at Chikalda, which answers its purpose admirably, was completed at a cost of Rs. 27,975 against a sanctioned estimate of Rs. 28,655; of this sum Rs. 14,328 are debitable to old jaglia cess of the Ellichpur district. The scheme for the water-supply at Buldana was in progress, and was four-fifths completed. The civil station and town of Buldana suffer during a great part of the year from a scarcity of wholesome drinking water, and this project will supply the long-felt want. A revised estimate is under consideration. The expenditure of the year was Rs. 42,495, and the total up to 31st March 1891 was Rs. 60,266 against an estimate of Rs. 60,714, of which sum Rs. 33,370 are debitable to jaglia cess of the Buldana district. Other works under this head not provided for in the budget of the year which were completed are constructing an anicut at Patoola; extending the waste weir of the tank at Januna, and constructing a river dam at Sendurjana. These were estimated at Rs. 15,910, but were completed at a cost of Rs. 15,101. Part of the cost is debitable to the jaglia cess and municipal and town funds. Certain minor works estimated at Rs. 1,762 were also completed during the year, at a cost of Rs. 1,460.

124. The total outlay on account of establishment amounted to Rs. 2,17,777, the lowest gross expenditure under this head since 1882-83, and Rs. 25,555 less than last year, or 25·2 per cent. of the actual expenditure on works under provincial services, including that undertaken by the Public Works Department from the one per cent. cess.

The lapses of grants, especially in the incorporated funds, are excessive.

IX.—Miscellaneous.

Contribution works.

126. Additions to be made to the dispensary at Hyderabad were in progress. A sum of Rs. 3,679 was expended during the year against an estimate of Rs. 9,445. The cost is, however, debitable to the Abkari and Residency Bazaar Funds.

Main drain, Secunderabad.

127. The drainage scheme for diverting the sewage of the town of Secunderabad from flowing into the Hussain Saugor Tank, which has proved an unqualified success, was completed during the year under review by Colonel Fox, R. E., Executive Engineer, who designed the project and constructed the works from start to finish.

Water-supply, Secunderabad.

128. The designs for supplying the town of Secunderabad from a tank to be constructed at Jeedimutla, 6 miles north-west of the town, commenced by Colonel Fox, R.E., when the Secunderabad Division was under this Administration, were completed by the Executive Engineer, Head-Quarters Division. The estimated outlay is Rs. 7,08,598, and financial arrangements to meet it are being matured by the Resident.

Akola town water-supply.

129. During the year a scheme to cost about Rs. 5,00,000 for supplying the town of Akola with water was prepared by Mr. Lobb, Executive Engineer, West Berar Division, and was under the consideration of the Resident at the close of the financial year.

Khamgaon State Railway.

130. The receipts during the year on the Khamgaon State Railway amounted to Rs. 55,288, and the expenditure including working charges and maintenance to Rs. 29,196, leaving a net profit of Rs. 26,092, equivalent to 5·32 per cent. on the capital outlay of Rs. 4,90,520, Amraoti State Railway.

131. The receipts during the year on the Amraoti State Railway amounted to Rs. 1,01,502, and the expenditure including working charges and maintenance to Rs. 55,248, leaving a net profit of Rs. 46,254, equivalent to 10·34 per cent. on the capital outlay of Rs. 447,345. The following table shows the financial results from the commencement of operations to the end of 1890, from which it will be seen that on the whole the excess of net receipts on the Amraoti State Railway (one of the most paying lines in India) has been more than sufficient to cover loss on the Khamgaon line; the latter, however, is now earning its interest and something to spare:—

——	Net receipts.	Indirect charges including interest at 4 per cent.	Net charges to State
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Khamgaon Railway	2,77,112	4,19,141	1,42,029
Amraoti Railway	5,56,016	3,64,746	—1,91,270

Irrigation.

132. There were no irrigation works undertaken during the year.

Omitting excluded local funds, items 8 and 19, the surplus of the year under review was Rs. 15,03,236 as compared with a surplus of Rs: 14,64,728 of the previous year.

The year under review is the twelfth in which the system has been in force of assigning a certain percentage of the provincial revenues to the Resident for civil, public works and railway expenditure; the proportion for the first four years was 54 per cent., and thereafter up to 1886-87 52 per cent. This was subsequently reduced to 50 per cent. for a period of five years commencing from the year 1887-88; but as this percentage was found insufficient, the Government of India on the representation of the Resident increased the assignment of revenue from 50 to 51 per cent. with effect from 1889-90 to 1891-92—vide Department of Finance and Commerce Resolution No. 4347, dated 26th August 1889.

The balance at credit of the Resident under the new contract scheme on the 31st March 1891 was Rs. 11,77,931 as shown below :—

The variations under the other heads are due to the fluctuating nature of the items.

The charges for 1890-91 aggregate Rs. 91,86,182 as against Rs. 93,96,842 for the previous year, resulting in a net decrease of Rs. 2,10,660 as shown in the following statement :—

Heads of account.	Rs.	Remarks.
3. Land Revenue	97,396	There has been an increase under this head due to an increased expenditure on account of District Administration and under Allowances to district and village officers. The former calls for no special remarks, and the latter is due to arrear payments to deshmuks and deshpandias.
18. General Administration ...	17,605	The increase is chiefly under Civil Secretariat, and is due to certain arrear adjustments of salary.
19-A. Law and Justice, Courts of Law.	18,555	In 1890-91 the salary of the Civil and Sessions Judge for an entire year has been disbursed, whereas in 1889-90 it was disbursed for only eight months, the appointment having been created in July 1889. This fact and also the creation of two additional Small Cause Courts in 1890-91 (Telhara and Budnera) account for the increased expenditure.

20. Police...	5,787	Chiefly under District Executive Force, due to increase in the cost of clothing to Police force.
24. Medical	7,181	Increase in the cost of Europe medicines and instruments.
20. Scientific and other Minor Departments.	10,711	Chiefly additional expenditure caused by the census.
30. Stationery and Printing ...	16,840	Increase in the cost of stationery obtained from the Superintendent of Stationery, Bombay.

Under the head "Civil Works" the increase of Rs. 78,640 is due partly to larger contributions to the town funds of the surplus of the jaglia and local cess. The expenditure upon works varies each year with reference to the funds available for the execution of public works.

3. Regimental Pay, Allowances and Charges.—Difference, viz., Rs. 16,674, under 3. Regimental Pay, Allowances and Charges is small considering the large amount of charge. The difference is, however, due to the less expenditure under hutting money during 1890-91 owing to troops not having changed stations during that year.

4. Commissariat Establishment.—The decrease of Rs. 42,955 under Commissariat Establishment, Supplies and Services, is as shown below :—

Rs. 29,524 under Commissariat Supplies.
Rs. 13,431 under Commissariat Services.

And is due chiefly to a reduction in the prices of articles of food both for men and cattle. The expenditure under movement of troops and conveyance of clothing has also been reduced during 1890-91.

5. Stud and Remount Establishment.—During 1890-91 a larger number of remounts and bullocks than in the year 1889-90 were purchased with reference to the requirements during the year, hence the increase of Rs. 3,933 under Stud and Remounts.

6. Clothing Establishment.—During 1889-90 the cost of drill khaki for regiments of Infantry, Hyderabad Contingent, and of biennial clothing for the Artillery, Hyderabad Contingent, for the year 1888-89 was adjusted, whereas in 1890-91 the value of drill khaki for Infantry, Hyderabad Contingent, for 1889-90 and compensation for khaki drill for the year 1890-91 was charged, hence the increase of Rs. 5,624 under Clothing.

9. Medical Establishment.—Increase of Rs. 5,967 under 9. Medical Establishment, &c., is in the items of "Followers' Hospital" and "Medical Supplies," and is due to the promotion of a Medical Warrant Officer to a higher grade and to a larger supply of medical stores than in the previous year having been obtained for hospitals, Hyderabad Contingent, under sanction of the Deputy Surgeon General, Hyderabad Contingent.

10. Ordnance Establishment.—The increase of expenditure, viz., Rs. 73,205, under Ordnance Establishment, &c., is chiefly attributable to the new arms (Martini-Henry Rifles) and ammunition supplied to two Infantry regiments, and to the tents purchased for regiments of Infantry, Hyderabad Contingent, the cost of which has been adjusted in the accounts for 1890-91.

14. Miscellaneous Services.—In 1889-90 Rs. 3,07,535 were adjusted on account of the Burma Expedition as against Rs. 7,006 in 1890-91, hence the difference under 14. Miscellaneous Services, Miscellaneous.

17. Retired Officers.—The increase of Rs. 11,814 under 17. Retired Officers is due to the retirement of certain European officers whose proportion of pension has been adjusted in the accounts for 1890-91.

18. Military Pensions.—The excess under 18. Military Pensions is due to a large number of men having been pensioned during 1890-91, as the option of retiring after 21 years' service without medical certificate was granted to men of the Hyderabad Contingent with effect from that year.

CHAPTER VI.

VITAL STATISTICS AND MEDICAL RELIEF.

SECTION I.

Births and Deaths.

System of registration.

139. With the exception of a few minor alterations in rules and forms, no change was introduced in the system or method of registration. The system on the whole works well and efficiently. The success so far obtained has been due to the increasing attention paid to the matter by district officials, and to a more general compliance with the registration rules on the part of village officers.

Births.

140. The total number of births recorded during the year was 111,450 against 103,780 in the previous year, being an increase of 7,670. The proportion of births to population was 42·5 per thousand of population calculated on the census figures of 1881, against 39·6 in the previous year, but on the total population (2,897,491) according to the recent census the proportion was 38·46 per thousand. Of the total live births registered during the year, 57,519 were males and 53,931 females, the proportion of the sexes born being 106·6 males to every 100 females. In districts the birth rate ranged from 40 and 41 per 1,000 in Wun and Ellichpur to 43·7 and 46·9 in Amraoti and Buldana. In towns the mean birth rate was 38·8, while in rural circles it was 43·1. According to season, the largest number of births was as usual registered in the rainy season and the smallest number in the hot weather months.

Still-births.

141. The number of still births registered was 4,484 as compared with 4,386 in the preceding year. Of these 2,612 were males and 1,872 females, or in the proportion of 139 males to every 100 females. The proportion of still to live births was 3·9 per cent.

Deaths.

142. The year under report was a healthy one and comparatively free from epidemic disease. The number of deaths registered from all causes fell from 111,556 to 93,020, or 18,536 less than in the previous year. The death-rate to population was, according to the census figures of 1881, 35·4 per 1,000 against 42·5 in the previous year. According to the figures of the recent census, the death-rate was 32·1. Of the total recorded deaths 49,090 were those of males and 43,930 those of females. The proportion of male deaths to female deaths remained the same as in the preceding year, viz., 111 of the former to 100 of the latter. In districts the death-rate ranged from 40·9 per 1,000 in Buldana to 29·8 in Wun. The month of April was the most unhealthy month of the year, and the month of June the healthiest. The number of deaths recorded during these months was 11,745 and 4,777 respectively. The following figures show the annual rate of mortality per 1,000 of population according to age for the last two years :—

SECTION II.

Immigration and Emigration.

143. Particulars of movements of population are given for two districts only, viz., Akola and Wun. The total number of persons who left these districts and settled in them was 1,644 and 4,359 respectively. The preliminary figures of the late census show an increase of about 80,000 persons in the Wun district as compared with the census of 1881. It is presumed that this increase was due to the influx of new settlers, attracted by the large areas of land brought under cultivation.

SECTION III.

Medical Relief.

Number of hospitals.

144. The total number of dispensaries was the same as in the previous year, namely, 44.

Medical staff.

145. The medical staff employed was the same as in the previous year.

Patients treated.

146. The total number of patients treated rose from 273,212 in 1889 to 277,270 in the year under report. Of the total number treated 3,075 were in-door and 274,195 out-door patients. The average daily number of in-patients was 90·22 and of out-patients 1861·44 against 85·77 and 1884·89 respectively in the previous year. Of the out-patients 227,154 attended personally, and 47,041 were represented through friends. Of the in-patients 2,602 were cured, 82 were relieved, 174 discharged, and 143 died. The average death-rate among in-patients was 4·65 against 5·55 in the previous year. Of the total number of in and out-patients treated 132,410 were men, 43,855 women, and 101,005 children, and the daily average attendance was 948 men, 327 women and 677 children. According to classes 750 of the patients were Europeans, 1,648 Eurasians, 166,042 Hindus, 97,653 Mahomedans, 11,177 of other classes.

Diseases treated.

147. There was a considerable decrease in fevers, skin diseases and diarrhœa. The number treated from cholera fell from 2,703 in 1889 to 68 during the year under report. On the other hand, there was an increase in the number of patients treated for diseases of the eye, ear and digestive and respiratory system. The following statement shows the principal diseases for which relief was sought during the past two years :—

Diseases.	1889.	1890.
Malarious fevers	51,496	32,018
Diseases of the eye	30,430	31,547
Do. skin	24,507	22,458
Ulcers	19,152	18,892
Worms	17,316	17,421
Respiratory system	15,661	16,637
Dyspepsia	9,678	9,727
Diseases of the ear	7,520	8,796
Diarrhœa	10,318	8,321

Operations.

148. There were 142 major and 9,971 minor operations, as compared with 230 and 7,937 respectively in the previous year. The decrease in the number of major operations was due to stricter classification of surgical work.

Income and expenditure.

149. The following figures compare the financial results of the past two years. The difference of Rs. 767-8-8 between the closing balance of 1889 and the opening balance of 1890, is due to correction of errors in the accounts of the former year :—

SECTION IV.

Sanitation.

150 With the exception of the extension of the Amraoti city water-works, which was executed by the Public Works Department, no sanitary works of any importance were carried out in any of the municipalities during the year under report; but attention was paid more or less to sanitary requirements. Out of a total income of Rs. 2,27,232, the sum of Rs. 1,03,183 or 45·4 per cent. was expended on sanitary works. The total district expenditure (excluding municipalities) on works of sanitary improvement was Rs. 1,19,621 against

Rs. 1,02,213 in the preceding year. The following are some of the principal sanitary works executed by the Public Works Department:—

SECTION V.

Vaccination.

Strength and conduct of the staff.

151. The strength of the staff employed in vaccination was the same as in the previous year, namely, 7 native superintendents and 49 vaccinators and apprentices. The conduct of the staff throughout the year was on the whole satisfactory.

Work done.

152. The work done by all establishments during the year under report is shown in the following table, and compared with the figures of the two previous years :—

	Primary vaccination.			Re-vaccination.			Total.
	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.

Of the total number of persons vaccinated by the special establishment 57,595 were males and 46,201 females. The average number of persons operated upon by each vaccinator was 2,471 compared with 2,166 in the previous year. Out of a total of 92,695 successful primary operations, 85,119 were performed by the special establishment and 7,576 at dispensaries. The percentage of successful cases were 95·1 and 92·6 against 95·76 and 95·7 respectively in 1889-90, the decrease being due to the introduction of vaccination with calf lymph, with which the vaccinators were not accustomed to operate. As regards re-vaccination the total number of successful operations performed by all establishments was 5,085 and the percentage of success 30·8 against 1,914 and 27·6 in the preceding year.

Cost.

153. The total expenditure incurred including the Melghat was Rs. 16,900-15-0 against Rs. 16,883-12-9 in 1889-90, being an increase of Rs. 17-2-3. The average cost of each successful operation fell from Rs. 0-3-1 to Rs. 0-3-0.

Attitude of the people.

154. There is nothing new to record regarding the attitude of the people towards vaccination.

CHAPTER VII.

INSTRUCTION.

SECTION I.

Education.

No. of schools and scholars.

155. A considerable increase has occurred in the number of primary schools, and the attendance in all classes of schools has also risen. The income from fee receipts and popular contributions was larger, while the total contributions from the municipalities was more liberal than in the previous year, notwithstanding that their total income has fallen of. Altogether the year under report shows satisfactory progress. The following table shows the number of schools and scholars at the close of the year compared with the figures of the previous year :—

* This includes 16 pupil-teachers who are being trained for masterships in primary or secondary schools.

† Last year this school was shown under aided primary schools.

Distribution of schools and scholars according to districts.

156. There was not much change in the relative positions of the districts in regard to the progress of education. Akola still shows the largest number of schools and the smallest average number of square miles to each school. It also shows the largest percentage of male scholars to population of school-going age. If however the Melghat be excluded from the area of Ellichpur, that district would have the smallest average number of square miles to each school and the largest proportion of male scholars to male population of school-going age. The average for the province was one school to every 14·3 square miles as against 15·6 in 1889-90, and the percentage of male pupils to male population of school-going age was 21·5 as compared with 21·7 in the previous year.

University education.

157. Of nine students holding Berar scholarships in the colleges of the Bombay Presidency three passed the P. E. examination and one the first B. A., while one student passed the second examination in medicine. Of the Berar students who did not hold scholarships in the year under report two passed the P. E. examination, four the first B. A., four graduated in Arts, and one passed the LL. B. examination.

Matriculation.

158. Out of a total number of 27 students who presented themselves for examination from the Amraoti and Akola high schools 15 passed, against 31 and 17 respectively in the previous year. Of the successful candidates the Akola high school passed ten and the Amraoti high school five.

Secondary schools.

159. The following table gives the statistics relating to the 2 high and 24 middle or Anglo-vernacular schools :—

Primary schools.

160. During the year ten new Government schools and one municipal school for boys were opened and seven closed, leaving a net increase of four. The number of pupils increased in every district except Buldana and Ellichpur, and the average daily attendance rose in every district except Amraoti. The following two tables furnish information regarding the state and cost of education for the past two years :—

There was an increase of Rs. 720-14-9 in fee receipts and of Rs. 3,921-2-8 in the total expenditure, but the total cost and the cost to provincial revenues of educating each pupil fell off by annas 11-5 and annas 4-9 respectively.

Aided schools.

161. The number of schools under private management aided by fixed monthly grants was five against four in the previous year. The number of scholars rose from 205 to 325, and the number who passed in the preliminary standards from 50 to 84. The aggregate monthly grant to these schools was Rs. 112 compared with Rs. 92 in 1889-90.

Indigenous schools.

162. Satisfactory progress was made in regard to indigenous schools in all districts except Wun. The total number of schools rose from 529 to 630, the number inspected from 484 to 616, and the number of pupils examined from 6,065 to 7,711. The number of schools which earned grants and prizes rose from 468 to 568, the number of pupils for whom grants were earned from 3,155 to 4,147, and the total amount of grants earned from Rs. 11,185-6-8 to Rs. 15,070-14-11.

Training college.

163. Including pupil-teachers in other schools there were 87 students under training as schoolmasters against 92 in the previous year. Of these 55 were examined in the first year's course and 28 for certificates, and 43 and 23 respectively passed. As to the examination for entrance into the Training College, 77 candidates were examined—55 on the Marathi and 22 on the Hindustani side; 34 of the former passed and 13 of the latter. Of 35 students who joined the college, 26 were admitted on the Marathi and 9 on the Hindustani side.

Drawing.

164 The results of the first grade examination of the Bombay School of Art were not so good as in the preceding year. Out of 77 students who presented themselves for examination, only 7 succeeded in obtaining certificates against 75 and 12 respectively in 1889-90. As in the previous year no prizes were won.

Industrial training.

165. The grant sanctioned for the industrial school at Akola, under the superintendence of Mr. M. B. Fuller, was discontinued from the 1st July 1890 at that gentleman's own request, as he desired to continue it as a mission school. At the close of the year under report there were 25 boys in the school, of whom 11 were being trained as carpenters, 2 as smiths, and the remainder were being taught shoe-making. The course is five years in all trades, in consequence of which no artizans were turned out up to the close of the year.

Female education.

166. On the whole the education of females in Berar continued to make progress during the year under report. The following statement shows the year's work in all classes of schools, and compares the total results with those of the preceding year:—

* Includes the number of girls who passed the several standards in boys' schools.

The total amount of fees collected in Government and Municipal schools rose from Rs. 244-15-9 to Rs. 258-8-0, and the expenditure from Rs. 9,862-8-3 to Rs. 10,326-7-10; but the annual cost of educating each pupil fell from Rs. 7-5-7 to Rs. 7-3-7.

Education of Europeans and Eurasians.

167. One of the two schools for European and Eurasian children was closed during the year for want of pupils. The only school of this kind in the province at the close of the year was the one at Amraoti, established by the Roman Catholic Mission at that station. This school had a roll of 18 boys and 27 girls at the close of the year against 14 boys and 23 girls at the end of 1889-90. The average daily attendance was a little above 34. The highest standard taught to the boys was the fourth, and to the girls the sixth. The girls are taught in addition needle-work and music. Ten boys passed in the first four standards, and 12 girls in the six standards.

Muhammadan education.

168. The following statistics show the state of Muhammadan education in the Government and Municipal schools in the province for the past two years:—

	1889-90.	1890-91.
No. of schools	82	82
No. of scholars on 31st March ...	4,218	4,347
No. of pupils examined under the several standards.	1,786	1,773
No. of pupils passed	1,140	1,152

The foregoing statement does not include Muhammadan boys attending Marathi and Anglo-Marathi schools, the two high schools and the training college; but if these be added and the number of non-Muhammadans in Hindustani schools deducted, the total number of Muhammadan pupils in all classes of schools under public management would be 6,172 against 5,975 in the previous year. The total number of Muhammadan pupils in schools under private management rose from 699 in 1889-90 to 997 in the year under report, making the grand total number of Muhammadan scholars in the province 7,169 against 6,674 in the preceding year.

Education of aborigines.

169. There was only one school for the children of aborigines with 127 scholars against 138 in 1889-90. The number of pupils examined and passed fell from 44 and 23 to 24 and 14 respectively. No boys passed in standards above the fourth. Seven boys passed in the first standard, two in the second, three in the third, and two in the fourth, against two, two, ten and seven respectively in the preceding year.

Education of low-castes.

170. Since 1887 the education of low-castes in the province has been advancing steadily, although the progress has been somewhat slow. The total number of pupils during the year under report was 1,598 against 1,474 in the preceding year. The number examined in all standards fell from 511 to 439, and the number who passed from 291 to 231.

Private schools.

171. The number of private schools, i.e., those not adopting the course of study prescribed either for Government or aided schools, and not inspected by the departmental officers, was 9 with 134 scholars, against 14 schools and 178 scholars in the previous year. It is, however, supposed that there may be other schools of this class whose existence is not known to the authorities.

Physical education.

172. There was a slight falling-off in physical education during the year under report. The total number of gymnasia in the province fell from 445 to 441, and the number visited by the circle gymnasts from 434 to 400.

Castes of pupils.

173. The following figures show the pupils according to race or creed during the last two years in the Government and Municipal schools of the province :—

Popular contributions.

174. Popular contributions rose in every district except Basim. The total amount contributed was Rs. 6,971-2-6 compared with Rs. 5,077-4-0 in the previous year.

Fee receipts.

175. The total receipts on account of fees levied increased in all classes of schools. In middle schools the amount was larger than those of the two preceding years. The figures for the past three years are compared below :—

179. During the year 13 books were registered under Act XXV of 1867 against 16 in the previous year. Six of these were issues of the Berar School Paper, two related to morals, one was a reading book for boys, two dealt with the bringing up of children, one with agriculture, and one was connected with the Indian National Congress movement.

Presses.

180. There was no change in the number of newspapers and periodicals published in the province during the year under report; but one new printing press was opened for job printing in Akola.

Public libraries.

181. The number of libraries or reading rooms fell from 31 to 30. Four new ones were opened and five of the older ones closed. The Akola and Amraoti libraries were the most prosperous institutions of the lot.

The following rules were issued by the Governor-General in Council :—

1. Rules under the Indian Telegraph Act, XIII of 1885, as in force in British India.
2. Rules under the Suits Valuation Act, VII of 1887.

Police.

5. The total strength of the police force employed in the province, including officers of all ranks, was 2,877 against 2,821 in the previous year. The increase was due to the addition of 14 officers and 44 men to the force. The total number of deaths during the year rose from 37 to 48 and the death-rate from 1·3 to 1·6. Excluding gazetted officers, the number of men provided with fire-arms was 1,336, with swords only or swords and batons 768, and with batons only 766.

Crime.

6. Excluding 195 cases rejected as false, the total number of cases of cognizable crime was 8,480 against 8,071 in the previous year. There was a general increase of heinous crime during the year. Cases of rioting rose from 78 to 85 ; murders from 27 to 41 ; cases of dakaiti from 23 to 34 ; robberies from 52 to 60 ; cases of house-breaking from 885 to 1,137 ; and thefts from 2,199 to 2,303. The value of property reported as stolen, however, fell from Rs. 2,42,453 to Rs. 2,39,536, while the recoveries increased from Rs. 45,146 to Rs. 80,449. Of the cases of cognizable crime 4,741 or 55 per cent. ended in conviction as compared with 4,648 or 57 per cent. in 1890. The number of non-cognizable offences rose from 6,866 to 7,069, the number of persons against whom process issued from 14,254 to 14,496, and the number of individuals convicted from 3,673 to 3,839.

Criminal justice.

7. Excluding cases pending at the close of the previous year, there were in all 12,306 criminal cases for disposal. The total number of persons under trial by the magistracy during the year, including those pending from the previous year, was 21,202 against 21,182 in 1890 ; of these 20,823, or 98·2 per cent., were disposed of, the percentage of convictions being about the same as last year, viz., 41·6. Sessions cases were both more numerous and more complicated than in the previous year. There were in all 80 cases involving 153 persons, and of these 71 cases, in which 129 persons were concerned, were disposed of as against 32 cases and 50 persons adjudicated upon in 1890. Of the 129 persons, 88 were convicted, 36 were acquitted and 5 died, escaped or were transferred. The average duration of trials before the magistracy was 6·4 days against 5·5 in 1890, and of those before the Sessions Court 47·2 days against 39·4 days in the preceding year. The appeals for disposal by Deputy Commissioners rose from 374 to 388, and the number disposed of from 360 to 384. In the Sessions Court the corresponding figures were 256 and 238, and 237 and 216 respectively, and in the Judicial Commissioner's Court 33 and 106, and 32 and 105 respectively.

Prisons.

8. The total jail population of the year was 2,520 against 2,280 in the previous year, and the number of admissions 1,349 against 1,170. The number of previously convicted prisoners was 228 compared with 204 in 1890. Of 16 convicts who escaped during the year 14 were recaptured. Offences against jail discipline rose from 463 in 1890 to 494 in the year under report. The mark system continued to work satisfactorily, and not a single prisoner who came under it failed to gain a remission of sentence. Some disturbance of industries was caused by the introduction of a scheme for the concentration of the chief industries in particular jails; lithographing for Government departments was made the special industry of the Amraoti jail, and the weaving of police clothing that of the Akola jail, and although the change will eventually prove both economical and beneficial, yet while it was being carried out it caused a certain disturbance of work. The total cash earnings of prisoners sentenced to labour fell from Rs. 17,576-2-0 to Rs. 12,800-7-0, their average earnings per head from Rs. 20-9-0 to Rs. 14-1-0, and the average earnings per head of those employed on manufactures from Rs. 65-10-0 to Rs. 37-15-0. The general health of the prisoners was very satisfactory, the total number admitted into hospital being 403 against 550 in 1890, and the total number of deaths 11 as compared with 15 in the previous year. The gross cost of maintaining and guarding prisoners rose from Rs. 60,090-2-0 to Rs. 61,086-0-0; but the average cost per head fell from Rs. 67-3-0 to Rs. 61-12-0.

Civil justice.

9. The total number of civil courts open was 40 against 42 in the previous year; the number of suits instituted was 22,590 as compared with 25,754 in 1890, and the number disposed of 22,728 against 26,331. The aggregate value of the claims involved in the suits disposed of fell from Rs. 27,72,876 to Rs. 25,16,013. The average duration of contested cases was 114·7 days and of uncontested cases 51·4 days, against 84 days and 41·8 days respectively in the previous year. The number of applications for execution of decrees fell from 31,131 to 27,785, and the amount realized in execution from Rs. 2,93,603 to Rs. 2,77,239, of which sum Rs. 13,819 was paid in voluntarily and the balance realized by process. There were 26 applications for declaration of insolvency, but only 8 were granted. Court and process fees realized an income of Rs. 3,41,385 against Rs. 3,65,412 in 1890. Including appeals pending from the previous year, there were 453 appeals for disposal by the chief appellate courts of districts, of which 325 were disposed of. The Civil and Sessions Judge disposed of 354 out of a total number of 622, and the Judicial Commissioner 575 out of 944.

Registration.

10. A slight change was made in the constitution of the registration department and three new offices were opened during the year. The total number of registrations rose from 28,289 to 28,868, and the aggregate value of property transferred from Rs. 77,58,336 to Rs. 80,59,785. Refusals to register also increased from 203 to 221. The total receipts for the year rose from Rs. 68,001 to Rs. 70,550, while the expenditure fell from Rs. 39,745 to Rs. 38,127, leaving a net surplus of Rs. 32,423 against Rs. 28,257 in the previous year. The accumulated surplus at the close of the year was Rs. 3,40,449, as compared with Rs. 3,08,026 at the close of 1890-91. With one exception, all sub-registrars' offices worked at a profit.

Municipalities.

11. The number of municipalities was the same as in the previous year, viz., 8, and they continued to be administered under the Berar Municipal Law of 1886. Their total income rose during the year from Rs. 1,83,002 to Rs. 2,09,956-8-8, and the total expenditure from Rs. 1,73,770 to Rs. 2,39,328. The latter figure, however includes a sum of Rs. 28,650 under the head of "extraordinary and debt," so that the expenditure of the year was really only Rs. 2,10,678. As in the previous year large sums were spent on works of public health, convenience and instruction.

Local boards.

12. The Berar Rural Boards Law continued in force in four districts completely and in one partially, and the number of taluk and district boards remained the same as in the previous year. The total income, including the opening balance, of the district boards for the year was Rs. 6,96,736, and the expenditure Rs. 3,57,638, leaving an unexpended balance of Rs. 3,39,098. As in 1890, the largest sums were spent on education and public works. The members of all the boards took genuine interest in their work.

Agriculture.

13. The total area of the province shows a nominal increase of 11,956 acres, which is due principally to the transfer of three villages from the Melghat to the Jalgaon taluk. There was a decrease of 4,805 acres in the area available for occupation, an increase of 14,049 acres in that actually occupied, and a diminution of 18,853 in that unoccupied. The area of unculturable land was increased by 3,178 acres, owing to the transfer of the above mentioned three villages from the Melghat to Jalgaon as unculturable and the re-transfer therefrom of 7,224 acres to demarcated State forests in Wun and of 940 acres to unoccupied culturable area in Basim. The area under kharif fell from 51,16,522 to 49,56,245 acres, while the areas under rabi and miscellaneous crops rose from 15,61,017 acres and 19,742 acres to 16,84,706 acres and 24,057 acres respectively. There was a slight increase in the percentage of acreage under wheat and linseed, and a considerable falling-off in that under cotton. The area under irrigation rose from 38,846 to 43,316 acres, and that under rice cultivation from 18,875 to 22,023 acres.

Rainfall.

14. The average rainfall of the year was 39·29 inches, being 8·61 inches less than the quinquennial average, and 0·97 inches less than the fall of the previous year. The fall was unseasonable, being below the average in June and considerably in excess of it in September and the beginning of October, with the result that the kharif and rabi crops suffered.

Prices of produce and labour.

15. With the exception of the price of rice, which was the same as in the previous year, the average prices of food-grains were higher than in 1890-91. The average labour rates were stationary, except in the districts of Buldana and Basim, where bullocks and bullock carts commanded a higher figure.

Veterinary.

16. The veterinary department was without a professional head during the whole of the year, but the results shown are comparatively satisfactory. The stud stallions served 228 mares, 142 having up till then been the greatest number covered in a year. The total number of reported deaths from cattle disease fell from 17,060 in 1890-91 to 16,587, but the figures are said to be unreliable, and probably below the reality. The disease was most severe in Wun and Akola, in which two districts alone there were 12,316 deaths.

Agricultural stock.

17. With the exception of a falling-off in the numbers of cows and bullocks, the agricultural stock of the province shows an increase under all heads, but the figures, being based upon information furnished by patwaris, are not susceptible of check.

Takavi.

18. The total amount advanced under the Land Improvement Act rose from Rs. 15,420 to Rs. 30,980. Sections 4 and 5 of the Agriculturists' Loans Act, XII of 1884, were during the year applied to the province, and rules were framed under section 4.

Forests.

19. The attention of all officers from the Resident downwards was largely devoted to forest administration during the year, owing to the preparations that had to be made for the introduction of the new Forest Law. This event took place in June last, and therefore the year under report may be said to be the last under the old régime. Other improvements were also pressed on. There was a net increase of 152 square miles in the area of forest lands in the province. The boundaries of all the old demarcated State-forests were demarcated with a cleared line 40 feet broad, and the Melghat reserves were further marked with stone pillars. The new Chikalda reserve and the new extension of the Ambabarwa reserve were demarcated, and four new reserves in Wun were marked by 40 feet cleared lines. Four hundred and fifty boundary and field marks were repaired, and Rs. 979 was expended in repairing 11,625 field marks in grazing lands. Considerable progress was made in the preparation of working plans for the prinicipal reserves, and it is hoped that amongst other schemes those for the important forests of Bairagarh and Gugamal will shortly be completed. Breaches of forest rules fell from 416 to 373. Protection from fire was very satisfactory. Out of an area of 727,943 acres attempted, 720,190 acres or 98·9 per cent were successfully protected. The area attempted was 16,647 acres in excess of the area attempted last year, while the figure of success was 25,700 acres in advance of that for 1890. At the same time the approximate cost per square mile of the area attempted fell from Rs. 7-2-0 to Rs. 6-13-0. The gross revenue rose from Rs. 4,87,109 to Rs. 5,11,180 (the largest on record), and the expenditure from Rs. 1,68,922 to Rs. 1,97,340, leaving a surplus of Rs. 3,13,840 against Rs. 3,18,187 in the previous year.

Trade.

20. The volume of trade was 16 per cent. above and the value 2 per cent. below that of the previous year. The improvement in volume was confined to exports, which formed 61 per cent. of the total trade, or an increase of 27 per cent. over last year's figures. Imports fell 2·4 per cent., and their value showed a decrease of 8·3 per cent., consequent on the decrease in the imports of the more highly priced materials. Except for an increase under coal and coke, dyes and tan, jute, spices and stone and lime, the imports in all the principal articles of traffic fell both in quantity and value. The fall under manufactured cotton was confined to Indian manufactures, and was due to the abnormal importation of this class of goods last year; that under grain and pulse was caused by a fall in the imports of rice from the Central Provinces, and that under sugar by the scarcity in Bombay and the diversion of trade from the North-West Provinces and Oudh to more remunerative markets. Exports increased in all articles except raw cotton, jute and metals. The increase under food-grains was most conspicuous in wheat, jowari and bajri, the first of which was for the greater part sent to Europe, and the two last to the Central Provinces, Rajputana and Central India.

Public works.

21. The disbursements from all sources on public works during the year under notice amounted in the aggregate to Rs. 16,91,367. For imperial civil works the grant was Rs. 33,000, and Rs. 41,654 were expended, including Rs. 8,647 under head of suspense. The grant and expenditure under the provincial services of Berar amounted to Rs. 11,18,100 and Rs. 11,05,324; the unexpended balance was Rs. 12,776, but the short outlay amounted only to Rs. 3,749, the balance coming under suspense. Military works were carried out from provincial funds in connection with accommodation for the Hyderabad Contingent troops located at Bolarum, Ellichpur, Raichore, Mominabad, Aurungabad, Jalna and Hingoli; the expenditure thereon during the year amounted to Rs. 54,614. Satisfactory progress at an outlay of Rs. 1,88,041 was made in connection with administration, revenue, judicial, ecclesiastical, jail, police, educational, medical and miscellaneous buildings in Berar. Nearly six lakhs of rupees were expended on constructing, improving and maintaining roads, and Rs. 44,588 on miscellaneous public improvements. The grant and expenditure under incorporated local funds amounted to Rupees 1,33,928 and Rupees 1,07,291, and under excluded Rupees 2,82,187 and Rs. 2,41,082.

Railways.

22. The following statistics relate to the Berar State Railways. The working expenses of the Khamgaon line were Rs. 34,055 against gross receipts of Rs. 66,675, yielding a net profit of Rs. 32,620, equivalent to 6·66 per cent. on the capital outlay of Rs. 4,89,830. The Amraoti line gross receipts were Rs. 1,12,909 and the working expenses amounted to Rs. 59,517, showing a net profit of Rs. 53,392, equivalent to 11·88 per cent. on the capital outlay of Rs. 4,49,354.

Revenue and Finance.

23. The gross revenue of the province during the year 1891-92 amounted to Rs. 1,21,59,577 and the total disbursements to Rs. 1,09,30,547. Omitting the receipts and disbursements of the incorporated and excluded local funds, the provincial surplus was Rs. 11,84,297 compared with a surplus of Rs. 15,03,236 for the year 1890-91. The amount paid to His Highness the Nizam during the year 1891-92 was Rs. 13,06,974, being a portion of the surplus of the year 1890-91, and the accrued surplus in favor of His Highness the Nizam on the 31st March 1892 was Rs. 40,33,664. Of the gross income, Rs. 1,02,76,326 were derived from provincial revenues, Rs. 7,15,933 from incorporated, and Rs. 11,67,318 from excluded local funds. Rs. 90,92,029 of the provincial revenues, Rs. 11,31,713 of the excluded local funds, and Rs. 7,06,805 of the incorporated local funds revenue were utilized, thus leaving a surplus of Rs. 9,128 to the credit of the incorporated local funds. The provincial contract shows a saving of Rs. 34,375. The accrued balance in favor of the Resident at the close of 1891-92 inclusive of Rs. 5,00,000 allowed for any extraordinary emergencies, in accordance with paragraph 4 of the Government of India Financial Department Resolution No. 5957, dated 5th November 1887, was Rs. 12,12,306. As compared with the previous year, the receipts show an increase under nearly every head of revenue. The only important exceptions are land revenue, opium and police. Under land revenue and police the deficiency does not denote any permanent falling-off in the revenue derived from these sources, being due to purely exceptional causes. This, however, cannot be said of the falling-off in the opium receipts. As regards the expenditure, there has been a considerable increase. Of the net increase in the civil expenditure, two-thirds is of a permanent nature and is to be found under land revenue, forests, and law and justice. But in the case of the military expenditure, where the main increase is to be found, the additional expenditure is chiefly due to special and temporary causes, but here, too, there has been a permanent increase of about half a lakh of rupees under regimental pay and allowances.

Vital statistics.

24. The total number of deaths recorded during the year was 115,558 against 93,020 in 1890. The increase in mortality was due to a generally unhealthy year, and to the prevalence of cholera and of bowel-complaints of an unusually severe type. Fever also carried off a much larger number than last year. In proportion to population according to the census of 1881, the death-rate rose from 35·4 to 40·6 per thousand, or, according to the recent census figures, from 32·1 to 39·8. The total number of births registered in the province was 121,755 as compared with 111,450 in the previous year, being an increase of 10,305, and the rate to population was 42·8 per thousand according to the census of 1881, and 42·02 calculated on the recent census. Of the births registered 62,802 were males, and 58,953 females, the proportion of the sexes born being 106·5 males to every 100 females. In the districts, the highest birth-rate was recorded in Akola and the lowest in Wun.

Medical relief.

25. There was no change during the year either in the number of the civil hospitals or in that of the charitable dispensaries, or in the medical staff employed. The total number of persons treated at civil hospitals was 44,378 or 2,297 more than in the previous year. Of this number 2,077 were in-door and 42,301 out-door patients. Malarial fevers were less prevalent than in 1890, but dysentery and diarrhœa and cholera were more so. The number of operations both major and minor increased during the year, the advance being steady at all hospitals except Basim. The gross receipts of the civil hospitals rose from Rs. 50,302-6-10 to Rs. 52,498-9-7, and the expenditure from Rs. 50,302-6-10 to Rs. 52,482-9-7. The number of persons treated at charitable dispensaries was 238,373, or 3,193 more than in 1890, and was made up of 1,460 in-door and 236,913 out-door patients. There was an increase in the number of major operations performed at these dispensaries, but a considerable falling-off in the number of minor operations. The gross receipts rose from Rs. 57,294-7-3, to Rs. 57,824-12-5, and the expenditure from Rs. 54,208-4-4 to Rs. 56,826-14-5, leaving, with the balance for last year, a closing balance of Rs. 83,154-7-1.

Sanitation.

26. The total income of municipalities during the year was Rs. 2,38,925, of which 48·6 per cent. was expended on sanitary works, the expenditure for conservancy alone being 22·3 per cent. During the year, the surface drainage of Akot, Khamgaon and Shegaon was extended, and considerable sums were spent to improve the water-supply at Akola, Amraoti town and camp, and Khamgaon. In districts outside municipalities, the total expenditure on works of sanitary improvement was Rs. 1,57,618 against Rs. 1,19,621 in the previous year. The largest expenditure was incurred on the Buldana and the Akola water-supply schemes, and on the extension of the drainage area of the Kalapani tank.

Vaccination.

27. Two improvements were introduced during the year, viz., the transfer of vaccination in dispensary towns from medical officers to the special establishment, and the exclusive use of animal lymph. There was a substantial increase both in the number of operations performed under the head of primary vaccination and the percentage of success thereunder, which rose from 94·9 to 95·2. Under re-vaccination the number of operations performed rose from 16,511 to 30,453, but the percentage of success fell from 30·8 to 29·4. The average number of operations performed by each vaccinator rose from 2,471 to 3,013, and beat the record of any previous year's individual work. The total expenditure incurred fell from Rs. 16,900-15-0 to Rs. 16,659-14-2, and the average cost of each operation from 3 annas to 2 annas and 7 pies.

Education.

28. An important change was made during the year in the education administration of the province, the management of the majority of primary schools in other than municipal towns having been made over to the District Boards. Cholera, unseasonable and scanty rainfall, and the comparatively high prices of food-grains seriously affected educational operations in some of the districts; but on the whole satisfactory progress was made during the year under report. There was an increase of 35 in the total number of schools for boys, and of 3 in the number of schools for girls, while the total number of scholars rose by 1,141. The average of the province was one school to every 14 square miles, as against 14·3 in 1890-91, and the percentage of male pupils to male population of a school-going age was 21·9 as compared with 21·5 in the previous year. The results of the matriculation were better than last year, and the results for the Amraoti High School particularly creditable, as 14 out of the 15 boys sent up were successful. There was an increase of 10 in the number of primary schools and an increase of 138 in the number of scholars. Satisfactory progress was also made in aided and indigenous schools. The Training College for schoolmasters continued to do good work, and the American Mission Industrial School is said to be in a very satisfactory condition. Female education continues to make but slow progress. There was an increase of 3 in the number of schools, but only 39 in that of scholars. The number of passes, however, increased from 535 to 565. There were two schools for Europeans and Eurasians at the close of the year under report, and both are satisfactorily reported upon. For Muhammadan education, the number of schools were increased by 2, and there was a substantial increase both in the number of students and also in the number examined. The number of passes was 10 in excess of last year's figures. Satisfactory progress was made in the education of aborigines and in that of low castes, and the figures under physical education are higher than those of the previous year. Popular contributions decreased from Rs. 6,971 to Rs. 6,670. The falling-off is assigned to the high prices of food-grains during the year. Fee receipts rose from Rs. 56,611 to Rs. 57,388, and the expenditure on education fell from Rs. 4,40,374 to Rs. 4,34,888, a decrease of Rs. 5,485.

SECTION VII.

Changes in the Administration.

2. Sir Dennis Fitzpatrick, K.C.S.I., I.C.S., held the office of Resident at Hyderabad from the 1st April to the 12th November 1891, on the forenoon of which date he proceeded on privilege leave for three months. During his absence Mr. T. Chichele Plowden, I.C.S., was appointed to officiate as Resident at Hyderabad. While on leave, Sir Dennis Fitzpatrick was appointed to be Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab and its Dependencies, and Mr. Plowden was confirmed in the post of Resident at Hyderabad with effect from the 5th March 1892, and continued to hold the office for the remainder of the year. The office of First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar was, with the exception of the occasions on which he was granted short periods of privilege leave, held by Mr. J. A. Crawford, I.C.S., throughout the year. On these occasions, viz., from the 8th to the 24th September 1891 and from the 25th to the 30th March 1892, the charge of the office of First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar was held by Mr. O. V. Bosanquet, I.C.S., in addition to his own duties. Mr. G. R. Irwin, I.C.S., having been appointed First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar, vice Mr. Crawford, appointed to be Under-Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department, assumed charge of his duties on the forenoon of the 30th March 1892, and continued in office up to the close of the year. With the exception of three months and two days, on which he was on privilege leave, viz., from the 4th April to the 5th July 1891, Mr. O. V. Bosanquet, I.C.S., held the office of Second Assistant Resident and Assistant Secretary for Berar throughout the year. During Mr. Bosanquet's absence on leave Lieutenant C. H. Pritchard, I.S.C., was appointed to officiate for him. In the Berar Commission the appointment of Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts was, with the exception of a month when he was on privilege leave, viz., from the 10th August to the 9th September 1891, held by Mr. T. Chichele Plowden, I.C.S., up to the date of his transfer to Hyderabad. He was succeeded, on the occasion of his absence on privilege leave as well as on his transfer, by Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, I.S.C., Judicial Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, who was subsequently confirmed in the appointment of Commissioner and held charge of it up to the close of the year. Mr. R. Obbard, I.C.S., Civil and Sessions Judge, officiated for Colonel Mackenzie as Judicial Commissioner on the latter occasion, and remained in charge of the office up to the close of the year.

CHAPTER II.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE LAND.

SECTION I.

Survey and Settlement.

Forest survey.

4. The provincial boundary between Berar and the Central Provinces touching on the Nimar District was finally demarcated by the local authorities with permanent pillars, and was mapped by the Forest Survey Branch during the year. The amount expended on account of Berar was Rs. 1,816, which was chiefly on account of mapping and printing of standard sheets. The standard sheets of the Melghat Survey on the scale of 4″ to the mile have been published, and 10 of the 4″ sheets were reproduced on the 2″ scale. This completes the Melghat series of maps.

Revenue survey.

5. Mr. F. W. Francis, who was appointed Director of Land Records and Agriculture, Hyderabad Assigned Districts, in place of Mr. R. D. Hare, who resigned that office, assumed charge of his duties on the 12th August 1891. At the time of his receiving charge, the establishment consisted only of one survey party under the Assistant Director, of a nimtandar and 16 measurers and classers working in the izara villages of the Wun and Basim districts. The monsoon of 1891 having been rather late, the Assistant Director (Captain Garrett) took advantage of it to keep the field work going in order to finish the survey of the khalsa villages which was then in hand, he himself being out on boundary mark inspection duty in the month of July. This delayed the commencement of the recess work, which consequently did not get fully in hand until August 1891, when the survey officer (Mr. Erksine) joined the department from the Survey of India and worked with the Assistant Director at Yeotmal for the remainder of the monsoon. With the help of three taluka classers, the work was pushed on, only such of the arrears remaining over at the end of the rains being left as would be got through at the approaching recess. Towards the end of the monsoon, the department was reorganized, a separate revision survey party being formed under the Survey Officer (Mr. Erskine), consisting of 11 professional measurers and classers, five taluk classers and 8 munsarims, or a total of 24 in all. In consequence of effect having to be given to the orders of Government that local agency was to be utilized to the fullest extent, the strength of the party was merely nominal for the first three or four months of the season. The Survey Officer proceeded to the Malkapur taluka and commenced the necessary revision operations, while the Assistant Director's party, which was reduced to 13 measurers and classers, as a temporary measure, resumed work in the izara villages of the Wun and Basim districts. The Director (Mr. Francis) himself performed a goaod deal of inspection work during the cold weather. The work which was dealt with during the year under report falls under two heads, viz.:—

(1) Resettlement of the izara villages in the districts of Wun and Basim, and (2) revision survey settlement in the Malkapur taluk of the Buldana district.

The following statement gives the number of villages in which establishments were at work from the 1st of April to the commencement of the monsoon, and again from the end of the monsoon to the 31st March 1892:—

= 223 villages in all.

In Wun and Basim the work of measurement and classification was completed in 103 villages. In Malkapur 10 villages were entirely re-measured in order to test the accuracy of the original work; the result showed that it was thoroughly reliable, and might without doubt be confirmed. In the remaining villages the system of partial re-measurement adopted in the Bombay Presidency was adhered to and only numbers that showed changes were dealt with, by far the larger portion of each village being confirmed.

The quantity of work done during the field season by each party as compared with the previous year is given below :—

The total outturn by the Assistant Director's party for the year comes to 73,244 acres measured and 66,047 acres classed; of the area measured, a very small portion, viz., 1,284 acres, was measured with theodolite, whilst 4,394 acres were calculated by scale from the map. The remaining 67,566 acres were measured with the cross staff and chain. The circumstances which tended to reduce the outturn of the Assistant Director's establishment were (1) the reduction in its strength in November 1891 from 16 measurers and classers to 13, of whom one was deputed to work in the Wun district as taluk classer, and one was dismissed, and his place remained vacant for one month; (2) the unsatisfactory nature of the instruments supplied by the Local Fund Overseer at Yeotmal, especially the cross staffs, which were badly made, and stood no rough usage; (3) the failure of the boundary mark contractor to produce labourers at the commencement of the season which necessitated local labor being obtained after considerable trouble.

The classing for the year under report shows an increase of 8,470 acres over the previous year. The figure would have been higher but for the sickness which has so interfered with the work.

The Survey Officer's party was newly formed in November, and had only five months in the field. It consisted of paid classers and measurers, taluk classers and munsarims. The outturn of the work of each is as shown below :—

—	Measurement.			Confirmed Nos.			Days spent in training.
	No of days	Acres.	Average.	No. of days.	Acres.	Average.

The following table shows the testing done :—

Assistant Director.

Measurement.		Boundary marks inspection.		Classification.		Remarks.
Nos.	Acres.	Nos.	Acres.	Nos.	Acres.
77	1,815-13	From 30 to 50 per cent. of boundary marks were inspected.		83	2,043	By the Assistant Director and nimtandar together.
24	681-1			212	4,800	By the Assistant Director, Land Records and Agriculture.
202	5,202-28			165	4,283	By the nimtandar.
303	7,699-2			460	11,126

Out of the 27,163 acres measured before the monsoon, the nimtandar tested 5,203 acres or 19·5 per cent, and of the 38,914 acres classed in the same period, he tested 4,283 acres or 11 per cent. Of the 41,687 acres measured during the current field season, the Assistant Director and nimtandar tested between them 2,496 acres or 5·9 per cent., and 6,843 acres or 25·2 per cent. of the 27,132 acres classed. The valuation of the soil being the more important duty received more attention, the total test showing a percentage of 11·3 on the number of fields measured, and 17·1 on those classed. Out of 23,371 acres measured and 152,288 confirmed, the Survey Officer tested 3,118 and 12,397 acres or 13·3 and 8 per cent. respectively.

The expenditure incurred on account of the erection of boundary marks is given for each district :—

	Rs.	a.	p.
Wun	3,083	2	6
Basim	2,480	10	6
Total ...	5,563	13	0

Of this total, the sum of Rs. 3,796-1-0 is recoverable, being the cost of erecting boundary marks in khalsa villages and of external marks in izara villages. The irrecoverable sum of Rs. 1,767-12-0 is that of the cost of internal marks in izara villages. The inspection of boundary marks by the Survey Officer's party was confined to examining the existing boundary marks and marking the places for the erection of those missing. The whole of the boundary marks in each village thus came under inspection, and the result showed that this duty of inspection must have been somewhat neglected of late years. The erection of the new marks was not undertaken departmentally, but has been carried out under the orders of the Deputy Commissioner, Buldana District. The Survey Officer's test amounted to 745 fields of 12,396 acres. The total work done and the total expenditure in the year under report compared with the previous year are as follows :—

Settlement.

6. No settlement work has been done during the year. The discussion on the system to be adopted in assessing izara villages until the revision of the whole district in which they are situated falls in was continued, and final orders were passed after the close of the year under report. The settlement of all izara villages which have already been measured and classed and the leases of which have expired will therefore form part of the work of the ensuing year. The revision settlement report on the Malkapur-Khamgaon and Jalgaon ta'uks is expected to be submitted in the forthcoming year, and as soon as the rates are sanctioned, they can be introduced in the Malkapur taluk, where the current lease is at present expiring.

Of these villages 312 in Wun and 56 in Basim are held under the Waste Land Rules of 1865. During the year 13 izara villages were made khalsa, seven on account of expiry of lease and six on account of non-payment of the Government dues.

10. The total sanctioned strength of the force at the close of the year was 553 officers (including gazetted officers of all ranks) and 2,323 men, or a total of 2,877, showing an increase of 14 officers and 44 men. The increase was due to the addition of eight officers to the detective police in the Amraoti and Akola districts, six officers and 36 men to the frontier police in the Basim district, and eight additional men employed in consequence of the reduction of the camel sowars in the Amraoti and Buldana districts. According to the census figures of 1891, the proportion of police to area was 1 to every 6·1 square miles, and to population 1 to every 1,007 persons.

Sessions Court.

33. During the year 80 sessions cases involving 153 persons came up for disposal against 37 cases and 59 persons in 1890. The cases were not only more numerous, but also more complicated. One dakaiti case involving 21 persons occupied 12 days in its trial. Seventy-one cases involving 129 persons were disposed of. Out of these, 64 cases were disposed of by the Sessions Judge and 7 cases were tried by the Judicial Commissioner owing to there being no Sessions Judge at the time fixed for the November sessions.

The following statement shows how the 129 persons were dealt with :—

Nine cases involving 24 persons were left pending at the close of the year. They were cases for the January and February sessions, not cases left over from previous sessions. All trials were held with the aid of assessors. In 47 cases the Judge agreed with the assessors. No European British subject was tried by the Court of Sessions. The average duration was 47·2 against 39·4. The duration was affected by two cases from the Wun district and one from the Akola district, which were sent up incomplete and had to be adjourned for further enquiry. The Sessions Judge had 37 confirmation cases involving 116 persons against 22 cases involving 22 persons in 1890.

SECTION IV.

Jails.

Jail population.

35. The year opened with a total jail population of 864 compared with 1,010 in the previous year. The figure is the lowest on record for the province. The total number of admissions rose from 2,034 in 1,890 to 2,805 in the year under report, and the direct admissions from 1,170 to 1,349. The daily average strength of all prisoners was 990·7 compared with 895 in the previous year, being an increase of 10·6 per cent. The increase in the jail population was most marked in the latter half of the year, which is the reason why the rise in admissions has not resulted in as large a proportionate increase in the daily average strength.

Manufactures.

47. Some disturbance of industries was caused by a scheme for the concentration of the chief industries into particular jails. Hitherto lithographing for Government departments and weaving police clothing was carried out at both the large jails; but now the former has been made the special industry of the Amraoti Jail, and the latter that of the Akola Jail. The change is likely to be beneficial and eventually to result in some economy; but while it was being carried out a certain disturbance of work was unavoidable. Of the District Jails, Yeotmal has been the most successful this year. The figures showing the results of jail manufactures for the past three years are as follows:—

SECTION VIII.

Local Boards.

Constitution.

68. The Berar Rural Boards Law continued in force throughout the districts of Amraoti, Akola, Buldana, Basim, and in parts of Ellichpur. It has not been applied yet to the Wun district, or to the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district. The number of Taluk Boards and of District Boards was the same as in the preceding year, namely, 17 and 5 respectively, and the area subject to their authority was 121,288 square miles with a reported population of 2,071,455 souls. The sanctioned strength of each Taluk Board is 18 members, of whom it was intended that 6 should be nominated and the rest elected. The proportion of elected members was maintained in all the Taluk Boards except Basim, where it was only one-half owing to a want of members suitable for election. There were thus 306 members for the Taluk Boards, and of these 105 were nominated and 201 elected, 24 being officials and 282 non-officials and all being natives. At the 228 meetings which were held, the average attendance of officials, was 0·83 and of non-officials 8·27. Of the 128 members composing the District Boards, 32 were nominated and 96 elected, 16 were officials and 112 non-officials, and 123 were natives and 5 Europeans or Eurasians. Forty-seven meetings were held and the average attendance was 1·72 officials and 7·94 non-officials.

Elections.

69. There were 279 candidates for 69 vacancies in the Taluk Boards, or an average of 4 candidates for each vacancy. The number of persons entitled to vote was 21,733, but of this number only 4,039 or 18·5 per cent. actually voted.

Income and expenditure.

70. The subjoined table shows the total income at the disposal of the District Boards during the year :—

The principal items of the Town Fund are (a) the net proceeds of the Town Fund assessment levied in the district beyond the limits of municipalities, civil stations, and villages in which local committees have been established; the tax is levied under Government of India Notification No. 52, dated 10th April 1884: (b) the surplus accruing after payment of all charges of the jaglia and local cess levied beyond those limits; this cess is levied under the authority of Government of India letter No. 4771, dated 23rd February 1883: (c) the surplus accruing in the district under section 18 of the Cattle Trespass Act, 1871, after deducting the allotment assigned to civil stations. The Town Fund assessment amounted to Rs. 35,575-7-0, and the surplus of the Jaglia and Local Cess was Rs. 96,452-15-10. The Pound Fund transferred to the credit of the District Boards was Rs. 6,434-9-1. Miscellaneous contributions brought up the total to Rs. 6,810-2-7.

The Bazar Cess is levied under Government of India Notification No. 11, dated the 27th January 1875, and next year a considerable increase under this head is expected as local committee villages, which contain the most important bazars, will then be included in the Board's area.

The Road Fund includes fees realized from dâk bungalows, which during the year under report amounted to Rs. 1,773-13-10.

The Education Fund consists of a portion of the sum contributed from the Provincial Revenues to primary schools, the entire educational cess levied in the area subject to the authority of the District Boards, and certain miscellaneous items.

The Accumulated surplus of the Jaglia and Local Cess no longer forms an item of receipt, and the amount realized under this head represents recoveries of loans made to municipalities, &c., on account of water-supply projects.

The total expenditure during the year amounted to Rs. 3,57,638-6-5 as shown below :—

CHAPTER IV.

SECTION I.

Agriculture.

Area of the province.

73. The subjoined table shows the distribution of the area of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, exclusive of the Melghat, during the year under report and in the previous year :—

—	1890-91.	1891-92.	Difference.
1. Number of villages	6,677	6,680	+ 3
2. Total area in acres	10,284,270	10,296,226	+ 11,956
3. Area not included in any survey number, such as village sites, tanks, rivers, &c.	201,190	200,826	— 364
4. Area demarcated as State forests	335,928	370,387	+ 34,459
5. Do. babul buns	15,622	15,749	+ 127
6. Do. rumnas	35,945	34,064	— 1,881
7. Do. other district reserved forests ...	187,442	187,359	— 83
8. Fields assigned for free grazing	723,789	704,858	—18,931
9. Do. village purposes	55,935	56,190	+ 255
10. Unculturable lands not included in any of the foregoing.	695,563	698,741	+ 3,178
11. Balance assessed and available for cultivation ...	8,032,856	8,028,052	— 4,805
12. Occupied	7,621,546	7,635,595	+ 14,049
13. Not occupied	411,310	392,457	—18,853

There was a net increase of 11 villages under the head of khalsa, of 20 villages under the head of demarcated State-forests, and of 2 villages under the head of jagir, or a total increase of 33. Deducting from this figure, the decrease of 17 integral waste villages, and of 13 villages leased under the waste land rules, the number remaining is 3, which is the number of villages transferred from the Melghat to the Jalgaon taluk. Of the total area occupied, 6,967,484 acres are situated in khalsa villages, being a net increase of 11,747 acres compared with the figures for 1890-91.

Department of Land Records and Agriculture.

74. The work of the department fell under two heads, viz., (1) the re-settlement of the izara villages in Wun and Basim, and (2) the revision survey settlement in the Mulkapur taluk of the Buldana district. In both directions satisfactory progress was reported.

Cultivated area.

75. The total area assessed and available for occupation fell from 8,032,856 to 8,028,052 acres, showing a net decrease of 4,804 acres. The area occupied was 7,635,595 acres and that not occupied 392,457 acres. The former shows a net increase of 14,049 acres and the latter a net diminution of 18,853 acres. The area of unculturable land was increased by 3,178 acres owing to the transfer of 11,343 acres of unculturable land from the Melghat to Jalgaon, o which only 7,224 acres were retransferred to demarcated State-forests in Wun, and 940 acres to unoccupied culturable area in Basim. The total area under kharif fell from 5,116,522 to 4,956,245 acres, while that under rabi rose from 1,561,017 to 1,684,706 acres. That under miscellaneous rose from 19,712 to 24,057 acres.

Crops cultivated.

76. In the year under report the proportion of land cultivated with cotton was 33·7, with jowari 32·3, with wheat 13·4, with linseed 5·4, and with gram 3·3,

The acreage under each of the principal kinds of crops for the past two years is contrasted below:—

	1890-91.		1891-92.
	Acres.	Proportion.	Acres.	Proportion.

Cotton	2,451,608	37·4	2,241,489	33·7
Total	6,344,292	...	6,292,978	...

Irrigation.

77. The total area irrigated rose from 38,846 to 43,316 acres, and the area under rice cultivation from 18,875 to 22,023 acres.

SECTION II.

Weather and Crops.

Rainfall.

78. The average rainfall for the year was 39·29 inches. It was 8·61 inches less than the quinquennial average and 0·97 inches less than the rainfall of the previous year.

Effect of the rainfall.

79. The rain fell rather unseasonably; it was short of the average in June and considerably in excess of it in September and the beginning of October, with the result that both the kharif and rabi crops suffered to a greater or less extent.

Prices of produce and labour.

80. With the exception of rice, which was the same as in the previous year, the average prices of food-grains were higher. The export of wheat and jowari to Rajputana and to the south of Europe to supply famine deficiencies accounts for the rise in price of those grains. The rise was greatest in Amraoti and Wun. The labor wage rates were stationary in Amraoti, Akola, Ellichpur, and Wun; in Buldana and Basim the hire of bullocks rose by two annas, and in the last named district bullock carts commanded a higher figure, but donkeys were to be had at a considerably cheaper rate than in the previous year.

Agricultural stock.

81. The subjoined table shows the agricultural stock of the past two years, but as already explained in last year's report the figures are not susceptible of check, being based upon information furnished by patwaris:—

	1890-91.	1891-92.
Cows and bullocks	1,830,282	1,715,713
Buffaloes	332,782	324,461
Sheep and goats	494,035	498,837
Carts	122,340	132,639
Ploughs	125,922	133,002

Veterinary.

82. The Veterinary Department in Berar was without a professional head during the year, the work being supervised, as in the previous year, by a young Assistant Commissioner, who did all that personal interest and attention could effect. The total number of deaths from cattle disease was 16,587 against 17,060 in 1890-91. These figures are, however, believed to be unreliable. As in the previous year the disease was most severe in Wun and Akola, in which two districts alone there were 12,316 deaths.

Horse breeding.

83. The greatest number of mares previously covered in any one year was 142; during the year under report the number was 228, an increase of 86.

Horse and cattle show.

84. There were no horse and cattle shows in the province during the year, but at some of the usual fairs prizes to the value of Rs. 354 were distributed by the Deputy Commissioner of Wun.

Land Improvement Act.

85. The total amount advanced under the Land Improvement Act rose from Rs. 15,420 to Rs. 30,980. Sections 4 and 5 of Act XII of 1884 (the Agriculturists' Loans Act) were applied to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts by Foreign Department Notification No. 3913-I of the 23rd September 1891, and rules have been framed under section 4 (2).

SECTION III.

Arboriculture.

86. The following is a comparison of the year's work with that of the two previous years:—

	1891-92.	1890-91.	1889-90.
1. Number of nurseries maintained ...	16	16	19
2. Number of seedlings supplied from nurseries	2.532	4,156	3,596

SECTION IV.

Forests.

Staff.

87. In consequence of the reorganization of the Forest Department in India, the following changes occurred in the staff of the Berar Forest Department. The upper controlling staff, consisting of one Conservator and two Deputy and Assistant Conservators, was amalgamated with that of that of the Punjab, Central Provinces and Coorg for purposes of promotion. In the lower controlling staff the designation of "Extra Assistant Conservator" was substituted for that of "Sub-Assistant Conservator," and both the pay and position of these officers were improved. Seven of those officers were allotted to Berar, and they were included in one list with the lower controlling staff of the Central Provinces and Coorg for purposes of promotion. The total strength of the upper and lower controlling staff at the close of the year was therefore 1 Conservator, 1 Deputy Conservator, one Assistant Conservator, and 7 Extra Assistant Conservators.

Forest area.

88. There was a net increase of 152 square miles in the area of forest lands in Berar. The distribution of this area is shown in the statement below:—

Classes of forest.	Area in square miles.				Percentage of forest area to area of Province (17,718).
	Area on 1st April 1891.	Added during the year.	Excluded or transferred to other classes.	Area on 31st March 1892.
Demarcated State-forests	1,136	122	2	1,256	7·0
District reserved forests	1,012	36	43	1,005	5·7
District unreserved forests	2,136	121	82	2,175	12·3
Total ...	4,284	279	127	4,436	25·0

Boundaries.

89. The boundaries of all the old demarcated State-forests were cleared of shoots and brushwood, and marked with a cleared line 40 feet broad. The Melghat reserves and those of Chiroli and Gerumatergaon were further marked with within-view stone pillars built round a teak post which projects about 2 feet from the top and carries the serial number of the mark. In other districts, the boundaries were marked by the warlis set up by the Revenue Survey. The new Chikalda reserve and the new extension of the Ambabarwa reserve were demarcated at a cost of Rs. 250 and Rs. 177 respectively, and 4 new reserves in the Wun district were marked by 40 feet lines at a total cost of Rs. 499. The demarcation of the new extension of the Kinwat reserve was commenced, but was not completed owing to a further extension of the forest having been proposed, and the new reserves of Dabhdi, Pishki, Pownar and Umbarde remain to be demarcated. In grazing lands 11,625 boundary mark (warlis) were repaired at a total cost of Rs. 979, but the work had to a great extent to be left over for want of funds.

Prosecutions.

90. Excluding the cases pending from the previous year, the number of procutions for breaches of forest rules fell from 416 to 373, the number of cases disposed of from 393 to 377, and the number of persons involved from 768 to 666.

Fire conservancy.

91. The results of fire protection for the past two years are contrasted below:—

Berar Forest Law.

92. The new Berar Forest Law had not come into force during the year, and the old order of classification was therefore still adhered to.

Working plans.

93. The work of describing the compartments of the Bairagarh and Gugamal forests was continued during the year, and was nearly completed at its close. The Bairagarh forest was divided into three working circles, the first of which was divided into 28 compartments and the two last into 30 compartments each. Gugamal forms one working circle divided into 30 compartments. During the year under report improvement fellings were carried on in one of the compartments in each working circle of Bairagarh. The outline of working plans for the Penganga reserve in Basim, for the Kinwat, for the Pathrot reserve in Wun, and for the Bhongaon and Loni reserves and other babul buns in Akola were submitted to and approved by the Inspector-General of Forests. Working plans were also drawn up for working the timber on the grazing lands in the Yeotmal, Wun and Panderkowra taluks of the Wun district, and for the grazing lands and babul buns of three taluks in the Buldana district. In Basim a rough scheme for regulating the annual fellings on grazing lands in the Basim taluk on the coppice régimé was drawn up and set working, and data are being collected for similar schemes in the other two taluks. The plan that was drawn up for Medsi was held in abeyance because it was decided to join Chandas, Andarsaongi and the coppice lands of Pacharan and Charmuli with Medsi to form one working circle. The scheme for the working of the Amraoti hills forests was adhered to, but owing to the necessity for eliminating some outlying grazing tracts from the working circle, the matter will require further consideration.

Grazing.

94. As a special case, owing to the prolonged dry season and on the urgent representation of Deputy Commissioners, grazing was permitted to a limited extent on the payment of double fees in most of the demarcated State-forests in the Wun division, and also in parts of the Chandas and Penganga reserves in Basim. The revenue realized on the cattle grazed in the district reserved and unreserved forests fell from Rs. 1,61,560 to Rs. 1,57,607, but in the demarcated State-forests it rose from Rs. 3,957 to Rs. 12,978.

Natural reproduction.

95. Reproduction was satisfactory in the Melghat reserves, the Mehdari reserve, the Kinwat forest, the Tipestwar block of the Kelapur reserve, and the Anjankheir and Pathrot reserves, and it was marked in the ravines and valleys of several other reserves. In the Chirodi and Ghatbori reserves, and in the forests in Buldana and most of those in Basim, reproduction was scanty owing partly to poverty of soil and partly to grazing.

Cultural operations.

96. The area under cultural operations fell from 3,666 to 3,577 acres owing to the exclusion of 40 0acres that proved an entire failure, and the addition of 311 acres sown principally with teak. The teak plantation in the Bairagarh reserve and the bamboo nursery in the Chirodi reserve were in a great measure successful, but the result of cultural operations undertaken in the other district forest reserves was not satisfactory.

Communications.

97. The Forest Department constructed 31½ miles of road during the year at a total cost of Rs. 9,358, and thus amongst other important results completed the circuit of the Bairagarh forest, and opened up the south-west portion of the Chourakund working circle and the Butram bamboo forests. It was also under contemplation to construct a road from Ghatang to Dolar to facilitate the extraction of timber from the north-east portion of Bairagarh, one from Koha to Banam to open up the bamboo forest in the south-east of Gugamal, and another from Gokriam to Chipi to open up the Gargipatti valley. During the year, the Public Works Department completed the Akote-Selu road, and it was opened throughout for traffic in December last, and has already caused an increased output of bamboos from the Gugamal forest.

Yield and working.

98. No timber was removed by Government agency. The following figures show the revenue realized from each class of forest produce for the past two years :—

SECTION VI.

Manufactures.

101. The manufactures of the province are, as stated in previous reports, chiefly confined to twist and yarn, coarse cotton cloth and petty unskilled handicrafts. Silk weaving is carried on at Kholapur in the Amraoti district, where fine pitambars are made; cotton carpets are manufactured at Akot and Ellichpur, and nut-crackers at Deulghat in the Buldana district; silk bordered waist-cloths and women's robes, turbans, blankets and edgings of silk to native cloths are among the other articles manufactured in the province, but full details about them are not available; coarse cloths, called khadis, of different textures and colors are woven at Ellichpur and Wun. Besides the cotton weaving mill at Budnera and two oil mills, one at Amraoti and the other at Shegaon, the cotton presses and ginning factories are by far the most important industries in the province. The mill at Budnera produced 999,683lbs. of twist and yarn and 918,734lbs. of cloth against 990,995lbs. and 882,019lbs respectively in 1890-91. The number of persons employed by this mill during the year was 925 as compared with 820 last year. Besides meeting local wants, the produce was exported to Bombay, the Central Provinces and the Nizam's dominions. The oil mill at Amraoti turned out 124,189 gallons of oil and 1,184 tons of oil cake during the year under report. Information about the other mill at Shegaon is not available. The number of steam cotton presses was the same as in the preceding year, but the number of ginning factories rose from 41 to 48. The outturn of the presses was 389,955 bales against 399,310 in 1890-91. The number of cotton presses working during the year with the outturn of work for the past two years is shown below :—

Registration.

102. The returns of railway-borne traffic, which were compiled last year in the Office of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, Bombay, were furnished this year by the Examiner of Guaranteed Railway Accounts, Bombay, to whom the duty of registering and compiling them was transferred under the orders of the Government of India.

Total trade.

104. The total traffic of the year is contrasted with that of the previous year and with the average of the five previous years in the following statement:—

(Figures in thousands of maunds and rupees.)

Description of trade.	Quantity in maunds.			Value in rupees.

Total ...	7,170	7,452	8,797	57,049	62,173	60,881

The volume of trade was 16 per cent. and 19 per cent. respectively above that of the previous year and the average; on the other hand, the value though much above the average was 2 per cent. below what was recorded in the previous year. The total trade is made up of 39 per cent. of imports and 61 per cent. of exports. The improvement in volume was confined to exports, which showed a rise of 27 and 23 per cent. respectively over those of the previous year and the average; the imports fell by 2·4 per cent. below those of the previous year, but rose by 11 per cent. over the average. The value of imports showed a decrease of 8·3 per cent. compared with that of last year and an increase of 2·7 per cent. over the average. The fall in the value of imports was mainly due to a decrease in the imports of the more highly priced materials, such as manufactured cotton, goods and metals. The value of exports rose by 9 per cent. above the average and was slightly greater than that of last year.

105. The principal items in the import traffic are shown in the following table and compared with those of the previous years and the average of the last five years:— Imports.

The demand for coke and coal was larger than in the previous year, and was due to the increased consumption in the presses and in the Budnera mill. The decrease under manufactured cotton was confined to Indian manufactures, Indian piece-goods being only 61 per cent. of those in 1890-91. The decrease was, however, nominal, and was due to the abnormal imports of these articles last year. To the imports under grain and pulse, rice contributes nearly three-fourths, and the slight decrease exhibited was due to a fall in the imports of rice from the Central Provinces, which supply almost the whole quantity of rice required by Berar. Four-fifths of the oil imported into Berar is kerosine, and the substantial increase under this head was owing to its introduction into the remoter parts of the province. The increase under spices was confined to chillies, the imports of which rose from 737 to 12.486 maunds, and this abnormal increase, although unaccounted for, was probably due to the cultivation of chillies as a kharif crop being neglected owing to the late advent of the monsoons and the consequent employment of all hands in sowing the more important crops of cotton and jowari. The imports of sugar, though considerably below those of the previous year, were 6 per cent. higher than those of 1889-90 and 23 per cent. above the five years' average. For the last few years the imports of this commodity have gradually increased, and the year's imports would doubtless have reached last year's figures but for the scarcity in Bombay and the diversion of trade from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh to more remunerative markets. The fact that the fall in value was disproportionate to the volume was due to the decrease in highly valued imports, such as piece-goods and metals.

The decrease in the exports of raw cotton was partly due to smaller outturn and partly to a falling-off in the demand for foreign export, the English market having been flooded with American cotton. The increase under manufactured cotton though slight was general, but the fall in value was confined to Indian piece-goods. The increase under food grains was most conspicuous in wheat, jowari and bajri. Though exported in increased quantities to provinces affected with scarcity, wheat was mostly exported to Bombay for shipment to Europe, where Russian and French wheat crops had partially failed. More than half the jowari and bajri exports were taken by the Central Provinces to replace local millet which was poor, and the wheat, which was being sent away. Rajputana and Central India also took a large quantity (180,895 maunds). The exports in oil seeds increased by 37 per cent. owing to larger outturn and to higher prices obtaining in the Bombay markets. Of the total increase of 362,539 maunds, linseed contributed 92 per cent. and sesame 6 per cent.

There has been no real falling-off in the revenue. The decrease as compared with the actuals of 1890-91 is to the extent of Rs. 67,172, due to an account adjustment in connection with the one per cent. road cess, and to the extent of the balance, Rs. 57,806, to circumstances which have thrown the collection of this sum to the succeeding year.

ADJUSTING HEADS.

CREDIT ADJUSTMENTS.

PROVINCIAL.

Contributions from Local to Provincial.

These represent contributions towards the cost of executing certain public works of provincial importance, in which, however, local funds are interested. The transactions are necessarily of a very fluctuating nature, being dependent upon the public works undertaken. There must of necessity be considerable variations between the accounts of different years.

LOCAL.

Contributions from Provincial to Local.

Better than estimate	... ...	Rs. 21,983
Do. the actuals of 1890-91	...	„ 21,983

The principal item under this head is the provincial contribution towards the cost of primary education. This does not vary to any appreciable extent from year to year. The variation in the accounts for 1891-92 is caused by an account adjustment in connection with the resuscitation of the road cess fund, and consists of the transfer of the opening balance of this fund from provincial to local.

DISBURSEMENTS.

The charges for 1891-92 aggregate Rs. 98,07,962 as against Rs. 91,86,182 for the previous year, resulting in a net increase of Rs. 6,21,780 as shown in the following statement:—

Under civil expenditure the principal increases and the heads under which they occur are as follows:—

Heads of account.	Rs.	Remarks.
3. Land Revenue ...	71,157	Due chiefly to creation of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, and to arrear payments to village officials.
11. Forest ...	29,444	Due to increase in payment of commission to village officials in connection with the collection of larger revenue; also to increased expenditure incurred for construction of new works, temporary establishment, and under salaries.
19-A. Law and Justice—Courts of Law ...	20,310	Chiefly due to the payment of arrear salaries, creation of the appointment of Cantonment Magistrate, Jalna and Aurangabad, and to the expenditure incurred in connection with the case against Wittinbaker.
19-B. Law and Justice—Jails.	15,108	Chiefly in the cost of rations due to the increase in the number of jail population and to a rise in the prices of grain. There was a larger purchase of raw materials for manufacture.
26. Scientific and other Minor Departments ...	17,582	Caused by the census operation.
27. Territorial and political pensions	40,405	Payment of arrear pensions.

The expenditure under the head State Railways shows an increase of Rs. 8,844, and it is chiefly due to an increase in the working expenses caused by the improvement in the earnings of the railways.

1. Army and Garrison Staff.—The decrease under this head is chiefly due to the appointment of Assistant Adjutant-General, Hyderabad Contingent, having been held during 1891-92 by an officer of the rank of captain, while in 1890-91 it was held by a major. As the year 1891-92 is the off year for the musketry class, Bolarum, which is assembled only every alternate year, there has been a saving on this account also.

3. Regimental Pay, Allowances, &c.—The increase under this grant is due to the addition of one officer to each of the infantry and lancer regiments of the Hyderabad Contingent, to the introduction into the Hyderabad Contingent of the squadron and wing system, to the increase of kit allowance from Rs. 20 to 30 to infantry recruits, and to the grant of forge and other allowances. Mess allowances appeared for the first time under this head in the year 1891-92.

4. Commissariat Establishment.—The increase under this grant chiefly occurs under compensation for dearness of provisions, due to the rise in the prices of articles.

5. Stud and Remount Establishment.—During 1891-92 a smaller number of remounts and bullocks than in the year 1890-91 were purchased.

6. Clothing Establishment.—During 1891-92 the triennial supply of clothing to the infantry regiments of the Hyderabad Contingent, and biennial supply to the artillery, Hyderabad Contingent, were made.

9. Medical Establishment.—The decrease of Rs. 5,997 is principally under extra medical charges and cost of medicines and medical stores obtained on indent. The decrease under the latter is due to a smaller supply of medical stores than in previous year having been obtained during 1891-92 for hospitals, Hyderabad Contingent, under sanction of the Deputy Surgeon-General, Hyderabad Contingent.

10. Ordnance Establishment.—The increase of Rs. 2,74,195 under Ordnance Establishment, &c., is attributable to the supply of new arms (Martini Henri) and ammunition to the remainder of the six infantry regiments.

13. Sea Transport Charges.—The increase of Rs. 748 is due to the grant of passage money to certain officers of the Hyderabad Contingent travelling by sea.

14. Miscellaneous Services.—The decrease under this grant occurs under Burma expedition and mess allowance. Rs. 7,006 were adjusted in 1890-91 on account of Burma expedition against Rs. 239 in 1891-92. In 1890-91 charges for mess allowances were adjusted under this grant, while in 1891-92 under 3. Regimental Pay and Allowances. Hence the decrease of Rs. 11,541.

16. Rewards for Military Services.—The increase is due to the payment of arrears of allowance to the members of the Order of Merit and Order of British India.

17. Retired Officers.—The decrease of Rs. 17,299 under this grant is due to the death of certain retired officers during 1891-92, without any corresponding additions being made to the pension list during the year.

18. Military Pensions.—The expenditure under this head is annually increasing, the pension establishment not having yet reached its maximum.

19. Widows' Pensions.—The increase under this head is attributable to the grant of sterling rates of pensions to the widows of warrant officers of the Hyderabad Contingent with effect from 1st April 1886.

132. The surplus cash balance of the Berar treasuries for the season 1892 was originally estimated at Rs. 70,15,000. The actual surplus however exceeded the estimate by Rs. 3,50,000, as it was subsequently found feasible to transfer this sum. The whole surplus, aggregating Rs. 73,65,000, was paid into the branches of the Bank of Bombay at Akola and Amraoti for transfer free of remittance charge to Bombay to credit of the Hyderabad Administration in accordance with the Bank's agreement.

CHAPTER VI.

VITAL STATISTICS AND MEDICAL RELIEF.

SECTION I.

Births and Deaths.

System of registration.

136. The system of registration remained the same as in the previous year. Some steps were, however, taken during the year with a view to improve registration and stimulate the inspection and testing of registers, owing to the detection of a large number of omissions.

Births.

137. The total number of births registered in the province, excluding the Melghat, during the year 1891 was 121,755 as compared with 111,450 in 1890, or 10,305 in excess of the figures for the preceding year, and 14,676 in excess of the mean of the previous 10 years. The proportion of births to population was 42·8 per thousand of population calculated on the census figures of 1881, against 42·5 in the previous year; but on the total population (2,897,491) according to the recent census the proportion was 42·02 per thousand. Of the total births recorded, 62,802 were males and 58,953 females, the proportion of the sexes born being 106·5 males to every 100 females. In districts, the birth-rate ranged from 34·8 and 39·1 per thousand in Wun and Basim to 47·3 and 47·6 in Buldana and Akola. In towns the mean birth-rate was 40·5 against 38·8 in 1890, while in rural circles it was the same as last year, viz., 43·1.

Still-births.

138. The number of still-births registered was 5,213 as compared with 4,484 in 1890. Of these 3,000 were males and 2,213 females, or 135 males to every 100 females. The proportion of still to live births was 4·2 per cent.

Deaths.

139. The total number of deaths registered was 115,558 against 93,020 in the previous year, or an increase of 22,538. This increase in mortality was due to a generally unhealthy year, and to the prevalence of cholera and bowel-complaints in more than average intensity. The proportion of death-rate to population was, according to the census figures of 1881, 40·6 per 1,000 as compared with 35·4 in the previous year. According to the recent census figures, the proportion was 39·8. Of the total number of deaths recorded, 60,424 were those of males and 55,134 those of females. The male deaths preponderated in all districts during the year, the proportion being 109·5 deaths amongst males to every 100 amongst females. In the districts the death-rate ranged from 47·6 in Akola to 30·0 in Wun. The mortality rate for towns was 40·9 and that for rural circles 40·6. Mortality was as usual highest in August, September and October, and lowest in January, February, March and April. The following statement shows the annual rate of mortality per 1,000 of population according to age for the last two years:—

SECTION II.

Immigration and Emigration.

140. Like last year, the only two districts for which any figures are given as to the movements of population are Akola and Wun. The total number of persons who left these districts and settled in them is said to have been 1,367 and 3,722 respectively. These figures are however considered to be unreliable.

SECTION III.

Medical Relief.

Civil hospitals.

141. There are eight civil hospitals in the province, one at each head-quarter station, one at the sanitarium at Chikalda, and one at Kalamkher. These institutions are intended primarily to afford medical aid to Government servants requiring it, but the general public are not refused admission when accommodation is available.

Medical staff.

142. The medical staff employed remained the same as in the previous year.

Patients treated.

143. The total number of both in and out-door patients treated at civil hospitals was 44,378, or 2,297 more than in the previous year, and the daily average attendance was 272·55 against 272·60 in 1890. Of the total number treated, 24,603 were men, 6,088 women and 13,687 children, against 24,560, 5,451, and 12,072 respectively in the previous year. Of these 550 were Europeans, 1,482 Eurasians, 26,553 Hindus, 13,131 Muhammadans and 2,662 other classes. Taking the in-patients separately, there were 2,077 persons treated in 1891 against 1,926 in 1890. Of the total admissions, 1,841 were cured, 21 relieved, 108 discharged otherwise and 60 died. The average death-rate was 2·8 per cent. of those treated. The out-door attendance increased from 40,155 to 42,301, and of this number 32,911 attended personally and 9,390, or 22 per cent., were represented by friends. The average daily attendance was 211·44 against 213·47 in the previous year.

Diseases treated.

144. Malarial fevers were less prevalent during the year under report than in 1890, but dysentery, diarrhœa, and cholera were more so. The following table shows some of the principal maladies for which treatment was sought, and contrasts the figures with those of the previous year in order of greatest prevalence :—

	1891.	1890.
Malarial fevers	8,731	9,861

Operations.

145. There were 153 major and 1,822 minor operations as compared with 79 and 1,427 respectively in 1890. The advance in surgical operations was steady at all hospitals except Basim.

Number of charitable dispensaries.

147. The number of charitable dispensaries was the same as last year, viz., 36.

Patients treated.

148. The total number of patients treated was 238,373, or 3,193 more than in the previous year. Of this number 1,460 were in-door and 236,913 out-door patients, and the average daily attendance of the former was 39·18 and that of the latter 1592·53 against 31·09 and 1647·97 respectively in 1890. Of the in-patients 1,140 were cured, 70 relieved, 71 otherwise discharged, and 148 or 10·13 per cent. died. Of the out-patients, 198,691 attended personally, and 38,222 were represented by friends, against 196,049 and 37,991 respectively in 1890. Of the total number of persons treated 108,949 were men, 37,574 women, and 91,850 children; and the daily average attendance was 746 men, 277 women and 608 children. According to classes, 228 were Europeans, 661 Eurasians, 144,291 Hindus, 86,141 Muhammadans, and 7,052 belonged to other classes

Diseases treated.

149. There was a decrease as compared with last year in fevers, skin diseases and ear affections, and an increase under all other heads. Cholera prevailed in an epidemic form, the number treated having risen from 67 to 2,087. There was also a considerable increase in the number of cases of dysentery and diarrhœa. The following statement shows the principal diseases for which relief was sought during the past two years :—

Disease.	1891.	1890.

Operations.

150. There were 89 major and 7,538 minor operations performed during the year against 63 and 8,744 respectively in 1890.

Income and expenditure.

151. The figures below compare the financial results of the past two years. The difference of Rs. 385-10-7 between the closing cash balance of 1890 and the opening balance of 1891 is due to the correction of accounts of former years :—

SECTION IV.

Sanitation.

152. The total income of all municipalities during the year under report was Rs. 2,38,925, of which 48·6 per cent. were expended on sanitary works as compared with 45·4 per cent. in 1890. More or less attention was paid to conservancy in all municipalities, and the expenditure under this head alone amounted to 22·3 per cent. of income. Under drainage, the only appreciable expenditure was at Akot, Khamgaon and Shegaon in the extension of the surface drainage of these towns. Considerable sums were also expended to improve the water-supply at Akola, Amraoti town, Khamgaon and Amraoti Camp. The total district expenditure (excluding municipalities) on works of sanitary improvement was Rs. 1,57,618 against Rs. 1,19,621 in the previous year. The following table shows the sanitary works executed by the Public Works Department and in progress during the year :—

SECTION V.

Vaccination.

153. The strength of the establishment remained the same as in the previous year, but there was a good deal of sickness amongst the staff. Strength and conduct of staff.

154. During the year under report, vaccination work in dispensary towns was transferred from medical officers to the special vaccination establishment. Work done.

This change was necessitated owing to the introduction of bovine, to the exclusion of humanized lymph, medical officers being practically unable to keep up a supply of animal lymph; it was also, on other grounds, desirable that the responsibility for the efficient protection of these towns should be centred in the Vaccination Department. The work done by all establishments is shown in the following table and compared with figures of the two previous years:—

	Primary vaccination.			Re-vaccination.			Total.
	1889-90.	1890-91.	1891-92.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1891-92.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1891-92.

Of the total number of persons vaccinated by the special establishment, 73,791 were males and 52,745 females. The average number of operations performed by each vaccinator rose from 2,471 to 3,013, and beat the record of any previous year's individual work. In primary vaccination, the percentage of success was 95·2 and in re-vaccination 29·4 against 94·9 and 30·8 respectively in 1890-91.

Cost.

155. The total expenditure incurred during the year was Rs. 16,659-14-2 as compared with Rs. 16,900-15-0 in the previous year, or a decrease of Rs. 241. The average cost of each successful operation fell from 3 annas to 2 annas and 7 pies.

Attitude of the people.

156. There is nothing to record regarding the attitude of the people towards vaccination.

CHAPTER VII.

INSTRUCTION.

SECTION 1.

Education.

Number of schools and scholars.

157. The year under report witnessed an important change in the education administration of the province, the management of the majority of primary schools in other than municipal towns having been made over to the District Boards. The year was not, however, so favorable to educational operations as the previous one. Cholera, unseasonable and scanty rainfall, and the comparatively high prices of food-grains seriously affected the progress of education in some of the districts; but on the whole satisfactory progress was made during the year. The following table shows the number of schools and scholars at the close of the year as compared with the figures of the previous year:—

Distribution of schools and scholars according to districts.

158. There was an increase in the number of schools for boys, and a consequent decrease in the average number of square miles to every school in all the districts except Basim and Wun. The number of boys attending schools and also the percentage of male scholars to male population of a school-going age increased in Amraoti, Buldana and Ellichpur, and decreased in Akola and Basim. The last named district suffered most on account of cholera, influenza and high prices, and attendance fell off in Akola and Wun owing to similar causes. Notwithstanding these variations, the relative positions of the districts in regard to the progress of education did not undergo any perceptible change. Akola still shows the largest number of schools, and maintains its first place as regards the average number of square miles to every school and the percentage of male scholars to male population of a school-going age. If, however, the Melghat be excluded from Ellichpur, that district, as usual, shows the smallest average number of square miles to each school and the highest percentage of male scholars to male population of a school-going age. The average of the province was one school to every 14 square miles, as against 14·3 in 1890-91, and the percentage of male pupils to male population of a school-going age was 21·9 as compared with 21·5 in the previous year.

University education.

159. There were ten students holding Berar scholarships in the colleges of the Bombay Presidency, and of this number, one student passed the final B. A. examination and became a graduate. Of the students from Berar High Schools who did not hold scholarships in the year under report, two passed the P.E. examination, and one the first B. A., and three the final B. A. examination.

Matriculation.

160. Out of a total number of 26 students who presented themselves for examination from the Akola and Amraoti High Schools, 19 passed, the figures for the previous year being 27 and 15 respectively. The result for the Amraoti school was particularly creditable, as 14 out of the 15 boys sent up were successful.

The number of pupils in Government or District Board schools increased in every district except Basim and Wun, and the number of boys in Municipal schools increased slightly in Ellichpur, but fell off in Akola and Amraoti. On the whole there was an increase of 138 pupils in the province in the schools for boys under public management. The average daily attendance increased in all classes of schools and in every district, except in the District Board schools in Basim and Ellichpur. The two statements below furnish information regarding the state and cost of education for the past two years :—

166. The results of the first grade examination of the Bombay School of Arts were more satisfactory than those for the previous year. Out of 81 pupils who presented themselves for examination, 15 succeeded in obtaining certificates against 77 and 7 respectively in 1890-91.

Industrial training.

167. The number of students in the American Mission Industrial School at Akola on the 31st March last was 24 against 25 at the close of the previous year. The school is said to be in a very satisfactory condition.

Female education.

168. Female education continues to make but slow progress. The following statement shows the present condition of female education in the province:—

The highest standard taught to the boys was the fourth, and to the girls the seventh. The school at Akola was opened in May 1891, and on the 31st March last had on its rolls only seven boys and one girl. As a special case a Government grant was sanctioned to this school on the condition that the average daily attendance was not less than six.

Muhammadan education.

170. The following statistics show the condition of Muhammadan education in the Government, District Board, and Municipal schools in the province during the past two years :—

	1890-91.	1891-92.
Number of schools	82	84
Number of scholars on 31st March	4,347	4,422
Number of pupils examined under the several standards.	1,773	1,833
Number of pupils passed	1,152	1,162

The above figures do not include Muhammadan boys attending other than Hindustani or Anglo-Hindustani schools; but, if these are included and non-Muhammadans in Hindustani schools deducted, the total number of Muhammadan pupils in all classes of schools under public management would be 6,214 against 6,172 last year. The number of Muhammadan pupils in schools under private management rose from 997 to 1,061, thus making the grand total number of Muhammadan scholars in the province 7,275 against 7,169 in 1890-91.

Education of aborigines.

171. The school at Chikalda continued to be the only school for the aboriginal races. On the 31st March 1892, the total number of pupils was 130 against 127 in the previous year. There was an increase both in the number examined and in the number passed, the number being 34 and 27 respectively against 24 and 14 in 1890-91. The highest standard in which boys passed during the year was the fourth. Fourteen boys passed in the first standard, 6 in the second, 5 in the third and 2 in the fourth, against 7, 2, 3, and 2 respectively in the preceding year.

Education of low castes.

172. Satisfactory progress is reported in the education of low castes. The total number of pupils during the year under report was 1,681 against 1,598 in 1890-91. The number examined in all standards fell from 439 to 413, while the number who passed rose from 231 to 268.

175. The following figures show the pupils in Government, District Board, and Municipal schools according to race or creed during the last two years :—

Popular contributions.

176. Popular contributions increased in Buldana, Basim and Amraoti, but decreased in the other three districts. The falling-off is attributed to the high prices of food-grains during the year. The total amount contributed was Rs. 6,669-10-0 as compared with 6,971-2-6 in 1890-91.

Fee receipts.

177. The following table shows the amount of fees realized during the past three years in all classes of Government schools and in District Board primary schools:—

178. The total expenditure on education fell from Rs. 4,40,373-12-0 to Rs. 4,34,888-7-9, being a decrease of Rs. 5,485-4-3. There was an increase in the expenditure met from "Fees" and "Municipal fund," and a decrease in that debited to all other heads.

SECTION II.

Literature and the Press.

Text-book Committee.

179. At the beginning of the year, the Text-book Committee had one book on hand for review, and seven others were sent to them for opinion during the year. Of these eight books, two were reported on, and the balance remained on hand at the close of the year.

Book-depôts.

180. No change was made in the number of book-depôts, which remained the same as in the previous year, viz., one central depôt and 29 branch depôts. The stock account of these institutions was as follows:—

The others were—(1) Meaning of difficult words in the Berar Second Book and collection of compound letters; (2) Report of the Berar Educational Conference, 1890-91; and (3) Berar Educational Directory for 1890-91.

Presses.

182. The number of printing presses in the province was the same as in the preceding year, viz., 9; but one press was closed in the Akola district and another opened at Amraoti. One of the weekly newspapers hitherto published in the former district was also discontinued, and a new monthly magazine started in the latter.

Public libraries.

183. Six libraries or reading rooms were opened during the year, and consequently the number on the 31st March 1892 was 36 against 30 on the last day of the previous year. As in 1890-91, the Akola and Amraoti libraries were the most prosperous institutions.
